OVER SIX HUNDRED SOLDIERS KILLED OR WOUNDED IN MUTINY OF THE RUSSIAN GARRISON AT SVEABORG

THE REVOLT IN NORTH DAKOTA AGAINST THE MACHINE IS GROWING

If Democrats Put Up Good Men They May be Victorious.

Siver Serumgard of Devils Lake May be Named for Governor.

Able Norwegian Who Would Get Thousands of Republican Votes.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Already a number of Democrats have left for the city of Minot, where the state convention will be held Thursday, and today a number of the more prominent leaders arrived in this city, where the offices of the state chairman are, on their way to the convention. Not in years has there been as much enthusiasm displayed over a Democratic convention. It does not seem to be a Democratic convention, but it is a convention of the people, and those who are anxious for reform have given up the idea of finding it in a party owned in this state by corporate interests, and the people are anxious for the Democrats to put up good men whom they will support.

The greatest issue of the campaign will be the railroad issue. The tactics of the railroads in this state at the last Republican state convention disgusted the people. The valuation of the railroads in this state is something like $6,700 per mile, while in Montana it is over $13,000 per mile. The fact that every machine delegate traveled on a pass, and that nearly every man of prominence in the Republican machine had a pass book and issued passes without limit, showed conclusively the railroad control of the state. This will be the main issue of the campaign.

There is little doubt but that the convention Thursday will give an unanimous vote endorsing William

IS NOT A CASE OF LEPROSY

Two of Reton's Toes Frozen Two Years Ago and Amputated.

Cass Lake, Minn., July 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Arndt Reton, who some days ago was pronounced by Bemidji physicians a leper and placed far out in the wilderness, under a strict quarantine, made his escape and came to Cass Lake a few days ago. As soon as the Cass Lake physicians were aware of his presence, he was taken into custody and carefully examined. The physicians who operated on the man two years ago, were much surprised to understand that Bemidji doctors would proclaim the man a leper. One physician said: "If that man is a leper, then Cass Lake may boast of having physicians who have perfected a cure for the malady."

The story as told by the physicians is this: Two years ago, Reton, while working in the woods near here, had one foot badly frozen, to such an extent that it became necessary to remove two of his toes. The operation was performed and within ten days the cuts were entirely healed. Soon after he went to Bemidji, and since that time has worn no shoes but those made of rubber, and these have caused sores to appear on the soles of his feet. These sores are the sole foundation of the leprosy story. His hands were carefully examined with a microscope, and no signs in the least can be found to warrant a statement that the man has leprosy.

SUICIDE IN MID-LAKE.

Sault Ste. Marie Clerk Goes Insane and Jumps to Death.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 31.—Ernest Bratt took a vacation trip on the steamer Saronic, which returned from Lake Superior yesterday. When a few miles out he commenced reading aloud from the New Testament on the deck of the boat and then held a prayer meeting, at the close of which he pulled off his coat and jumped into the lake and was drowned. His body was not recovered.

Bratt was a clerk in a cigar store and never showed signs of insanity until just before he ended his life. He was a single man and 25 years old.

ROGICH WAS DESERTED

By Other Members of Sheriff's Posse In the Woods.

Crawled On Hands and Knees and Reached a Cabin.

Milwaukee, July 13.—A special to the Journal by a staff correspondent from Radisson, Wis., says: After crawling on his hands and knees for a great distance through the forest, Duyo Rogich of Milwaukee, wounded in three places by Clarence Dietz, reached the homestead of Charles Johnson and was later carried into Winter, where he secured medical attention. Slight hope is entertained for his recovery. He had been terribly exposed when he reached the Johnson home and his wounds had become filled with dirt.

Rogich told the story of his terrible experience to the conductor of the Hayward train.

"When the fellows who were carrying me out of the woods thought they were pursued by Dietz and dropped my stretcher, I felt that my last moment had come," he said. "They failed to remain where I had left. After a while, realizing that they were not coming back, I started to crawl on my hands and knees. I could not raise myself to my feet. All that night and part of the next day, I made my way through the woods, resting from time to time and then starting forward again.

"The agonies of that journey were terrible. Finally after I had almost decided to crawl beneath a tree and die there, I came upon Johnson's cabin. He cared for me and finally took me into Winter."

Bill Dietz of Rice Lake, who came to Cameron Dietz's, his brother, immediately upon learning of Wednesday's fight, returned to his home Monday on the same train with Rogich.

"The boy Clarence, who is supposed to have been shot by Rogich, is in a serious condition," he said. "The bullet which struck him in the head penetrated deeper than was at first thought and his brain is exposed. It is doubtful whether he can live. I went to my brother's farm at Cameron dam as soon as I could get through, where the shooting took place. He is in good spirits, although greatly concerned over Clarence's wound. All he wants is to be left alone in peace. He fears that fresh trouble is coming soon. He will fight to the last."

WAS TOUCHED FOR HIS ROLL

Illinois Man Loses $900 in Securities and $40 in Cash.

Crookston, Minn., July 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sunday evening as John Kelch of Pekin, Ill., was passing through the door of the day coach of No. 6, the Great Northern passenger train from Williston to St. Paul, he was jostled by three men and when the jostling process was over he was minus $900 in securities and $40 in cash—all he had with him.

There was such a jam of people getting on and off that Mr. Kelch did not get a look at any of the three men. He carried his purse containing his money and valuables in his side pants pocket and felt a jerk, after which he discovered his loss. It was immediately reported to the police but as he could give no description of the men the officers were powerless.

Mr. Kelch, accompanied by his wife, had been at Lansford, N. D., where they had completed a real estate deal and were returning home with a portion of the proceeds. The men are thought to have followed the couple here from Lansford knowing that valuables were carried, and Crookston was the first station where it was dark enough to operate.

"HELLO" GIRLS ON STRIKE, OBJECTING TO PROFANITY

Bloomington, Ill., July 31.—The sixteen girl operators at the Central Union exchange, at Champaign have struck, alleging that the male employes of the company indulge in too much profanity in the operating room and that the manager declines to stop it. The places of the strikers are being filled from the exchanges in neighboring cities, twelve going over from Decatur.

VENGEANCE WAS SWIFT

For Italian Who Mortally Wounded Another in New York.

Stabbed in Heart Hardly a Minute After the Murder.

New York, July 31.—Vengeance for a murder he had committed was visited swiftly upon an Italian named Salvatore Siammonco, after he had shot and mortally wounded his countryman, Salvatore Carodone, on South street, near the Fulton market, today. Hardly a minute after the shooting, Siammonco was stabbed in the heart and instantly killed by Guiseppe Tocco. All three were peddlers, who were buying fish at the market. Tocco and Carodone, who are brothers-in-law, were engaged in conversation, when they were joined by Siammonco. In an altercation which followed, Siammonco whipped out a revolver and fired at Carodone, who fell with a bullet wound near the heart. The assassin fled, pursued by Tocco.

A block of two away Tocco caught up with Siammonco and closed with him. In the struggle that ensued, Tocco pulled a long bladed fish knife and plunged it into the other man's chest. The blade penetrated the heart, and Siammonco fell dead.

The tragedy was witnessed by scores of marketmen and pedestrians who thronged the street, but it was enacted so swiftly that not a man could interfere. Tocco was arrested.

JEWELER WAS SHOT IN HEAD

Madison, Wis., July 31.—Two bullets found in the head of Joseph Bardenheir, a jeweler, whose body was discovered in the woods near this city yesterday, prove murder. One bullet was fired into the right side of the head, the other bullet into the back of the head. It is inferred that the murderer came from Chicago, as a Chicago boy was with the supposed farmer who lured the jeweler into the country. Detectives will go to Chicago for the boy. One theory is that Bardenheir was the victim of a vendetta, as two men were once sent to Joliet on his testimony.

THE MOMUS LAUNCHED.

Philadelphia, July 31.—The steamship Momus, which is being built for the Atlantic line of the Southern Pacific Railroad company, was launched today at Cramps shipyards.

State Committee Hearing the Contests Filed by Perkins.

Cummins Men Still Confident They Control the Situation.

Committee May Find a Way Out of the Difficulty.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 31.—The morning trains brought additional delegates to the Republican state convention. Fully two-thirds of them are now here and others will arrive by night. The interest is still centered on the state central committee, which is hearing the contests filed by the friends of George D. Perkins, a candidate for governor, against A. B. Cummins, who seeks a renomination. In three of the twelve cases submitted, the chairman of the Cummins delegation appeared before the committee yesterday, denying its jurisdiction, but furnishnig information called for "out of courtesy." Today, it is said, another chairman will attend and give "information," and then the Cummins following will "stand pat" and await the calling to order of the convention. The committee will not, perhaps, reach a conclusion before tonight or tomorrow morning. The majority are said to be opposed to taking any action which might possibly result in two state tickets, and the impression seems to be getting stronger that the committee will find a way out of the difficulty confronting them and come to a decision that will lead to only one ticket. While the Cummins peo-

HOSTILITIES IN CAUCASUS

Have Now Been Resumed On a Larger and Bloodier Scale.

Tartars Trying to Overwhelm Armenians and Russian Troops.

St. Petersburg, July 31.—As anticipated in these dispatches, July 29, the triangular truce between Armenians, Tartars and the Russian troops before Shusha was of the briefest nature. The display of white flags and the naming of representatives of the warring factions to arrange a lasting peace was but a prelude to the resumption of hostilities yesterday upon a larger and bloodier scale. The fighting is not only in full progress at Shusha itself, a town of 30,000 people, (180 miles to the Southeast of Tiflis), the Tartar quarter of which is apparently in flames, but it has spread to the surrounding country. There the Tartar population has risen and is striving to overwhelm the Armenian and the Russian troops.

Gen. Zoloschakov, in command of the Russian troops, has appealed urgently for reinforcements. A battallion of riflemen at Yelisavetpol, the nearest point where there are soldiers, already has been dispatched to the scene.

It is worthy of note that the Russians who, in the disorders of last year were accused of protecting the Tartars from Armenian attack, are now themselves hard pressed by the Mohammedan hordes.

COOKE CONVICTED.

Chicago, July 31.—John A. Cooke, former clerk of the Cook county circuit court, who has been on trial for several weeks on a charge of stuffing pay rolls, was found guilty last night by the jury and his punishment fixed at imprisonment in the penitentiary and a fine of $2,000. The judge before whom the case was tried will determine the length of the penitentiary sentence.

CONDUCTOR KILLED.

Clinton, Iowa, July 31.—Conductor Robert Moore of the Chicago & Northwestern met instant death at Rochele. His train was sidetracked to allow the passage of fast mail train No. 6, and he was checking up the car numbers. He stepped on the east-bound track, and not hearing the approaching mail train because of the noise made by his own engine, was struck by the locomotive and hurled lifeless from the right-of-way. He was 33 and formerly lived in this city.

HARD TO BELIEVE.
John D. Says He Is Glad to Be Home.

Large Part of Fortress in Hands of the Mutineers.

Artillery Trained Their Guns on the Loyal Troops.

Russian Warships Are Now Bombarding the Fortress.

Stockholm, July 31.—It is reported that a mutiny broke out at midnight in the fortress of Sveaborg, Finland. The officers' families and the wounded are said to have been sent to Helsingfors.

A dispatch received here from Helsingfors says that the artillerymen joined the Sveaborg mutineers, but that the infantry remained loyal. The artillery trained guns on the loyal troops, 500 of whom were killed or wounded.

It is stated that a large part of the fortress is in the hands of the mutineers.

An outbreak also occurred this morning at Skatudden. The officers there were made prisoners and the soldiers elected leaders. One officer was killed. The Russian torpedo boat destroyer Finn, is bombarding the barracks and the mutineers.

Sveaborg is a strongly fortified town of Russian Finland, situated on Seven islands in the gulf of Finland, immediately southeast of Helsingfors. The islands, which are connected by pontoons, form the site of a fortress which defends the harbor of Helsingfors and consists of numerous military works and batteries and a military arsenal. Sveaborg also has an excellent harbor.

London, July 31.—A dispatch to a news agency from Helsingfors, Finland, says that a portion of the garrison of Sveaborg, Finland, mutinied last night and that a long and sanguinary struggle took place between the mutineers and the loyal troops, in which the former are said to have been victorious. The mutineers, it is added, are now in possession of the fortress. Many were killed or wounded during the fighting.

London, July 31.—A later dispatch from Helsingfors says that fierce fighting continues at Sveaborg. Up to midday over 600 men have been killed or wounded. Warships are now bombarding the fortress.

The inhabitants of Helsingfors are in a state of panic.

Helsingfors, July 31.—A serious mutiny has broken out in the great island fortress of Sveaborg, which defends the sea approaches to Helsingfors. Since 10 o'clock last night there has been a heavy cannonade at the fortress interspersed with volleys of rifle shooting. The sound of cheering among the soldiers was also distinctly audible in Helsingfors. It all indicated that fighting was in progress during the whole night between the mutineers and the loyal troops. It is impossible to reach the fortress, but it is said upon authority which is not doubted that there are several hundred dead and wounded. The cause of the mutiny is reported to have been the death of a soldier in the battalions of sappers and miners. His comrades claimed that the death was due to ill treatment. They rose and were joined by the artillerymen. Together they outnumbered the loyal infantry troops who were supported by their officers. The infantry from the Skatudden barracks, which stands on the sea front in Helsingfors, were immediately ordered out. Two torpedo vessels lying at anchorage off the city thereupon opened with their rapid firing guns against the barracks, shooting over the heads of the people gathered upon the sea front and causing a tremendous panic. The greatest excitement prevailed, but the Socialists, workmen and the red guard of Helsingfors were all highly elated over the outbreak. They threatened to take advantage of the situation and proclaim a general strike for the purpose of tying up the railroads. At the latest report the fortress at Sveaborg is completely in the hands of the mutineers.

ACTRESS GETS $100,000 AND DAUGHTER ONLY $1.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 31.—So far as the local courts are concerned, Miss Isabel Gilbert, formerly, an actress, now is the sole owner of the Le Duc estate, which amounts to more than $100,000.

Judge Gibbs has signed an order admitting the Le Duc will to probate. In that will the dead engineer bequeaths his entire estate to his good friend, Miss Gilbert, cutting off his daughter, Mrs. George T. Le Duc Elliot of Denver with $1. The will contains an additional proviso that in case of contest this $1 is to go to the Denver branch of the Salvation army. Miss Gilbert's friends declare that Le Duc cut his daughter off because he did not approve of her marriage.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Baraboo, Wis., July 31.—The 3-year-old daughter of Edward Rooney was burned to death in a barn yesterday, which was set on fire by Rooney's children playing with matches.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 31.—So far as the local courts are concerned, Miss Isabel Gilbert, formerly, an actress, now is the sole owner of the Le Duc estate, which amounts to more than $100,000.

Judge Gibbs has signed an order admitting the Le Duc will to probate. In that will the dead engineer bequeaths his entire estate to his good friend, Miss Gilbert, cutting off his daughter, Mrs. George T. Le Duc Elliot of Denver with $1. The will contains an additional proviso that in case of contest this $1 is to go to the Denver branch of the Salvation army. Miss Gilbert's friends declare that Le Duc cut his daughter off because he did not approve of her marriage.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Baraboo, Wis., July 31.—The 3-year-old daughter of Edward Rooney was burned to death in a barn yesterday, which was set on fire by Rooney's children playing with matches.

RAILROADS

LEAVES THE IRON RANGE

A. H. Viele, Vice President, Has Resigned—Effective July 31.

V. L. Bean May Resign From Northern Pacific —Is Seriously Ill.

Augustus H. Viele, vice president and general freight and passenger agent of the Duluth & Iron Range road, has resigned from that position, his resignation taking effect today. The name of his successor has not yet been announced.

Mr. Viele first went with the Iron Range road in 1883, and has been connected with the company ever since that time. His reasons for resigning have not been made public. It is understood that he intends to quit the railroad business altogether, for the time being at least. He refuses to state what business he will engage in from now on.

"I is true that this is my last day with the Duluth & Iron Range road," said Mr. Viele this morning. "You are at liberty to announce my resignation, but as to my reasons for leaving, and my future actions, that is my own business and no one else's."

President House of the Iron Range said the official circular naming the successor of Mr. Viele would be out in the near future.

The retiring official is one of the oldest railroad men in point of service at the Head of the Lakes. He is well known all over the Northern section of the state, and has many friends, both in railroad circles and out of them.

V. L. BEAN HAS CONSUMPTION

Ill Health Will Probably Compel Him to Leave N. P.

Changes in Northern Pacific officials at the union depot are likely to be announced very soon. Vanneman L. Bean, assistant division superintendent of the Northern Pacific railroad, and superintendent of the Duluth Union Depot & Transfer Co., is seriously ill, and it is believed that he will be unable to return to his regular work for several months at least.

There is a strong possibility that, owing to the condition of his health, he will never be able to stand the climate at the Head of the Lakes again, and that for this reason he will no longer have any connection with the railroad offices in Duluth. In any event, some man will be appointed to take his place as superintendent of the Union Depot & Transfer Co. and assistant division superintendent of the Northern Pacific for a few months. Such appointment will probably be made permanent.

Physicians have advised a change of climate for the official. He is afflicted with consumption, and his condition has been growing more serious right along, until it came to a point where Mr. Bean had to leave the city. He started for St. Paul last night in company with E. C. Blanchard, division superintendent of the Northern Pacific, in the latter's private car, to consult a specialist. Just what the result of this consultation was, isn't known, but there is small likelihood that it will be of such a nature as to allow Mr. Bean to return to Duluth.

Supt. Blanchard will not return to the city until tomorrow, and until he gets back nothing can be learned as to the probable successor of his assistant. No one around the depot will have anything to say on the subject, pending Mr. Blanchard's return. Fred M. Anderson, chief clerk to the superintendent, may be in line for the promotion, but he claims to know nothing of the situation, and maintains a strict silence on the subject, referring all inquirers to officials higher up.

Mr. Bean has made a splendid record in the position which he is compelled to desert, and the news of his departure is being received with expressions of genuine regret by the men with whom he has had business dealings.

THE HARVEST RATES.

Special Tickets Will Be Put on Sale August 1.

The harvest rate to Minnesota and Dakota points will go into effect tomorrow, Aug. 1. The low rate tickets will be on sale for thirty days. The price of them is the same as last year. Most points in Dakota can be reached for $6.50, and only in one or two instances is the rate as high as $7.

It is not expected that there will be a very heavy demand for the special rates for a week or two. Harvesting will not begin in earnest until along about the middle of August or later, and those taking advantage of the rates now would have to lie around idle until the farmers need them, or else go to work on the railroads.

There is plenty of railroad work in the Dakotas, however, and anyone going to the harvest fields now need not lack for employment if railroad construction works agreeable to him. Wages on the railroads are high, and several hundred men already have been shipped to Dakota points. The National Employment company, which has sent out several large crews on the free fare basis, now has a man in Chicago rounding up more laborers.

Railroad laborers have been a little more plentiful the last few days than for some time past, but the number is still entirely inadequate to supply the demand. Men are beginning to come in from outside points, as they always do about this time of the year, with the expectation of purchasing a harvest ticket and going West. Because of the fact that there is plenty of work in the vicinity of Duluth, with good wages, it is hardly expected that the demand for harvest tickets will be so great as in years past.

STEAMER NORTH WEST

Is Bringing Another Big List of Passengers to Duluth.

The steamship North West will arrive in Duluth this evening on her regular weekly trip. She has a passenger list of 220 persons, and will carry about the same number on the down trip. It is expected that she will arrive on time, although thick weather has been reported from down the lakes. Prominent among the passengers who will leave on the boat this evening are: L. La Salle, Duluth; A. M. Fay, Boston; Miss Alice M. Packard, Boston; M. McGee and family, Philadelphia; Mrs. M. B. Ross, Chicago; F. G. Bertraud, Houghton, Mich.; Otto Brandt, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Bliss, Newark, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Adams, Kansas City, Mo.; F. G. Hageman, F. J. Kuhlman, Seattle, Wash.; Miss Mc Adam, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Cox, Independence, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Dawson and son, Denver, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Alvord and children, Sheldon, Iowa.; D. W. Cook, Beatrice, Neb.; F. C. Kruger, Buffalo; Mrs. Kelly and party, Philadelphia.

Burlington Booklet.

The Burlington road has just issued an attractive new booklet on "The Mississippi River Scenic Line," thoroughly describing the route down the Mississippi, and also giving some pretty views of scenes along the route, together with interesting descriptions of historic towns and other points of interest along the line. Pointers in it on how to see Chicago will prove of considerable value to the tourist.

SENSATION CAUSED

By Soldier Contradicting Statements of Archbishop From Pulpit.

Odessa, July 31.—A common soldier caused a remarkable sensation in the cathedral here yesterday by arising in the body of the church during service and contradicting certain political statements of the archbishop uttered from the pulpit.

A thanksgiving services for the dissolution of the lower house of parliament was being held in the cathedral. It was attended by all the local authorities. The archbishop arose and declared, among other things, that the members of the opposition were anarchists and enemies of the state. When he had finished a soldier got up and began to make a speech. He said it was not the opposition, but men like the archbishop, who were the real enemies of the state. A scene of great confusion ensued amid which the soldier was arrested and taken to prison.

ENTHUSIASTIC ABOUT DULUTH

Civil War Veteran Recommends This City to Young Men.

Even the most enthusiastic booster of Duluth would have to take a back seat to S. L. Gage of Williamsport, Pa., who with his wife, is visiting friends and relatives in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Gage are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williamson of 2402 East First street, and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Strayer of 217 Second avenue west.

Mr. Gage lost his right leg as the result of blood poisoning following a bullet wound received at Treillion Station, on June 11, 1864, and also carries a stiff arm in which there is lodged a rifle bullet, as a memento of the Civil war.

"If I were twenty-five years younger" said Mr. Gage, "I wouldn't hesitate a minute about coming to Duluth. There is something about the invigorating climate here, and atmosphere of push and energy in business life, that makes the blood move faster.

"I was here two years ago, but I don't intend to stay away that long again, if I can help it. I have gained in weight and feel a great improvement in health since coming, and have enjoyed this beautiful summer climate, wonderfully."

Mr. and Mrs. Gage arrived a week ago on the Juniata. They will leave in another week for Yellowstone park for a ten day's trip, and will spend a few day in Duluth again on their return.

Elks August session of 133 B. P. O. Elks will be held Aug. 1st, 8 p. m. sharp. Initiations.

FREDERICK PETRE DEAD.

Father of Duluth Men Passes Away in Essex, England.

Word has been received here of the death of Hon. Frederick Petre of Essex, England, on July 18. Mr. Petre was father of Douglas A. Petre and Cuthbert Petre of Duluth and frequently visited this city from 1873 until 1895. He was quite well known among the older residents of the city and the news of his death will be received, doubtless, with much regret as Mr. Petre, Sr., made a splendid impression on all who met him.

Death came very suddenly to him, being caused by angla pectoris. To the last Mr. Petre was in robust health. He was born in the county of Essex, England, on December 24, 1824, and would therefore have been 82 years of age had he lived five months longer.

Mr. Petre is survived by a younger brother who is on the London stock exchange; two daughters who reside in England; and four sons—Reginald W. Petre of Cape D'Or, N. S.; Douglas A. A. Petre, resident of Duluth for thirty-four years; Hubert Petre, for many years in Onalaska; and Cuthbert Petre of Duluth.

CARLSON DISCHARGED.

Employment Agent Produces Wickwire as Witness and is Saved.

S. O. Carlson, the employment agent, charged with violating the ordinance governing such offices, produced F. W. Wickwire in municipal court yesterday afternoon and proved that Mr. Wickwire was walking boss for the Northern Construction company at Thomson and had ordered Carlson to send men there, which Carlson was accused of doing without authority.

Judge Windom discharged Carlson. The judge said that while, technicaly, Carlson was guilty of the violation, the court believed that his intentions in the matter were right and that Carlson believed that he was doing the proper thing.

WEST DULUTH

PUSHER IS REPAIRED

Work of Recharging the Coke Ovens Now Under Way.

Zenith Blast Furnace is Closed Down For Repairs.

Until the coke ovens at the blast furnace are fully recharged the city will continue to receive its supply of gas from the auxiliary water-gas plant, which will probably continue in operation until some time this evening. The broken pusher at the ovens was repaired at 5 o'clock this morning, and the work of recharging the ovens is being pushed as rapidly as possible. The officials of the plant are very proud of the record made by the ovens, and think that it justifies their claims that they are as fine as any in the country. This is the first accident of any importance since the ovens went into use, two years ago, which is considered exceptional.

The blast furnace also closed down yesterday morning for repairs, the 5 o'clock cast being the last made. This is the first time repairs have been needed in the furnace for nine months, which is by far the longest period that the big smelter has run without closing up to this time. Supt. Harris also stated that while he was unable to quote any figures for publication, the last month's run was the most successful that the local plant has ever had.

Supt. Harris' family returned on the steamer Wolvin, which tied up at the furnace dock last night.

WORK ON NEW CHURCH

Is Recommenced and Building May Be Ready by October.

Work on the new Baptist church at West Duluth has been recommenced during the past week, and it is hoped that the building will be ready to occupy, though probably not quite finished, by the early part of October. The foundation was completed some time ago, and all underground plumbing work completed, when the work was dropped and nothing more done until last week. The congregation have received notice to vacate the present church, which they have been renting from a foreign denomination, as the owners wish to occupy it in October.

Injured by Augur.

Ray Batley, who was injured by an augur at Petruschke's box factory, last Friday, is recovering rapidly, and will be about again in a few days. Mr. Batley had an unusually narrow escape, the rapidly whirling augur at which he was working flying back and striking him in the left side. Only exceedingly quick action on his part prevented a fatal injury. As it was, the point penetrated to some depth.

West Duluth Briefs.

W. M. Rieckoff returned from a business trip to Akeley and Walker this morning.

Arthur Blame, who has been seriously ill at St. Luke's hospital, is convalescent and has returned home.

John Fox left this morning for St. Paul, where he has taken a position.

WATCH REPAIRING—HURST, 301 Central avenue.

John Bushard, an employe at the Merrill and Ring Mill, had his hand caught in the lath saw yesterday and received a painful injury. It is not thought that he will be laid up for more than a day or two, however.

Miss Lulu Samps of Eau Claire spent Saturday and Sunday with the Misses Nellie and Myrtle Hagerty of Fifty-sixth avenue west.

Miss Mary McKinnon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. McKinnon of Fifty-seventh avenue, has returned home on her vacation. Miss McKinnon is studying to become a trained nurse at the Rochester hospital.

Mrs. S. LaFleur of 713 Fifty-fourth avenue, who has been visiting on the range, returned yesterday.

Carl Fisher left yesterday for Burnett, where he will work for the Duluth, Mesabe & Northern repairing bridges.

Charles Towner returned yesterday from Bengal, Minn., where he has been employed for the past three months and a half.

Miss Alice M. Shannon and Mrs. I. R. Harrington left Sunday on the Soo City for Mackinaw, from where they will go by rail to Buffalo.

Mrs. James Klingsley, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. John Leidinger of West Duluth for the past three weeks, returned to her home in Dubuque Sunday evening.

The West Duluth lodge I. O. O. F. will give an entertainment tonight in the Great Eastern hall, the principal feature of the program being Newton Beers, who will give a reading of the fraternal play, David and Jonathan.

Rev. E. A. Skogsberg of Minneapolis will lecture this evening at the Swedish Mission church at 8:00 o'clock, his subject being, "The Wedding Link, or If I Were Young Again, What I Would Do." A lawn social will follow the lecture.

The members of the team which represented the Duluth Box Manufacturing company last Sunday against the Duluth Match company's aggregation say that the challenge, announced in The Herald last evening at their manager's request, was made without the knowledge of the rest of the team, and without their consent.

GOVERNOR'S DAY IN CAMP

Review at Camp Lakeview Tendered to Governor Johnson.

Gen. Gasser and Col. McGilvery of Duluth Were Present.

Camp Lakeview, Lake City, Minn., July 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Yesterday was governor's day at the camp of the Third regiment. Although the weather was cloudy and discouraging in the morning, the sky cleared before noon, and it turned out to be an ideal day. Governor Johnson arrived at 4:30, and was met at the station by Col. C. A. Van Duzee and staff and the members of his own staff, who had preceded him to camp. The arrival of the train was greeted with a salute of seventeen guns, fired by a squad from Battery B.

In the evening a review, commanded by Col. Van Duzee, was tendered the governor at the usual hour for parade by the Third regiment, commanded by Lieut. Col. Johnson, and artillery battalion, commanded by Maj. Lambert. The regiment wore the service uniforms of khaki.

Following review, parade was held in the company streets. The governor remained for guard mount, which was held on the parade ground in front of the colonel's tent, and returned to St. Paul on the evening train. He was accompanied to the station by the Third Regiment band and officers of the regiment. Among the members of the governor's staff present were Gen. Gasser and Col. McGilvery of Duluth, who arrived in the morning and spent the day at camp.

Yesterday was devoted to rifle practice. The first battalion held a short drill in the afternoon, but other drills were supersucceeded by range work. As the regiment has such a short time in camp, and as this is the only opportunity for many of the men to engage in practice, nothing is allowed to interfere with the shooting. In the morning the 500-yard range was used, and in the afternoon those who made a score of 120 out of a possible 150, on 200, 300 and 500-yard ranges, were permitted to shoot at 600 yards. Timed fire and skirmish are the next in order.

Many of the men are returning to their homes. As the date of camp comes during the latter part of the month, those members of the regiment who work in offices have to return to work before camp breaks up.

The citizens of Lake City entertained the members of the regiment by a moonlight excursion on the lake last evening. The Third Regiment band attended and furnished music for the occasion.

Lieut. Youngberg, U. S. Engineers, who accompanied the regiment, has figured the distance covered by the regiment to be 88.35 miles. The daily mileage is as follows: Sunday, 4.25; Monday, 12.4; Tuesday, 11.7; Wednesday, 17.6; Thursday, 15; Friday, 15; Saturday, 12.4. As most of the Sunday was spent in mobilizing the command, Monday was the first day of actual hiking, and this makes an average of 14 miles a day for the balance of the week. Lieut. Youngberg considers this record a very commendable one, particularly for inexperienced troops.

MRS. HARRY THAW DENIES REPORT

About Falling Out Between Harry's Mother and Herself.

New York, July 31.—"I wish you would deny the stories sent out yesterday about the falling out between Harry's mother and myself," said Mrs. Harry K. Thaw, when she visited the Tombs to see her husband today. "It is an infamous lie," she continued. "We are the best of friends, both working for Harry's best interests."

Mrs. Thaw was then asked about the report that Thaw and his mother had disagreed over the method of conducting his defense. "You may deny that, too, if you want to," replied Mrs. Thaw; "it is not true. As far as I know they are getting along famously."

Mrs. Harry K. Thaw was joined at the prison by Roger O'Mara, the Pittsburg detective, and the two went together to visit Thaw in his cell. O'Mara said that his work would keep him in New York for a few days.

Three witnesses who offered voluntarily to tell what they knew about the Thaw case were examined today by Assistant District Attorney Garvan. One of those examined is said to be a nurse employed in a sanitarium in this city, where Evelyn Nesbit was a patient, and where both Harry K. Thaw and Stanford White are said to have visited her.

FARRINGTON ON STAND.

In the Investigation Into Freight Rates in Minnesota.

St. Paul, July 31.—R. I. Farrington, vice president of the Great Northern road, was the witness today before the state railway and warehouse commission, which is again investigating freight rates. He made known the fact that J. J. Hill had laid down the rule that no matter what the earnings of the road were, the dividends to stockholders shall never be more than 7 per cent. Mr. Farrington also stated that the purchase by the Great Northern of the ore property in Northern Minnesota was solely to control the ore traffic from those properties.

Mr. Harrington said it was unfair to lay down a flat rate for railroads, such as the Mankato merchants asked for. "In sparsely settled districts," he said, "there is little business to be had, and the roads costs more to operate than in other places where there is more business, and the unfairness of charging a flat rate is self evident."

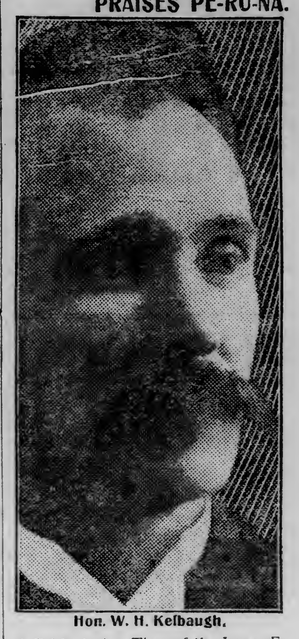

Carrying freight over mountain ranges is costly, he said, and the cost must be kept in mind in figuring the transportation of freight while it passes through Minnesota.

TROOPS MAY BE ASKED

To Capture the Much-Wanted Homesteader of Cameron Dam.

Milwaukee, July 31.—Arthur J. Hoept, the Milwaukee man who led the forces with Sheriff Gylland of Sawyer county, in the unsuccessful attempt to capture John Dietz last week, left this morning for Winter, where he will meet Sheriff Gylland to confer with state officials as to the best method of capturing the much-wanted homesteader of Cameron Dam. Troops will be asked for. Mr. Hoept expects to reurn to Milwaukee in a few days, although he may, if necessary, remain at Winter until Dietz is captured.

HON. W. H. KELBAUGH OF WEST VIRGINIA PRAISES PE-RU-NA.

Hon. W. H. Kelbaugh.

A Cold at Any Time of the Year, Especially in Hot Weather, is Very Depressing to the System. Pe-ru-na is an Unequaled Tonic for Such Cases, Read What People Say About It.

Hon. W. H. Kelbaugh, Ex-Member W. Va. legislature, 204 9th street, N. E., Washington, D. C., writes:

"You can use my name and word at all times for Peruna as a medicine and tonic unequaled. I have tried it for a stubborn cold and badly run down system. I tried all sorts of other medicines and paid several expensive doctor bills. Peruna cured me, strengthened me more than ever, and saved me money."

Mrs. Clara Litterst, Seafield, Ind., says: "Last fall I took a severe cold. I took Peruna, began to improve and kept on so until I was able to do my work."

WELLMAN GETTING READY

For His Flight in Airship to the North Pole.

Spitzbergen, Tuesday, July 24, via Tromsoe, Norway, July 31.—Forty men are working day and night to get the airship of the Wellman-Chicago Record-Herald expedition started toward the north pole this summer.

The big balloon house will be finished in a fortnight. Allowing ten days for inflation and trials, the monster airship may be able to start for the north the latter part of August. Everything depends on the weather, which so far has been good. There have been many visitors to the headquarters of the expedition at Spitzbergen, including the Prince of Monaco on his yacht, Princess Alice, and the passengers of two tourists' steamers. All have expressed amazement at the amount of work already accomplished.

GEN. OKU APPOINTED.

Chief of Japanese General Staff to Succeed Gen. Kodama.

Tokio, July 31.—Gen. Oku has been appointed chief of the general staff of the Japanese army in succession to Gen. Baron Kodama, who died July 22. Gen. Oku commanded the left army during the Russian-Japanese war and achieved a series of brilliant victories. They included "Nanshan and Tieling." The army under his command isolated Port Arthur at a critical stage of the siege.

Boarding House Burned.

Forget's boarding house at the corner of Fifty-first avenue west and Main street was practically destroyed by fire this afternoon. It is not known at this time how the fire started but the house, which was frame, was consumed quite rapidly despite the efforts of the fire department. When it was found that the place could not be saved, work was devoted to saving surrounding property which was successful. Almost the entire department was out.

CONCERNING WOMEN

"I wish that the women of Duluth were taking a deeper interest in the cooking school which has been established here by a few of them," said Mrs. Emily F. McCurdy, who is in charge of the summer cooking school at the Adams school which has been established by the women of the council. "The school has been provided with an expensive equipment, the pupils are most enthusiastic, and I am grealy enjoying the work, but aside from the comparatively few women of the council who know of the work, the women of the city, to whom a knowledge of it ought to appeal, are showing little interest. The establishment of a summer school of cooking in this city will undoubtedly lead to the installing of a domestic science department in the schools of the city and now is the time for the women of the city to learn the necessity and the value of this department so that if the question ever comes to a vote they will be informed. I extend to the women of the city, interested in educational matters a very cordial invitation to visit our school here and that ought to include at least every mother in the city."

The cooking school is entering upon its fourth week of work for the second summer and those women who have visited the school are most enthusiastic over the work being done. The young girls who are accommodated, numbering nearly 150 are delighted with the lessons and the value of the work is admitted by all who are acquainted with it. The class meets in the basement of the Adams school every morning and many afternoons of the week. A more interesting place to pass an hour or more is hard to find with the twenty eager young pupils learing the why and wherefore and especially the how, of cookery. This invitation from Mrs. McCurdy will probably receive a large response.

Informal Evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Miles of 1520 East Fourth street entertained at a delightful informal evening last night in honor of Mrs. Edward Hickman of Buffalo, who is the guest of friends in the city. The rooms were prettily decorated in pink and white and an informal musical program passed the first part of the evening. During the latter part of the evening five hundred was played.

Events of Interest.

Mrs. J. C. Smith entertained last evening at an informal party in honor of Mrs. Grace Hayden who left today for Portland, Or. The decorations were pink and white sweet peas. During the evening Mrs. Hayden sang several numbers.

Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McDowell of 103 Mesaba avenue are today enjoying the fifty-seventh anniversary of their wedding. They have been residents of Duluth for the past twenty-two years and many of their friends here will be interested in the event, although no formal celebration has been arranged. Mr. and Mrs. McDowell were married at Columbus, Wis., in 1849. Their son, F. E. McDowell of this city will observe the day with them quietly, but their two daughters at Minneapolis will not be here. No formal observance of the day was planned because of the slight illness of Mrs. McDowell. They are well known to the residents of this city in the early days and were the receipients of many congratulations on this anniversary of their wedded life.

What Retail Markets Offer

Peaches, $2.25 a bushel.
Blackberries, 2 boxes for 25 cents.
Head lettuce, 5 to 8 cents a head.
Red cabbage, 10 cents a head.
Summer squash, 10 cents each.
Veal cutlets, 18 cents a pound.
Sea coast fish.

For the housekeeper who dotes on spending the time left over from preserving, telling about it, next week will be one of rare pleasure, for the really thrifty housewife is pickling peaches this week. They are in front of the markets in bushel basketfuls and however much one admires the woman who put up ten cases of strawberries, the one who can add, as she weaves a pretty pattern in the toe of her husband's stockings the while she sways gently to and fro in a low rocking chair, "and I pickled three bushels of peaches. John is so fond of them," gets the largest chunk of admiration, for most anybody can make good preserves and delicate jelly, but when you can pickle peaches your title to good housewifery is clear and any claims you may have to being a splendid "wife and mother" are well founded.

Red cabage is in the market and blackberries, big black and luscious

Gowns Trimmed With Lace

By A. T. ASHMORE.

Lace gowns and dresses most elaborately trimmed are still foremost in this summer's fashions. Entire gowns of Irish lace and of net elaborately encrusted with Valenciennes are no longer looked upon with awe, nor, indeed so numerous are they, with undue admiration, and truly it would be difficult today to find anything in dress, however gorgeous, that would excite any particular attention. While the lace gowns are of fabulous price this is really not extraordinary when one considers that only the finest of real laces are employed, and rare lace is always a good investment.

There are, however, any quantity of lace trimmed gowns that are very nearly as effective as the more expensive costumes and which need not cost so appalling a sum. Then, too, it is possible nowadays to procure such an excellent quality of imitation lace that only a connoisseur could see at once that it is not the genuine hand work. The lace robe dresses are not in this class, for, as a rule, they are made up solely for effect and are of none too good a value.

A gown formed entirely of alternate rows of Valenciennes lace and batiste embroidery was extremely pretty. The gown was all in one piece, the lace forming the waistband being held in place by narrow pieces of featherbone. The Dutch yoke was all of Valenciennes ,as were the narrow sleeve ruffles. Both lace and batiste were about four inches in width. This same model carried out in organdle and lace or even in silk and lace is most attractive. Batiste covered with a tiny embroidered design is unusually fashionable this year, as indeed it should be, for the material is extremely pretty, particularly if in open design. The gown is laid over a colored silk or lawn slip.

Short jackets of lace or lace and embroidered batiste are still much in vogue. These little coats may be worn with any style of dress but are especially effective with an embroidered linen gown. The bolero is apparently the favorite model, but the short, loose pony coat comes a close second. Long embroidered linen wraps made up with wide insertions of Irish lace are also fashionable at the moment. These coats are very handsome and are worn as driving coats or dusters with the light and fashionable dinner gowns.

Lace evening wraps are seen more than any other style of cloak this season. Here the finest quality is not necessary, many of the wraps being comparatively inexpensive. Sleeveless capes are seen again, but a loose kimono sleeve, is as a rule, preferred. The lace wrap is made up elaborately with net and chiffon, the lining in most cases being of light silk or taffeta. Summer evening wraps are, most of them, very long, and among the handsomest models in rich lace there are a number which fall but little below the hip.

NELLIE OF THE ROSE.

By Joseph Baugher.

(Copyright, 1906, by Joseph B. Bowles.)

"Do you want a flower, sir?"

She was poorly clad, a child of the people, but with a face that a princess might envy.

Marlow took no notice of the voice as he hurried through the street—it was a highway of the slums—but the patter of the child's bare feet kept pace with his own tread.

"They say they are made out of dead people," she persisted, offering him a tube-rose.

"Thanks," he said, as he paused to take a flower. "Do you grow them?" he added.

"Grow them?" she laughed, with wondering eyes. "Why, they are made out of dead people, I tell you."

"Indeed? Then where did you get this?"

"From Nellie's coffin. She was buried from our court this morning."

"Ah! And what is your name, little one?"

"My name's Nellie, too."

"Nellie—Nellie of the Rose. I shall accept your flower, and I shall keep it always."

Laughing, the child blushed and ran.

Marlow wondered at the young girl's beauty and grace, but not at the floral gift, for he had always attracted children.

It was twilight when Marlow arrived at his rooms. He placed the flower upon his desk, wrote his editorial, dispatched it, and fell asleep. A street piano was playing to dancing children on the sidewalk below. The air grew cold. He arose and closed the window. Through the stillness of the room came faintly the splash of dropping water. An odor that suggested death chilled him to the heart. On turning, he saw in the center of the room a coffin, in which Nellie—not a child, but a grown woman—lay dead.

Without understanding, a sense of desolation appalled him, and bowing his head he kissed the dead woman's brow, and awoke. The air was heavy with the perfume of the flower the child had given him, and her words lingered in his thoughts.

Five years passed. Nellie of the Rose had at first interested Marlow and he educated her and, although he learned that she was the daughter of a Gipsy mother and a spoiled, home-loving son of a noble house, Marlow loved her and made her his wife.

Society at first laughed, then sneered, and finally ostracised him. But he laughed at society and was happy for a year.

Yet, the spirit of unrest—the spirit of Nellie's Gipsy mother—possessed the girl, and without a word, without a sign, she left him.

Society said "I told you so," and opened its arms to receive him again, but Marlow toiled on, and awaited his wife's return. Dim of eye and hollow of cheek from toiling and waiting, men said he drank. But his work refuted the charge.

Two days passed. One day a message came to him.

"Come to me," he read, as the paper fluttered from his grasp.

In a free ward of the city hospital, Marlow knelt beside the bedside of his wife.

A spirit of her home-loving father was asserting itself, and longing for forgiveness and for home, she confessed.

"Don't! Don't! Oh, Tom, don't look at me so kindly," she moaned.

"I have forgotten all save that one years of happiness you gave me," he whispered.

"But the world—your world, Tom—what will it say?"

"You are my world, dear love," he said, tenderly smoothing her hair.

"Perhaps," she sighed. "But only for a short time, only for a little while. Oh, Tom, take me home! Home ! Our home! Won't you, Tom?"

"Yes, little one," he answered, as she fondled and kissed his hand.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

It was rumored yesterday that the Austrian steamer Carolina, Capt. Bartolich, which cleared from Pensacola, Fla., on July 24, for Marseilles, Spezzia and Venice, had foundered somewhere in the Gulf of Mexico. Later another rumor was in circulation that the vessel had gone aground on one of the Florida keys. Careful inquiry fails to confirm either report.

Cheng Shuen Pan, one of several young men who recently were sent by the emperor of China to attend the Harvard summer school, died at the Cambridge, Mass., hospital last night. He fell from an electric car and sustained a fracture of the skull. He was 25 years old.

The London Daily Telegraph says a meeting between King Edward and Emperor William has been definitely arranged to take place in Germany the coming autumn.

Jabez Wolffe, the amateur swimmer, has made another unsuccessful attempt to swim the English channel. He started last night, but abandoned his efforts early this morning on account of his injured leg.

A large part of the city of Kuznetzkt, which has a population of 25,000, has been destroyed by fire. The losses are heavy.

The Irish laborers' cottage bill passed the committees stage in the British house of lords at an early hour this morning after several amendments against the government had been carried by large majorities.

The dead body of Joseph Bardenheir, a butler, missing since last Monday, was found in the woods three miles from Madison, Wis., yesterday. He had been robbed and murdered. Bardenheir came here from Chicago about three months ago.

FELL DEAD.

Osceola, Wis., July 31.—Thomas Chalmers, a retired farmer of Balsam Lake, dropped dead on the street yesterday of heart disease. He was 55 years old and single and came to Balsam Lake from Pipestone county, Minnesota seven years ago.

ARGUES ON TAX TITLE

Clark Iron Company Maintains its Claim Against all Comers.

John G. Williams Discusses the Tax Enactment of 1874.

Arugument by John G. Williams on the question of the validity of Clark Iron company's tax title to the disputed land in 58-20 was presented to Judge Cant in the Clark mine case this morning. Mr. Williams was chiefly concerned in laying the groundwork for his contention, likely to be made this afternoon, that the Clark property was properly assessed in 1888 when tax title proceeding began. His experience in tax title matters has made Mr. Williams quite generally recognized as an authority on the subject and his discussion as applied to the Clark mine case, especially was of interest, although technical to a considerable degree.

In the matter of a notice of redemption, Mr. Williams argued that the legislature in passing the tax act of 1874, did not intend that the assessment roll should ever form the basis of information to the county auditor; that in seeking the proper person to send the notice to, the name of the owner as it appears on the current list should be taken rather than the name of the person assessed on the assessment roll. His contention was that from the time the assessment roll is made until the period of the tax collection by the county treasurer, there might be one or several transfers of the property and the name of the true owner might not appear on the assessment roll.

Mr. Williams began his argument where he left off yesterday afternoon. He claimed the Rogers' heirs have nothing to do with the title whether it was their father, an impersonator, or some person legally entitled to make an additional entry, that obtained the papers. He claimed that Gen. Baker, through the power of attorney and substitution, became owner in fee to the lands located by the scrip.

Mr. Williams next took up the defense that even if the plaintiffs' ancestor had a legal right to a soldier's additional entry, and was deprived of it by fraud, and the same was located on the lands in question by James H. Baker, the measure of relief the plaintiffs would be entitled to, even against Baker, would be the value of the right at the time it was located, with legal interest; that their ancestor was deprived of no right, and they can recover nothing.

Judge Cant suggested that the plaintiffs do not rest their claim on any right that James M. Rogers had for an additional entry, but do rest on the claim that the government found by some means or other that he had such a right, and gave him the patent.

Argument was continued by Mr. Williams to the effect that even if the government recognized a right for Rogers to make an additional entry, he would be entitled, if defrauded of the right, to the clip, with interest, and not to any land.

This point was dropped for a time, with the understanding that Mr. Cotton, for the American Iron Mining company, would discuss it later.

The next defense argued by Mr. Williams was that, independent of any other defense, the defendants purchased the title to the iron lands in good faith, as shown by undisputed evidence; that the Clark Iron company has paid all the taxes, and that the defendants had, by their enterprise and expenditure of a large amount of money, made the property a valuable one. It was argued that the tax title is valid, and that it would be inequitable to the defendants to deprive them of the land. Mr. Williams enlarged on the claim of good faith, and called attention to the fact that one of the defendant companies undertook a preliminary expense of $735,000 in developing an iron mine on the property.

Mr. Williams said the plaintiffs claim of legal title is a mere shell. He claimed the Clark Iron company has held the absolute title of the land since 1888, when it secured the property on a tax title. His contention was that by its tax title the Clark Iron company acquired the Gen. Baker title as absolutely as if it had purchased the same.

"If the title was in the Rogers heirs, while the thing passed, would not the minor heirs still have the right of redemption?" asked Judge Cant.

Mr. Williams insisted that the Clark Iron company's tax title became valid in 1888 as to any claim by the Rogers' interests and that by the tax proceedings of 1903 its title became valid so far as any claim by Gen. Baker could be concerned.

Continuing his argument as to the tax title Mr. Williams referred to the new system inaugurated by the act of 1874. He claimed the title to the act is the most comprehensive of any act of the kind ever passed by a Minnesota legislature. The title is "An act for the assessment and collection of taxes." The phases of this act were discussed by Mr. Williams as to their completeness of detail. He referred to the redemption period provided for in the act, amended in 1877 by the provision that there should be a notice to the owner of the cutting off of the period of redemption. The importance of this new piece of legislation was discussed, the counsel expressing belief that the provision has come to stay.

The section says the notice shall be given to the person in whose name the lands are assessed. Mr. Williams argued that the word "assessed" as used in the act is meant to convey the broader sense as an equivalent to being taxed, instead of the sense of an estimate of value made by a local assessor. He argued that under the provisions of the law the clause "in whose name the land is assessed" means "in whose name the land is taxed."

Argument was made by Mr. Williams that the state legislature, in passing the tax act, meant that the notice should go to the owner of the land. He contended that after the tax list is put in the hands of the county treasurer on the first of January, between that time and the time the new tax list is made up there might be one or several transfers of the land, so that a notice given to the person whose name appeared in the assessment roll might not reach the real owner at all, and the beneficent purpose of the act would be defeated.

It was also argued that the assessment roll merges into the tax list when such list is made; that it has served its purpose and is consigned to the vaults or to the garret to become dusty and mother-eaten. Mr. Williams contended that the tax list is the live record and the up-to-date list. He called attention to the fact that the changes of ownership from July to January are followed up by the auditor and are noted in the current tax list before it is turned over to the treasurer for collection. The tax list of one year is the basis for the assessment roll of the succeeding year.

Mr. Williams was to resume his argument at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

OPERA COMPANY REACHES CITY

Comes From Rochester, N. Y., For Week's Engagement Here.

Coming direct from Rochester, N. Y., with three special cars of scenery and effects and two Wabash Pullmans, the Stewart Opera company arrived in Duluth at 2 o'clock this afternoon, to begin a week's engagement here next Monday.

The company has just completed an eight weeks' summer engagement at

MISS MABEL DAY,
Prima Donna of Stewart Opera Company.

Rochester, and comes to Duluth to begin a swing around the circuit of theaters in the Northwest controlled by John Cort.

The company is owned by Mr. Cort, who also has under his management such attractions as Florence Roberts, Sarah Truax, Max Figman, Maude Fealey, Calve and Leon Covelle.

The leading people in the company which is coming to Duluth, are: Miss Mabel Day, prima donna; Miss Bertha Shalek, contralto; Miss Bessie Fairbairn, grande dame; Miss Hattie Fox, soubrette; William G. Stewart, baritone; Carl Hayden, tenor; George Leslie, comedian; and Bowman Ralston, basso.

The company will present three operas while in Duluth. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday matinee, "The Two Roses" will be the attraction. Wednesday and Thursday evenings they will present "Dorothy," and on Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee, "Babette."

The company made an enviable reputation for itself in Rochester, and had it not been for the bookings in the Northwest the engagement there would have been prolonged.

LATE DOINGS IN MICHIGAN

Michigan Convicts May Make Twine Because of Court Decision.

Marquette—The decision of the state supreme court in the Jackson prison case, handed down last week, in which it was held that the making of brooms by convict labor is contrary to the constitution, inasmuch as it teaches inmates of the penitentiary a mechanical trade, is believed to be destined to have far-reaching effect on the employment of prison labor in Michigan, and it is likely that this effect will sooner or later be experienced in the Marquette prison.

The binder twine industry is one of the things to which the prison boards may turn if the decision of the supreme court proves as sweeping as now appears likely to be the case. The employment of the convicts in this industry was suggested at the last session of the legislature.

At Marquette prison the convict population is engaged in the manufacture of cigars and overalls, and the terms of a new contract have been agreed on between the board of control and the parties interested. It calls for the installation of a plant for boxmaking, and is particularly advantageous to the prison.

Calumet—Albert Tascanen, rockhouse boss at C shaft of the Champion mine, was instantly killed yesterday. He was caught in the machinery and whirled to death. He was 35 years old and leaves a wife and family.

At a meeting of the strikers at the Quincy mine yesterday many were in favor of returning to work but others restrained them. Nearly 1,400 men are idle. The miners demand a 10 per cent raise. Local officials await action by the officers in New York.

Escanaba—As a result of an accidental discharge of a revolver in a room at the hotel here Sunday, Walter S. Peters, son of a prominent family of Oshkosh, narrowly escaped being killed. The revolver dropped from the dresser and in striking the floor was discharged, the bullet passing through the calves of both legs, inflicting flesh wounds. The patient was taken to Oshkosh by his parents.

CARNIVAL AT BRAINERD

Brainerd, Minn., July 31.—The Eagles' midsummer carnival opened here yesterday. The Parker Amusement company furnishes the attractions, coming here from Winnipeg. Many strangers are arriving to attend the carnival.

A Word on Early Closing Hours.

The custom of closing our store at 5:30 p. m. during the hot summer months was inaugurated by us many years ago in Duluth. It has become a principle with us for the benefit of our employes to be followed each consecutive year, and not intermittently or occasionally, as with other stores. If every other store were to keep open we would still close at our accustomed hour. This as a suggestion only to those who have the interests of the men and women who stand behind the counters during these hot, sultry months at heart. For their sake, as well as your own, p-l-e-a-s-e Shop Early.

All Silk Coats and Coat Suits at Half Price.

Look the country over and you will not find desirable and seasonable silk coats and suits being ruthlessly sacrificed as they will be here this coming week. Mind you, not unseasonable or passe garments, but each one bearing the stamp of authoritative style always maintained by the S. & B. Co. Good for early fall as well as now, which means several months wear ahead. For tomorrow and the coming week only half regular prices.

TRIP WAS VERY ENJOYABLE ONE

Many Attend First of Herald Excursions to Fond du Lac.

Yesterday, the first of the Herald's popular family picnics to Fond du Lac on the steamer Newsboy took place. The boat was comfortably filled with men, women and children on pleasure bent, nearly every family being accompanied by a well filled lunch basket.

The weather was delightful and the trip up the beautiful St. Louis river was enjoyed to the utmost.

Arriving at Chamber's Grove, the excursionists soon made short work of the good things, and for four hours the picnic grounds presented an animated scene, "grown ups" as well as children lending themselves to the full enjoyment of the day. The boat arrived at the Newsboy dock on the return trip at 6 o'clock with a tired, but happy crowd, many of whom declared it their intention to repeat the pleasure every Monday during the season.

The very low price of 30 cents for the round trip for adults, and 15 cents for children has brought these Herald Monday excursions into instant favor. It will be hard to conceive of a more enjoyable day's outing at any price. The Newsboy leaves the dock at the foot of Fifth avenue west at 9 a. m., calling only at Tower slip, Superior, and returning to Duluth at 6 p. m.

Tickets for the Herald's Monday excursions may be obtained at The Herald office or at the dock.

YACHTS TUNING UP

For the Trial Races for Cup Named for Roosevelt.

Marblehead, Mass., July 31.—A majority of the nineteen American racing yachts that have been built for the defense of the Roosevelt cup against the three German aspirants for that trophy are now engaged in a series of tuning up races in these waters.

These events will probably continue almost daily until the trial races, which will be held during the week of Aug. 13 under the direction of the Eastern Yacht club, which originated the International contest for these small boats and donated the cup named for President Roosevelt with his permission.

After the trial races, the club will select three of the nineteen yachts to sail against the three German boats which are now being brought to this country on steamers. The cup races will take place during the week of Sept. 3 and five races will be sailed, the trophy going to the yacht that wins the majority of the contests or wins the fifth race of the series.

CHANGE IN THE PLANS

Of Russian Government Regarding Signers of Viborg Manifesto.

To Be Arrested on Charge Which is Virtually High Treason.

St. Petersburg, July 31.—The public prosecutor has started proceedings against the members of the lower house of parliament who signed the Viborg manifesto under which the signers of the manifesto will be brought to trial for a violation of article 129 of the criminal code, which provides for "attempts to overthrow the existing government." This is virtually high treason, and the maximum penalty is hard labor in the mines. No arrests yet have been reported, and the Constitutional Democrats do not anticipate anything approaching punishment of their representatives. It is understood that the arrested will be admitted to bail pending trial.

Socialist and Radical members of the late house may have to cool their heels in cells for a long time, and thus be prevented from continuing the full fledged revolutionary agitation upon which they are now embarked. Many of these ex-members are now living under cover in the houses of friends in St. Petersburg or have gone into hiding in the provinces.

The motive of the government for abandoning its attitude not to prosecute the signers of the Viborg manifesto, as set forth recently by Premier Stolypin in an interview, is not stated, but evidently it was influenced by the need of doing something to counteract the effect of the Viborg address. This has attained an enormous circulation in the provinces, in spite of the greatest efforts on the part of the administration to prevent its publication.

A manifesto to the peasants of Russia has been issued in the joint names of all the various labor, Socialist and revolutionary organizations, including the representatives of those organizations in the defunct lower house. This manifesto declares that the hopes reposed in the lower house of parliament have been blasted by the diabolical designs of the crowd of grand dukes, courtiers and wealthy land proprietors assembled around the emperor, whose only purpose can be the maintenance of their power over the people. By dispersing the elected representatives of the people and arresting and imprisoning them, the government has declared war on the nation, and a struggle is beginning in which rivers of blood will flow, and for which the government is responsible. The people must not spare the government.

This manifesto further accuses the government of betraying the fatherland by invoking the aid of German and Austrian troops. The people are, therefore, urged to remove the authority everywhere, to replace it with men elected by themselves, and to confiscate all state funds. The troops also must conform to the orders of those elected by the people. The workmen in the towns, the peasantry and all toilers must, in conjunction with the troops, seize the liberty, and take the land which the government has denied them. The land thus possessed must be handed over to the popularly elected local authorities, pending the elaboration of a new land law.

The manifesto calls for elections, on the basis of universal suffrage, and concludes with the words:

"Down with the government and the emperor. Long live the dear and free Russian people."

JAMES A. MARTIN HAS RESIGNED

Postoffice at St. Cloud Because He Cannot Support Buckman.

St. Paul, July 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—James A. Martin, the well known Republican politician, today resigned his position as postmaster at St. Cloud. Mr. Martin says that he cannot support Congressman Buckman in his campaign for re-election, and he does not care to hold a public appointment under a man whom he cannot support. This action comes as a great surprise to the political leaders of Minnesota and will cause much speculation and discussion. His resignation no doubt means that he will take an active hand in the anti-Buckman fight in the Sixth district.

Pre-Inventory Sale at Gidding's.

This sale has been necessitated by the fact that this progressive firm has during the past season handled enormous stocks and consequently they are at this time carrying more goods than usual, which makes the task of inventory almost herculean. To save themselves much bother and work and to reduce stock, prices during this sale will be cut to a greater extent than ever before. Rare bargains are offered throughout the entire store. Motoring and steamer coats are offered at one-half price, as also is the entire stock of White Serge coats. Silk shirt waist suits at about half the regular selling price, Women's and Misses' summer garments at half with the addition of several small lots, which are offered at one-third their actual value. All White Serge suits go into this great pre-inventory sale at one-half price. Girls' coats and dresses at half the regular selling price and so it goes throughout the entire stock of magnificent merchandise for Women, Misses, Girls and little Tots. Special bargains are offered in silk petticoats, wash shirtwaist dresses. Corsets are priced at one-half to one-third their regular selling price. Muslin underwear and hand-made undermuslins also. Harvard Mills and Kayser underwear all go into this great money saving sale, at reduced prices.

AMBASSADOR MEYER

Thinks General Strike of Laborers in Russia is Improbable.

Washington, July 31.—Ambassador Meyer, at St. Petersburg, sent a dispatch to the state department yesterday in which he reviews the situation in Russia and says there seems to be no probability of a general strike of laborers at this time.

"It is now eight days since the dissolution of parliament," Mr. Meyer's dispatch stated, "and contrary to expectations and prophesies of the press, the calm continues here. The Putiloff laborers seem to have abandoned the idea of a strike. It is thought the central labor committee will send out word to abstain from strikes of a political character. All indications continue to point to the improbability of general strikes."

COPPER STOCKS STRONG AT CLOSE

The Market is Pretty Steady During the Entire Day.

The copper stocks opened steady today and strengthened toward the close. North Butte opened at $90, advanced to $90.25 and closed at $89.75 bid and $90 asked. Amalgamated opened at $100.75, sold as low as $100.37½, rallied to $101.37½ and closed at $101.12½ bid and $101.25 asked.

Anaconda opened at $252.50, sold as low as $251, rallied to $253.50 and closed at $253.50 bid. Butte Coalition opened at $31.75, declined to $31.25, rallied to $32.75 and closed at $32.50 bid and $32.75 asked. Calumet & Arizona opened at $110 asked, sold at $110 and closed at $109 bid and $110 asked.

Superior & Pittsburg sold at $17.50, declined to $17.25 and closed at $17.25 bid; Denn-Arizona sold at $19.50 and $19.25 and closed at $19.25 bid; Warren at $13.25 and closed at $13 bid; Globe Consolidated at $5.37½ and $5.75 and closed at $5.75 bid and $6 asked; Copper Queen of Idaho at $2.25 and closed at $2.25 bid, and Ophir Tunnel at 30 cents and closed at 30 cents bid. Cliff closed at $5 bid. Black Mountain sold at $11.50 and $10.50 and closed at $10.75 asked.

Last Case Starts.

The personal damage suit of Sam Morenelli against the Wallace Contracting company which has been on trial for a week in United States court is being given to the jury this afternoon. Following this the suit of Odin O. Endahl against the Northern Pacific road will be taken up, which will close the jury calendar for this term.

DICK AND DOVER

Call on President to Confer About the Ohio Campaign.

Oyster Bay, July 31.—Senator Charles Dick of Ohio and Elmer Dover, secretary of the Republican national committee, reached Oyster Bay this morning for a two hours' conference with President Roosevelt. The Ohio political situation, in view of the forthcoming campaign, will be discussed. Before taking a carriage to Sagamore Hill, Senator Dick said the political situation in Ohio is decidedly much better than it was two years ago. He commended the administration of Governor Harris as doing much for the state and the Republican party. He predicted that two years hence Governor Harris would be nominated and elected. Congressmen and several state officers, the highest of which is secretary of state, will be elected in Ohio this fall.

BRYAN ATTACKS ROGER SULLIVAN

Says Illinois Committeeman Holds the Offce by a Fraud.

Chicago, July 31.—Judge Owen T. Thompson, of Jacksonville, Ill., announced this afternoon, that in a letter dated July 17, William J. Bryan requested that Judge Thompson call upon Roger Sullivan with a message from Mr. Bryan, requesting that Mr. Sullivan, in the interest of harmony, resign as national committeeman from Illinois. Judge Thompson says he saw Mr. Sullivan and delivered Mr. Bryan's message. Mr. Sullivan declined to resign as requested.

Judge Thompson thereupon made public a letter from Mr. Bryan declaring that National Committeeman Sullivan holds the office by a fraud, and that it is impossible for honest Democrats to associate with Mr. Sullivan as a member of the national committee.

THE HARTJE DIVORCE CASE

is Now Likely to Extend Into Week After Next.

Pittsburg, July 31.—When the Hartje divorce trial was resumed today it was regarded as a foregone conclusion that the proceedings would extend into next week and possibly the week following. At the opening of court the absence of the usual crowd was noticeable. Detective Frank Munsey was recalled by the plaintiff's counsel, but Judge Frazer refused to admit the testimony.

Sergt. Michael Hanley of the Oakland police station then took the stand and told of Madine reporting the robbery of his trunk. Patrick Golden, a special officer, followed Sergt. Hanley and gave the details of the investigation introduced by the police.

The officer said Madine told him he had lost a letter of recommendation from Augustus Hartje and some valuable papers. Continuing, Golden stated that Madine said he was going to bring action against Augustus Hartje for defamation of character, and that, if he had taken $5,000 from Hartje, he could have acted as a tool for him.

Augustus Hartje, the libellant, was the next witness, and he proceeded to formally deny all the allegations against him, about offering Madine $5,000 to tell that a certain man was at the Hartje home alone with Mrs. Hartje; that he visited the resort at No. 240 Second avenue, and that he had taken a blonde woman home with him. Hartje admitted owning the property at No. 240 Second avenue, but said he did not know of the character of the tenants until last week, when he heard of them in court.

The witness also denied offering Madine $2,500 to kill a man.

FEELING RUNS HIGH.

Against Negro Murderer in Pennsylvania But Order Prevails.

Washington, July 31. — Feeling against Elmer Dempster, a negro, confessed murderer of Mrs. Samuel Pierce and her two children, still runs high, but order prevails and few loiterers are seen about the jail today.

"Gus" Patterson and John Rucker, the two negroes accused in Dempster's second confession of the murder and robbery of John Koboda, a wealthy farmer, near Independence, last April, were lodged in the county jail today. The demeanor of Dempster is unchanged. He is not averse to talking about the crime and the light hearted manner in which he refers to the dead is amazing. When informed of the charge against him, he said: "I don't want a hearing. I am guilty. Let it go at that."

MILITIA UNDER ARMS.

To Protect Keutucky Negro Charged With Assaulting a Girl.

Mayfield, Ky., July 31.—The local company of militia is under arms and the Hopkinsville command is expected to arrive this afternoon to assist in protecting Allen Mathis, the negro charged with assaulting Ethel McLane, when he arrives from Louisville this evening and to preserve order at his trial tomorrow. The excitement is intense and business is practically suspended. It is feared there will be trouble tonight if the negro is not taken off the train before he reached Mayfield. The trial is expected to be over in an hour. The gallows for his execution was erected yesterday and it is believed Mathis will be taken directly from the courtroom to the scaffold.

THOSE WHO HAVE PASSED BEYOND

Beloit, Wis., July 31.—Dr. William Alexander, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in this city from 1865 to 1869 and president of Carroll college at Waukesha from 1863 to 1865, died today.

Niles, Mich., July 31.—Harry Mitchell aged 70 years, an old soldier and one of "Buffalo Bill's" scouts, when fighting for the government, was found dead in bed at his home near Berrien Center yesterday. Old age apparently was the cause of death.

Brighton, England, July 31.—John Lawrence Toole, the comedian, died here last evening at 11:40. He was born in London in 1830. Toole started life as a wine merchant's clerk at the age of 20. He was advised by Charles Dickens to adopt the stage as a profession, which he did, making his first appearance in 1853. He became a leading comedian of his day in England. Toole was a contemporary of and lifelong friend of the late Sir Henry Irving. He toured the United States and Australia, where he gained many triumphs.

GO TO CONFERENCE.

Duluth Boys' Department is Represented at Lake Geneva Convention.

The annual conference of the boys' departments in the Middle Western states, will be held at Lake Geneva, Wis., beginning Wednesday.

The Duluth boys' department will be represented by three members, and the secretary, Norman D. McLeod. The boys chosen as delegates are William Eklund, Lawrence Jaques, and Palmer Bevis. They left today for Lake Geneva, and will return on August 6.

TO CONTEST SAGE WILL.

Nephew of Deceased Millionaire Determined to Make Fight.

Troy, N. Y., July 31.—James H. Sage, a nephew of the late Russell Sage, today declared that the will of the deceased millionaire will be contested. "I have made up my mind to get that to which, as a blood relative of Russell Sage, I am entitled, and if I don't get it, it will be because there is no legal way of doing so," he said.

"I am of the opinion that during Russell Sage's last few years there was undue influence brought to bear upon him which caused him to leave the bulk of his fortune to his wife." He said he understood that Mrs. Elizabeth Geer of New York will also contest the will. Mr. Sage said he had placed his case in the hands of a lawyer.

MACHINE GUN STOLEN

From Russian Arms Factory---Spy Killed By Workmen.

St. Petersburg, July 31.—A machine gun was stolen last night from an arms factory in the Vassili Ostrov district of this city. It is suspected that the robbery was committed with the connivance of the sentinels on duty at the factory.

Meetings of workmen which are being addressed by revolutionary orators are being held nightly, in secret, in the industrial sections of St. Petersburg. At the meeting of the employes of the Putiloff works last night a spy was discovered among those present. He was killed by the men attending the meeting.

BURGLARS WORK LIKE TROJANS; GET BUT $8

Great Falls, Mont., July 31.—Two daring robberies were committed in this city last Sunday night, supposedly by two men, both of whom were masked. The total amount secured, after much hard work on their part, was $8.

The robbers first went to the place of Jackman & Downing, at 513 Second avenue south. They found a safe there weighing about 450 pounds, which they carefully rolled out to a place of safety, when they placed it inside of a big refrigerator and drove away with it. Later they blew the refrigerator and safe into atoms with giant powder and were rewarded by finding $3.50 as the only contents.

They also visited the place of J. P. Reagan at 502 Fifth avenue south, where they succeeded in getting $4.50. Mrs. McCormick and her daughter saw two men wearing masks and gave the alarm, but as yet the burglars have not been captured.

OPERATION FATAL TO BOY.

Shock Kills Ray McMaster at Charles City, Iowa.

Charles City, Iowa, July 31.—Ray McMaster, aged 17, died yesterday afternoon from the effects of an operation. His left leg was amputated at the hip for bone cancer, and he lived for six hours. He lived at Glenn Falls, Idaho, and was here on a visit.

Lighting killed many cattle here Sunday night. The storm was the heaviest of the season, being a regular cloudburst at Floyd.

John Borshen, insane, jumped in the river at Osage. He was on his way to be examined by a commission, and was committed to an asylum.

The Democrats who met here yesterday to choose delegates to the state congressional and senatorial conventions, indorsed Bryan for president in 1908.

OPINIONS OF TUGMEN

Unanimous in Favor of Breakwater For Harbor Protection.

They Claim That Central Canal Would Ruin Lower Harbor.

A fact of peculiar significance in the discussion of the breakwater versus the central canal for the protection of the local harbor and shipping interests, is the unanimity with which the local tug captains favor the breakwater plan. Every one of those interviewed yesterday on this subject condemned the central canal plan in the strongest terms and referred to it simply as a scheme to save time for the boats of the large ore shippers. These men are in and out of the canal twenty times to the large vesselman's once, they are constantly working about the harbor and this portion of the lake, and are familiar with every current, wind, or other condition which is to be considered in protecting the harbor. Their knowledge in these matters is intensely practical, and their opinions should be of more weight than that of almost any other class of vesselmen on the lakes.

Capt. Ed Montgomery of the B. B. Inman said:

"My idea is most decidely in favor of the breakwater, and I can see no argument in favor of the central canal. With the proposed new opening made we should still be confronted with the necessity of building a breakwater, and it would be a lot harder to build than one which was designed only to protect the present entry. The swells which roll into the harbor through the canal now are so serious during the big storms as to give us little rest nights when we attempt to tie up at the piers. With another opening through the point they might about as well dig the strip up altogether and use the upper basin for a harbor. A breakwater, on the other hand, would assist materially in diminishing the current through the canal, and would throw the powerful north shore stream out around the end of the structure and greatly diminish its dangers to shipping. As for the outgoing current, with protection from the waves formed by the breakwater, the only detriment which it could cause would be a slight loss of time. The great danger from currents is when a boat it pitching in a high sea."

Capt. M. B. Glockle of the tug Helm, also expressed himself as in favor of the breakwater. He said:

"The damage to Superior dockage with the central canal would be tremendous. The waves bother considerably as it is on this side, and the rollers which would come in through the new cut would render it impossible to tie up on the Superior water front during storms. The sand filled docks would suffer greatly in addition to the danger to shipping. The central canal would be much harder to find in thick weather. Soundings would do no good until too late to change the course, and a steamer with a consort can't back off short. I have come up the north shore on nights when I couldn't see the bow of my tug, and felt my way along by soundings and often simply by the echo of my whistle from the cliffs along the shore, and have reached the canal safely, when I would never have found a central cut."

Capt. C. H. Green of the tug Superior said:

"A central canal would ruin the harbor and I can not see where it would be a material advantage to any one except the ore shippers, and it could mean a saving of barely two miles to them. A breakwater would be even more needed with the proposed cut than at present, and I believe a breakwater outside the present canal would be very effective as a protection for incoming vessels, and for stopping the waves which come in through the canal at present. It would be much harder for a vessel to make the central canal during a storm, as the waves would have a longer sweep down the middle of the lake."

Capt. Fred Benson of the Zenith said:

"Conditions here and at a number of other cities on the lakes are practically the same and breakwaters have been found very effective at Buffalo, Chicago, Milwaukee and other points. Buffalo, situated at one end of the lake, was in almost exactly the same condition and the breakwater proved a neffective remedy. I can't see way the central canal would be of much advantage to any one, even to the ore shippers who advocate it. It would only save them about fifteen minutes at best and it would make the harbor almost untenable. If someone had only forseen this contingency and had a foundation for the breakwater laid some time ago, and then had the scows dump sand dredged from the harbor and river during the last few years, onto this foundation, we would have a breakwater within fifteen feet of the surface by this time."

Supt. Vroman of the tug company said that he had implicit confidence in the decision of the government engineers, that it was an engineers's problem rather than a vesselman's, and that the government men were thoroughly acquainted with the conditions here, but closed by saying that he was confident that they would decide upon a breakwater.

KILLED AT ASHLAND.

Thomas Skahen Meets Death by Falling From a Steamer.

Ashland, Wis., July 31.—Thomas Skahen was instantly killed yesterday by falling onto the dock while trying to board the Neosho. The Neosho had discharged her coal cargo and her decks were over twenty feet above the dock when Skahen and a companion attempted to go aboard her. As Skahen was about to put his foot over the side of the vessel he slipped and fell to the dock below, landing on his head. His skull was crushed and he died almost instantly.

He was 35 years of age and leaves a mother and two sisters.

TRAGEDY IN INDIANA.

Samuel Demont, a Cripple, Kills His Wife and Shoots Himself.

Union City, Ind., Jnuly 31.—Samuel Demont, a cripple, last night shot his wife through the heart and head, instantly killing her, and then fired two shots in his own body, one in the breast and one in the head. He is not expected to recover. Three years ago Mrs. Demont received $600 for the death of a son, caused by an explosion, and this money became a bone of contention between the two and led up to the shooting.

COPPER IS STILL FIRM

George L. Walker so States of the Metal Market.

He Also Sees an Improvement in the Share Market.

The copper metal market is firmer and prices are about unchanged, according to George L. Walker, who in his latest letter says :

"The tone of the copper market is firmer and prices remain unchanged. Lake is held at 18¾ cents and electrolytic 18½ cents per pound. There have been small sales of both at the prices named and some inquiries for lake at 18¾ cents, for August delivery, have not at this writing been supplied. The discontinuance of production at the Atlantic mine is already being felt and now that the Quincy mine is idle, its trammers being on a strike, and Tamarack's output greatly reduced by the fire in the mine, it is quite certain that lake copper will not be offered down in the near future.

"Producing interests report business quiet, but many of them believe there will be a rush of buying later and that prices will go higher. The continued scarcity of spot copper is all the evidence they require to convince them that the present level of prices will be maintained at least until the last of August. The consumption of copper continues at maximum volume. Consumers, however, have made a temporary change in their policy. Some time ago they were willing to buy copper for three to five months advance delivery, but at present they show a disposition to buy on the "hand to mouth" scale only. There are reports that there has been considerable sales of copper at 18¼ to 18⅝ cents per pound cannot be confirmed.

"The continued rapid advance of copper prices on the London Metal Exchange is believed to truthfully reflect the actual conditions existing in the European market. Manufacturers there have not yet supplied their needs and they are only beginning to buy copper."

And of the copper share market, he says:

"Speculative markets are in much better shape than they have been for many months past and the character of recent operations leads me to believe that prices will go higher during the coming two months. Though the outlook for a continuance of present excellent business conditions is not entirely reassuring, the "position of securities" is exceedingly strong. Comparatively few stocks are being carried on margin, new issues have largely been absorbed by investors and the buying power of the public is so great as to defy comparison with any previous period in the country's history. Crops are good, electric power is growing in popularity, foreign business conditions are improving and copper producing companies are earning tremendous profits.

"There is more snap in the speculative temperament now than there was in former times, and it is within the range of possibilities that we may see a big bull market between now and the beginning of the fall elections. The best of the copper stocks are attractive at present prices, whether we have a bull market or not. If speculative conditions continue to improve, those stocks whose prices are low as compared with current earnings will advance as much as any. Even if the worst kind of a bear market develops, the following stocks will still be excellent investments at prevailing prices: Utah Consolidated, Copper Range, North Butte, Calumet & Arizona, Greene, Granby, Butte Coalition, Boston Consolidated, Utah Copper, Alloucz and Bingham Consolidated.

"Calumet & Hecla's report for the year ending April 30, 1906, is issued. It should make a better impression on the company's stockholders than any one previously issued in the entire career of the company. Progressiveness and prosperity stand out strongly in every line. The report goes into more details of the company's operations, and a greater disposition is shown to take stockholders into the confidence of the management than heretofore. The management has, indeed, done much to be proud of, and its expressed pride, therefore, is in every way pardonable.

"During the year under review the company produced 87,304,689 pounds of copper and smelted a sufficient quantity of its surplus mineral to make 13,747,110 additional pounds of fine copper, bringing its total output during the year up to 101,051,799 pounds of fine copper. The company's assets increased $3,485,630, and this, with $5,000,000 paid in dividends, made the net earnings for the year $8,485,630.

"Of the last named amount, I figure that the net profit on surplus mineral smelted and the cent per pound which was added in the company's financial statement to the valuation of mineral carried amounted to about $950,000, making the actual net profit on copper produced about $7,535,630, equivalent to about 8½ or 8⅞ cents per pound profit on the company's net production. This would indicate that the cost of production remains about the same as for some years past—8½ cents per pound—the average selling price during the year ending April 30 having been 17 to 17¼ cents per pound. This is highly satisfactory, as the company is now handling a greatly increased tonnage of low-grade rock, its average yield per ton last year having been between 40 and 46 pounds of fine copper. A few years ago its average rock yielded from 60 to 70 pounds of fine copper to the ton. The Calumet & Hecla company's average cost of production from the beginning of operations has been at least 8 cents per pound.

"The report goes into the company's recent purchases of lands in the Lake Superior district, gives the acreage in each parcel, enumerates the several companies upon the stocks of which it has taken options, gives the cost of lands, the amount so far expended in development work, and states that the directors have laid aside as a development fund $2,750,000.

"The readers of these letters have known for eleven months past that the Calumet & Hecla company brought from its previous fiscal year mineral equivalent to 29,180,000 pounds of fine copper, and they have known for ten months that this mineral was being smelted and converted into cash at the high copper prices prevailing during the past year. The claim of a local news service that the conversion and sale of a lot of this surplus mineral during the past year confirms its prediction that the company would produce 100,000,000 pounds of copper this year is, indeed, far-fetched.

"The report shows that the rock output of the company has been largely increased. During March, 195,480 tons were sent to the mill. This is at the rate of 2,345,760 tons annually and compares with 1,990,000 tons stamped the year previous. As a large portion of the increase comes fro mthe secola lode, however, and carries only 1 per cent copper, it is to be expected that the average yield of all the rock handled will be materially lower this year than last. The company's next annual report should show a production of 93,000,000 to 95,000,000 pounds.

"As has been pointed out previously, the Calumet & Hecla is destined to be a much larger and lower grade mining enterprise. It is encouraging to note its progressive policy, and to find that it is being carried out without any material increase in costs. The direction of its operations in Michigan is in the hands of an energetic and exceedingly efficient manager.

"Helvetia's directors have called a second assessment of $1 per share, payable Aug. 10. Stockholders are receiving a circular letter from the company's secretary announcing that Paine, Webber & Co. ask for an option on large and small lots of Helvetia stock at $6 per share, and an agreement to this end is attached to the communication. The option price is $6 per share, with assessment No. 1 paid, or $7 per share with assessment No. 2 paid. The option runs until Oct. 1.

"I understand that Messrs. Paine, Webber & Co. have already secured options on a controlling interest in the company's stock, although a large number of stockholders have not yet been heard from. It is probable that if options can be secured on a large percentage of the total outstanding stock, it will be sold to some one of the leading Arizona copper interests.

"It became apparent to the company's management some months ago that the Helvetia property would develop into a very large and profitable mine, provided suitable arrangements were made to handle the ore economically. To do this, sixteen to eighteen miles of railroad would have to be built, a modern smelter erected and $200,000 or more expended in development and equipment at the mines, entailing a total expenditure of $800,000 to $1,000,000. Some of the largest interests in the stock expressed an indisposition to pay the assessments which would be required to raise this large amount of money, and it now appears that Messrs. Paine, Webber & Co. are offering them an opportunity to sell their stock, in whole or in part, at a price which is only $1 below the highest it has sold during the past five or six years. If the plans of the option seekers are carried through successfully, Helvetia stock will undoubtedly be a good security to own.

"Greene Consolidated continues the subject of bearish talk, but there is less manipulation of the stock and all offerings are taken rapidly. President Greene wire from Canahea: 'Camp absolutely quiet. Not the slightest trouble anticipated. Reports circulated entirely malicious and for stock purposes purely.'

"Walter Douglas, general manager of the Copper Queen mine at Bisbee, says: 'Neither the Phelps-Dodge company nor any of the officials of the company have sold their holdings in Greene Consolidated. The story has been manufactured out of whole cloth, evidently for stock manipulation.'

"This makes it apparent that the Phelps-Dodge interests, who are thoroughly familiar with the Greene property, and in every way competent to form an opinion as to its present value and future prospects, were satisfied to retain their Greene Consolidated stock even when it sold around $22, as it did three or four months ago. In view of this, small investors should not permit themselves to be frightened out of their holdings by stories manufactured for that purpose.

"The Greene mining and smelting operations have not fully recovered from the effects of the strike. From sixty to sixty-five tons of copper is being turned out daily, or about 3,500,000 to 4,000,000 pounds monthly. Recent developments in the mines have been very favorable.

"East Butte is carrying forward with a great deal of energy the plans for the extensive development and equipment of its property which were formulated at the time of its organization. It is sinking two large operating shafts, and from them will develop its property at depth by long crosscuts and drifts. All development expenses are being paid by the royalties received from leasers.

"Boston Consolidated will make a big copper producer and dividend payer. This much is demonstrated, it would seem, beyond any possibility of failure. The most competent expert opinion, formed after extensive samplin gand assaying and of exhaustive concentrating tests, is that it will make a greater dividend payer than even Calumet & Hecla or Boston & Montana has so far been. But we must remember, of course, that these investigations and tests are not always fully confirmed by actual operating results."

RELEASE OF TWO LOVERS

Jailed in Isle of Pines Came in the Nick of Time.

Thrilling Stories That Emanate From Post-office Inspection.

FROM THE HERALD WASHINGTON BUREAU.

Washington, July 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The release of Millie Brown, the pretty sunny-haired American girl, daughter of Ira A. Brown of Spencer, Iowa, from the vile prison on the Isle of Pines comes in the nick of time, the state department having decided to protest vigorously against her further imprisonment and that of her fiance, Lewis Giltner, and an Americal lawyer by the name of Armstrong. These three Americans now residing on the isle of Pines were incarcerated in the selfsame prison in which Senora Cisneros was confined for a while before she was taken to Havana, and from which she was rescued by an American newspaper man formerly Washington correspondent of the New York Journal, Carl Deckar.

A gentleman from the Isle of Pines now in Washington describes Millie Brown as a "pretty tow-headed girl" in love with Lewis Giltner, who is a Cornell man and a civil engineer practicing his profession on the island. Miss Brown and Mr. Giltner saw a great deal of each other, and having mutual likes and dislikes, drifted together and eventually became affianced. But as Giltner had to make a show of attending to his duties as secretary of the Columbia Land company, of which his sweetheart's father was for a long time president, and is at present a large stockholder, the young people took up the study of telegraphy and made such rapid progress that they could carry on conversation in a month by means of finger taps on the backs of their chairs as they sat on the veranda of their brown home in the tropical evenings along with the rest of the family.

Finally Giltner conceived the idea of erecting a telegraph line from his home to his sweetheart's, and as the distance was less than a third of a mile, the work was accomplished in a few hours after he had received the wire from Havana. The instruments, however, had ticked but a very few tender messages when the alcalda, as the governor of the island is termed, sent an officer to Giltner's home and had the young man arrested, Miss Brown being taken into custody later in the day. The crime alleged was the violation of the military order issued by Maj. Gen. Wood, when governor of Cuba, prohibiting the erection of a telephone or telegraph line without the consent of the proper authorities.

In vain the Americans on the island protested that the order was not in force at this time, when Cuba is an independent republic and no longer under the military rule of the Americans. The Cuban authorities were deaf to explanations, and when the case was brought to trial the Cuban trial judge imposed a fine of $100 upon each of the offenders and sentenced them to a term in jail, and in addition they were ordered to pay a fine of $25 for every day the telegraph line remained up. Indignation followed the arrest of Mr. Giltner and Miss Brown, and immediately protests were filed at the state department. The Americans on the Isle of Pines, who purchased land there on the opinion rendered by the then assistant secretary of war, George D. Meiklejohn of Nebraska, that the Isle of Pines was American territory, now still cling to that belief. It will be recalled that Secretary Root later delivered an opinion diametrically opposite to the Meikiejohn ukase that the Isle of Pines belonged to Cuba, and had a treaty prepared to that effect, but which is still pending in the senate.

However, so great was the indignation and so open and severe the criticism of the authorities that President Palma finally saw the justness of Giltner's contention that he had no knowledge of the law, nor was any commercial business intended to be transacted over the telegraph line which he erected, that he issued a pardon to the persons imprisoned for a sentimental notion.

"Some incidents in the life of a post-office inspector" is the title of a series of articles designed for newspaper circulation that is being issued from the office of the postmaster general. Gaboriou, Vidocq and Sherlock Holmes promise to be relegated to the ranks of the hayseeds, judging from the first two of the articles which are written presumably for the purpose of "boosting" the postoffice inspection division. The first of these thrilling tales of the life of an inspector under the Roosevelt administration contains a story of how a carrier on a rural route in one of the Southern states was apprehended. A test letter containing marked bills was registered at B—, Ala., addressed to M—, a discontinued office located on one of the routes from P—, the office from which the complaints emanated. The risk of enclosing money in test letters is frequently taken by postoffice inspectors, but the chance of disposing of it in this particular case was small. The following day the postmaster at B— advised the postmaster at P— that the registered letter addressed to M— had been erroneously sent and requested its return. This was done in order to give the postal authorities an opportunity to find out if the letter had been rifled. After requesting the recall of the letter the inspectors visited a little village called K— which is supplied with mail by one of the rural carriers from P. The postmaster at M— was an honest old countryman and agreed to assist in the detection of the guilty party. An ordinary letter was mailed with him addressed to a firm in Chicago in which were enclosed two $1 bills, two silver dollars and a 50-cent piece all bearing private marks, in payment for a pistol. An examination of this letter after it passed through the P— office revealed the fact that it had been tampered with. The paper money and the 50-cent piece were still in the letter, but a $1 bill had been substituted for the two silver dollars and the original letter had been replaced by one advising the enclosure of $3.50 instead of $4.50.

The substitute was in the hand writing of the carrier between the route between P— and M—. Then follows the story of the apprehension of the carrier with lots of red fire thrown in to make it rattling good reading. When placed on trial the carrier entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to imprisonment at hard labor for two years.

It is understood that an official statement will be shortly issued by the commissioner of labor, Charles P. Neill, relative to the cost of living during the past year in contrast to wages. It is generally conceded that wages have not correspondingly advanced within the year to offset the increased cost of living. This will be the first time that the government has admitted that the cost of living has advanced more rapidly than wages, although everybody who works for a salary knows that it has been true for several years. It is a curious fact that the report will show that the advance in prices has not been confined to the produnts of mills and factories. It will show that the products of the farm have advanced almost as greatly as manufactured articles which pass through several hands before reaching the consumer. The farmer is receiving higher prices for his products than ever before, but there does not seem to be any good reason for the advance in the prices of manufactured articles unless it is that the trusts are enabled to control the price of the domestic article and that with corresponding advance in the wage scale, they have put the price up to the consumer.

An official of the department of commerce and labor, in explanation of the fact that the cost of living has advanced so rapidly, says he attributes it to the increase of the gold production within the last decade and a half. The supply of money has increased at a rate greater than the supply of the necessities of life, money being more plentiful people will pay more for an article than it would bring years ago when the per capita of money was not nearly so great.

The annual production of gold in the world from 1800 to 1850 was but $16,000,000. From 1850 to 1890 it was $120,000,000. From 1890 to 1900 the yearly production of gold was $21,000,000, and from 1900 to 1905 the yearly production increased to $320,000,000.

The gold crop is not consumed. It remains in the world as permanent stock to increase the world's supply of money, and with this increase has comes a corresponding demand for the necessities, the American consumer requiring more than all the other nations of the world. Under these circumstances, explains the official in question, it will be hardly possible to increase wages and not increase the cost of living. This subject will unquestionably afford the spellbinders of both political parties opportunity to air their views and reasons for what the government frankly admits is a great economic problem.

TEMPORARY INJUNCTION

To Prevent Payment of Bonds Belonging to the Gaynors.

Washington, July 31.—On the application of the United States attorney for the District of Columbia made several days ago, Justice Gould in equity court directed that a temporary injunction issue against the secretary of the treasury to prevent the payment of twenty-five $1,000 bonds presented by Henry Clews & Co. The government represented that these bonds, which were two years overdue, were offered by Henry Clews & Co. for Anson M. Bangs, who, it is stated, in the petition was in some way connected with the transactions of John F. and William T. Gaynor, the former of whom was convicted with Benjamin D. Greene at Savannah, Ga., of conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with contracts.

A DESERVING APPEAL.

A community of farmers in Carlton county, located in and about the town of Wrenshall, want to do their trading in Duluth, and to that end they have set afoot a movement to have a roadway opened to them.

It is to the interest of Duluth, as well as of those farmers, that their desire should be granted, and it is to be hoped that some way may be found to give them the road they need.

As an ample evidence of their good faith, these sturdy farmers have themselves raised nearly half the money needed to put the roads in condition to be traveled over, and they hope to get from other sources the remainder of the necessary funds.

It is stated that the old military road, running southwest from Fond du Lac, can be made to do the work if it is put into proper condition. Carlton county is not likely to help, though the road is entirely in its territory, because to divert this traffic to Duluth would take it away from the village of Carlton.

Now Duluth has no relation of rivalry with the village of Carlton, and would not do anything that would injure it. Yet if these farmers prefer to come to Duluth, with the hope of getting a broader market for their products, they should be helped if a way can be found.

At a meeting held in Fond du Lac it was shown that the town of Wrenshall contains about 150 farmers who are now shut out of Duluth by poor roads, though they are but five miles from the city limits. It was shown further that the military road, built half a century ago by the government, is in such condition that an expenditure of only about $2,000 would make it easy for these farmers to reach the Duluth market with their goods. A committee of Wrenshall farmers has already raised $800, and still at work with a good prospect that it will be able to get together half the amount needed.

Arrangements will be made to have this matter taken up by the commercial clubs of West Duluth and Duluth, and it is not at all unlikely that these bodies will find a way to help these deserving farmers attain their desire.

For Duluth's part, it cannot have too many such customers. It needs their products, and it can sell them their supplies. It should be to the mutual advantage of both to have a thoroughfare opened for the exchange of commodities.

NO MEXICAN UPRISING.

Too much reliance should not be placed upon the stories coming from Mexico of an uprising among the natives against the invasion of American capital.

Frequently of late word has come of an uprising of Mexicans to take place on Sept. 16, the anniversary of Mexican independence. It is stated that the natives are resentful of American and foreign encroachments, and that warnings have been issued that all foreigners will be "driven into the sea" if they do not leave the country by Sept. 16.

These stories have been taken with greater seriousness than they deserve by a large number of American newspapers, which simply shows that these papers are deeply ignorant of conditions in Mexico.

It should be remembered, first, that there is no government among all the Spanish-American nations so stable, so enlightened and so firm as that of President Diaz over the Mexicans. He has ruled that people for many years with a clear eye upon the future and with a firm hand upon the present. Not only has he given American capital a warm welcome, but he has invited it. If it were not for foreign capital and enterprise, Mexico today would be three hundred years behind the times. Her mines would be fallow, her population idle and poor, and her cities small and squalid.

Nobody realizes this better than the ruling classes of Mexico. It may be that in certain quarters, among the bitter and bilious peons who resent progress as an imputation upon their backwardness, there is a feeling of jealousy against the successful foreigners who have given them employment, but that feeling does not extend to the intelligent classes.

It may be relied upon that this movement is confined to the lower classes, and that it has its rise in the brains of a very few of these. It may also be relied upon that the government will stand by its attitude of welcome to foreign capital and industry, and that the army, if necessary, will be used to back up that welcome.

In short, there is no more danger of a serious uprising among the native Mexicans than there is of an uprising among the natives of Duluth against Eastern capital seeking to build a lot of factories to give employment to the workers and to add strength to the city's resources.

WHAT IT WILL DO.

Charles A. Prouty of the interstate commerce commission has been one of the leaders in the fight for an effective interstate commerce law, and his views on the rate regulation law adopted at the recent session of congress are worth consideration, especially in view of the doubts that appear in certain quarters whether, after all, that law is going to result in any benefit or not.

He contributes his opinions on the subject to the Review of Reviews, and he appears to be clearly convinced that the law will be of benefit. He does not claim that it is all that it ought to be. It is not, and his statement that it "is more significant in its passage than in its provisions" is full of meaning. It is a step in the right direction, and a step that will never be retraced. If it did not go far enough, the next step shall go farther.

Mr. Prouty says that while for the last few years railroad rates have been advancing, from now on the tendency will be the other way. If the new law accomplishes this it will have fulfilled its main purpose, which was to secure rates that shall be fair to both shipper and carrier, and fair to all shippers alike. The lowering of rates will not be due to sweeping reductions by the commission, but to the fact that the railroads, knowing that unfair advances will be challenged, will hesitate to make them. They will also, under the knowledge that shippers have a court of appeals, make requested reductions where without the law they would not.

As to rebates, he thinks they will cease in the main. They will not entirely stop so long as there is competition, but they will become rapidly less, and in ten years that sort of discrimination will be as rare as it was universal ten years ago. This is most encouraging, for after all it was discrimination rather than exorbitant rates that was at the bottom of the most of the economic ills for which the interstate commerce law was intended to be a specific.

However, Mr. Prouty thinks that discriminations between localities will continue, largely, and these will be the most fruitful source of complaints in time to come. He finds it hard to see how such discriminations can be avoided, unless the waterways are closed up and the benefit of geographical position entirely ignored. It is hard; almost as hard as it is for dwellers in a city of great natural advantages to see why the railroads should on that account discriminate against that city in their rates and in favor of cities wthout any natural advantages, thus usurpng the position of Providence itself.

Mr. Prouty utters a note of warning when he rightly says that if the railroads recognize the demand that certain abuses cease, and co-operate to that end, conditions will be fairly satisfactory; but that if they do not, there will be renewed agitation, which is certain to result in more drastic legislation.

Railroads will hasten the day of government ownership by delaying the progress of needed reforms of this nature.

FOOLISH POLICYHOLDERS.

Unconsciously, vendors of publicity have done much real harm to holders of life insurance policies, as the figures in recent life insurance reports prove.

In all the uproar about the big life insurance companies that have been convicted of improper methods, the repeated statements that in spite of it all these companies were fully solvent and able to meet their obligations were apparently overlooked. No matter what the officers of these companies had been doing, they had not disturbed the resources of the companies, and while they had been tampering with the income, and had prevented the policyholders from getting their full share of the profits, the fact that these things had come to light meant that they must be ended, and that therefore life insurance was more valuable than ever before.

Yet thousands of policyholders permitted their policies to lapse, and other thousands who would have taken out policies failed to do so, because they were alarmed by the disclosures. This was short-sighted, because a lapsed policy is a loss to the holder and a gain to the company.

Nobody had any idea of the extent of this, however, until the superintendent of insurance of the state of New York issued his annual report recently. It showed that among the companies doing business in New York there were in 1905 fewer policies issued by 83,396 than in 1904, and the amount of insurance written decreased $151,724,854. Besides, 70,934 more policies terminated in these companies than in 1904, and these involved $98,548,766 more insurance.

In a large degree these losses represented the lapsing of the policies of persons who were frightened by the revelations of graft in the large insurance concerns. Thousands of those that had carried policies for years refused to pay further premiums on them, and while some of them made settlements with the companies, most of these lapses represented a total loss to the insured.

Yet every company that was shown to have been the victim of grafting by its officers was solvent. Every one is able to pay all claims against it. Furthermore, instead of causing distrust in these concerns, the revelations should create confidence, because an exposed graft is an ended graft, and nobody can doubt that these practices have ceased. If there are cases where they still continue, it is only because they are unknown, and as soon as they become public they will end. The grafters and parasites have been turned out, and new blood has come in to take their places.

The life insurance business is better and stronger today than it ever was before, and there is more incentive to policyholders to keep up their payments than there ever was.

HOTEL GOSSIP.

"Dying expenses are greater now than they used to be," said O .T. Blatz of Milwaukee, at the St. Louis. "It costs more to live and more to die than it did a few years ago. Only recently an advance of 25 per cent in handles, plates and other hardware used in the construction of caskets was made by the manufacturers, and an increase of 10 per cent has been made within the year in the cost of caskets themselves in most cities. This is explained by the manufacturers as having been caused by the advance in the cost of lumber and other materials, which, they assert, made the increase in the cost of the product imperative.

"In New York the undertakers recently were notified by the five largest casket manufacturers that an advance of 25 per cent would be made. Allegations are freely made that the New York manufacturers are in a combination and the undertakers of Gotham are seriously considering the establishment of an independent factory. So you see the people who died a year or two ago saved money by getting off the earth early in the game. If you are of a saving disposition, you had better die now, for there may yet be another advance."

"Highballs make the popular drink with the average wealthy man of the city," said T. L. Berg of Chicago, at the Lenox, "during the warm summer months at least. The poor man drinks them, too, but not in such numbers as the more wealthy person. I have heard people express a curiosity as to what drink was the most popular with the latter class, and, becoming curious myself, asked the bartender in a swell place in Chicago.

"In the summer time, according to his story, there are more calls for the ice-cold highballs than for any other drink. Rickeys and gin fizz are also called for frequently, and occasionally a mint julep is prepared, but the highball has the lead. There is very little straight whiskey drank during the summer months, but a considerable quantity of bottled beer is consumed. The general order is for mixed drinks in the hot season and the bartender who has the greatest knack in preparing them is the one who is in the biggest demand and who commands the most salary.

"In Chicago buttermilk is a popular drink at the bar. A man entering a saloon may be after nothing more harmful than buttermilk. Probably he never would think of drinking it, though, if he had to enter a milk establishment to get it. The average saloon man does not fare so well in summer as in winter, as much of the demand from the ordinary man is for cheaper drinks. It takes three glasses of beer to bring in as much money as one glass of whisky."

Sad Ending.

Harper's Weekly: A young clerk grown up in the employ of a prosperous German grocer was by reason of his ability and knowledge of all the details virtually intrusted with the management of the business, and although given frequent advances of salary, began to feel that his services were absolutely indispensable and not properly appreciated from a money point of view. He laid the matter before his employer, placing particular stress on what a difficult matter it would be to operate the business without him. This claim was admitted by the employer, who inquired further:

"But, Chon, vat if you should dies?"

"Oh, then you would have to get along without me," remarked John.

After a few minutes deep thought the employer looked up at John and said:

"Vell, Chon, chust gonsider yourself dead."

The Hopeful Way.

I.

Summertime, or snowin'—
Any time o' day,
Dear, we keep a-goin'
Along the hopeful way.

II.

Stormy tempests' blowin'—
Not a rainbow's ray;
Still we keep a-goin'
Along the hopeful way.

III.

Though the graves remind us
Life's too sweet to stay,
Sweetest blossoms find us
Along the hopeful way.

IV.

What is all the sorrow?
Sorrow's for a day;
Love still says: "Tomorrow,
Along the hopeful way!"

—FRANK L. STANTON in Atlanta Constitution.

THE WEATHER.

A little less summery, yesterday and today. Last night, though clouds threatened in the afternoon, it was clear and fine and brilliant. This morning the skies were overcast and rain did not seem an improbable happening, while the breeze came coolly over the lake. Yesterday's highest temperature was 70 deg. and last night's coolest was 54 deg. The weather man expects the easterly winds to continue tonight and tomorrow, accompanied probably by showers. Tomorrow it should be warmer, he thinks.

A year ago today a northeast wind made it very cool, and there were occasional showers.

Says Mr. Richardson of conditions: "The Western disturbance remained about stationary, but increased somewhat in strength. It has caused some rain over the Dakotas, Nebraska and Montana. Showers also fell over Atlantic states, due to a low-pressure area off the coast.

"Temperatures are generally moderate for the season in most districts east of the Rocky mountains.

"A high pressure area is central over Lake Superior. This area in connection with the Alberta low pressure will cause easterly winds and probably scattered showers in this section tonight and Wednesday."

Following were yesterday's highest temperatures as recorded by the weather bureau:

Abilene	88	Medicine Hat	82

Department of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, Duluth, July 31.—Local forecast for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Wednesday: Duluth, Superior and vicinity: Partly cloudy with probably showers tonight and Wednesday. Warmer Wednesday. Fresh easterly winds.

H. W. RICHARDSON,
Local Forecaster.

Chicago, July 31.—Forecast until 7 p. m. Wednesday: Wisconsin—Fair in Wisconsin tonight and Wednesday.

Minesota—Fair in east portion, thunderstorms in west portion tonight and Wednesday. Warmer Wednesday.

North Dakota and South Dakota—Showers tonight and Wednesday. Somewhat warmer.

Upper Lakes—Fresh northeast to east winds tonight and Wednesday. Fair weather.

THE HUMORIST.

Philadelphia Press: "This African explorer, whose experiences are being published in some of the papers, says that parrots are delicious eating. I always thought they were very tough."

"But he refers to wild parrots. It's their association with men that makes most parrots tough."

Columbus Dispatch: Scribbles—Would you—er—mind repeating your refusal to my offer of marriage?

Miss Chillem—Certainly not. But why? Scribbles—Oh! I want to take it down in shorthand for use in my next novel.

Yonkers Statesman: Redd—How did you find the fishing up in the country?

Greene—Oh! same as usual.

"Same as usual?"

"Yes, found it same as usual—had to hire a guide."

Houston Post: "Can I sell you a phonograph?"

"You are evidently mistaken in your man."

"How so?"

"My wife isn't away for the summer."

Columbus Dispatch: "Knowledge is power," remarked the quotation dispenser.

"That being the case," rejoined the man who has an occasional original thought, "I suppose horse sense is horse power."

A Small, Sweet Idyl.

[From "The Princess."]

Come down, O maid, from yonder mountain height,
What pleasure lives in height (the shepherd sang),
In height and cold, the splendor of the hills?
But cease to move so near the Heavens, and cease
To glide a sunbeam by the blasted Pine,
To sit a star upon the sparkling spire;
And come, for Love is of the valley, come,
For Love is of the valley, come thou down
And find him; by the happy threshold, he
Or hand in hand with Plenty in the maize,
Or red with spirted purple of the vats,
Or foxlike in the vine; nor cares to walk
With Death and Morning on the Silver Horns,
Nor wilt thou snare him in the white ravine,
Nor find him dropt upon the firths of ice,
That huddling slant in furrow-cloven falls
To roll the torrent out of dusty doors;
But follow, let the torrent dance thee down
To find him in the valley; let the wild
Lean-headed Eagles yelp alone, and leave
The monstrous ledges there to slope, and spill
Their thousand wreaths of dangling water-smoke,
That like a broken purpose waste in air;
So waste not thou; but come; for all the vales
Await thee; azure pillars of the hearth
Arise to thee; the children call, and I
Thy shepherd pipe, and sweet is every sound,
Sweeter thy voice, but every sound is sweet;
Myriads of rivulets hurrying thro' the lawn,
The moan of doves in immemorial elms,
And murmuring of innumerable bees.

—TENNYSON

The Legislative Bumper.

Harper's Weekly: It will be interesting to see what measure the next session of the congress will pick out to serve as a bumper against urgent legislation. The bill granting statehood to Oklahoma and New Mexico has served this purpose for years. It has always been one of the first measures introduced and has, almost without exception, been one of the first measures to be reported to the house and senate from the committees. Then it has been used as a parliamentary football, always demanding attention when the country was clamoring for consideration of some important matter. The cost of printing the public speeches and documents on the subject of statehood would probably pay the expense of an ordinary session of the congress. Now that the question is out of the way, the congressional leaders will probably look to the steering committee to select a new bumper.

Judge Lautenschlager is building on his new residence on Second street one of the neatest towers on any residence in Duluth.

"OUR NEXT GOVERNOR."

Redwood Reveille: "The day has passed when party majorities mean certain political success," sagely remarks Frank M. Eddy's excellent Sauk Center Herald. Is Frank afraid somebody on the Republican ticket is going to be defeated in Minnesota next November?

Crookston Times: Funny campaign, isn't it? Here is the Princeton Union hinting at disaffection and party disloyalty and here is the St. Cloud Journal-Press urging the party not to imitate its own horrible example of two years ago.

Little Falls Herald: The Republican state campaign is apathetic. The people are satisfied that the present governor is in every way a better man for the gubernatorial office than his opponent.

Anoka Herald: There are a lot of mighty small fry on the Republican state central committee. The really good men will have to do a lot of work to counterbalance the influence of the mere presence of the rest on the committee.

Le Sueur News (Rep.): A whole lot of Democrats are giving the people a square deal in office. Enthusiasts should remember this when betting on results.

Willmar Tribune: Governor Johnson is going to have a fine bouquet from Kandiyohi county this fall if present indications are worth anything.

Windom Reporter: State development is a broad term which may mean a good deal and may mean very little. Cole has been so inconspicuous in state politics that the people don't know who or what he is. We must get acquainted with him. That he bears the Republican label is hardly sufficient in a year like this when every voter is looking for somebody's head to "knock." It is work, not words, that the people demand this season—this off year, and the Reporter certainly hopes that Cole has a practical plan to do something for the state, for if we are to elect an old Populist county chairman for governor he must show very good evidence of repentance.

New Ulm Review: What a farce there is to the cry of "State development" as if it were possible for any one party or set of men to have a patent on anything of this kind.

Lake Crystal Union: There are Republicans that are saying some ugly things about the head of the state ticket.

Fairmont Sentinel: Said a prominent Republican the other day: "I am a party man, but when the Republican convention nominated for governor a man who left us in the trying times of '98 and came back only when the Democrats refused to honor him by nomination to the state senate, I believe I am excused. The party may discipline me for going to Johnson this year, but I rather guess not." Thousands and thousands of Republicans throughout the state take this view of the situation and will register their votes for Mr. Johnson's re-election.

Minneapolis Telegram: According to some papers, the Duluth convention was an "interest"-ing affair.

Northfield News: The political situation in Minnesota seems to be, as near as one can judge, about this: There are about 20,000 or 30,000 independent voters who will vote as they please regardless of the party lash or the federal machine. They will not be governed in their choice of candidates by political machinists, railroads or trusts or by the newspaper organs controlled by these agencies. This independent vote is the vote that will elect the next governor of Minnesota. Who will get it?

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: Red hair never seems to wear out.

When a man won't pay his bills promptly people suspect he is rich.

When a boy understands music it is a sign some one will have to support him.

It's the girl who snuggles up to a man that makes him sure there is no need of brains in a love affair.

A woman who flirts gets mad with her husband for doing the same thing, because she knows how far she goes, but has to guess how far he goes.

One Side of the Mouth.

New York Press: Did you ever meet a stranger who talked from one side of his mouth, usually in an undertone and with his eyes wandering while talking? The man's manner is not an indication that he is weighing his words or has something important to tell. It is almost a sure sign that he has spent years in jail. This manner of talking is acquired in prison, where conversation among prisoners is prohibited and where the men have to talk out of one side of their mouths in order to prevent the keeper from noticing that conversation is going on. The habit sticks to the convicts for years after they get out.

Unlucky.

When I was small some other kid
Could swing upon the door
Of some big van and stay there hid
And ride a mile or more.
But when I tried this it befell
That Fate was never kind,
For always some mean kid would yell:
"Mister, whip behind!"

And thus it is with larger graft
Now that I am a man,
When I evolve a sceme of craft
Or frame a foxy plan,
I ne'er can work the details out
As others do, I find
For some mean chap is sure to shout:

—Loulsville Courier-Journal.

The Shadows.

A joy danced gayly down the way,
Light as a wind-blown leaf,
Ah! strange that, as she passed, there fell
The shadow of a grief.

A grief crept sadly down the way
Scorned as Love's broken toy.
Yet, from her drooping wings she cast
The shadow of a joy.

—Smart Set.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Le Sueur News: Congressman Bede says it is Cannon, Fairbanks or Shaw for the Republicans in 1908. The people don't agree with you, J. Adam. They say it will be Roosevelt or Bryan, and they also say they will force tariff reform.

Hibbing Tribune: Another big crop is promised. That means a continuance of the strong demand for iron products and prosperity for the ranges. After all the agricultural country controls the commercial situation.

Bemidji Pioneer: It is a joke worthy of J. Adam Bede the way McCleary and other standpat congressmen are trying to get back into congress to misrepresent their constituents by pleading with the people to stand by Roosevelt. But the voters can't be fooled. They have been reading the papers and know that "me and Roosevelt" have not been pulling very well together as a team.

Alexandria Post-News: Many of our congressmen have discovered on returning home from the recent session that public sentiment for tariff revision has been growing in their absence. A declaration for revision or retirement to private life confronts them. Which will Congressman McCleary of the Second accept?

Fairmont Sentinel: We hope the prosecution against the ice trust which has been robbing the people of the large cities will be relentless and thorough; but do not forget, Mr. Attorney General, that there are other trusts which plunder the people every month in the year in every city and hamlet in the United States.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: The burden of the prayers of the sportsmen of the game sections of the state is that the coming legislature will legislate for the present state game and fish commission and all of its officers out of existence, and erect a law that will give the game protection.

Minneapolis Telegram: You cannot get out the vote by disgusting the people by the trickery of your political methods.

St. Peter Herald: The tariff should be revised by its friends, says the standpatter, and in the same breath avers that it should not be revised at all. As a consequence the revision process is always delayed until the people show signs of desperation, and then, sometimes, turned over to the enemies, just to give the obnoxious legislators to understand that the voters are yet a factor with whom it is well to reckon.

Aitkin Independent: Railroad lawyers acknowledge that they are finding the rate regulation law a puzzle. Nobody expected them to find it otherwise. That is what they are paid for.

Buffalo Journal: The people of Minnesota are badly in need of a La Follette to lead them in breaking loose from the machine which is worked by the lever at Washington.

St. Hilaire Spectator: There seems to be a growing demand upon the part of the voters to have legislative candidates inform the public what they intend to do after they are elected. A few pledges in advance won't hurt.

Deer River News: Time was, and not so long ago, that the man who advocated a direct vote of the people for their choice for senator was considered a crank. The world "do" move, however, and the crank of twenty-five years since has lived to see his ideas being indorsed by a majority of the voters, regardless of party affiliations. It's coming, brothers, and other good things we need, too.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Chicago News: Even a cheap man may be dear to some woman.

Are stolen melons, like stolen kisses, the sweetest?

Self-interest has shattered many a man's lofty ideals.

Nature would be ashamed to try to imitate some brands of art.

When an optimist gets the worst of it he makes the best of it.

What a lot of stitches men drop when they attempt to mend their ways!

It's pretty hard to be dishonest and good natured at the same time.

Money doesn't grow on trees, but much of it is obtained by grafting.

How scornfully a woman in an automobile can look at another woman in a buggy!

Charity should always begin at home, but there's no law compelling it to stop there.

It is hard for the man who enjoys three square meals a day to pose as a pessimist.

The wise young man keeps both eyes on the small boy with whose big sister he wants to face the parson.

Perhaps you may have noticed that when people promise you big things they always qualify them with a bigger "if."

Naturally, the man who hands a street car conductor a quarter and accepts 15 cents change doesn't think the world is growing better.

As to Initials.

Washington Post: The Albany Journal calls attention to the fact that the initials "T. R." stand for "true reform." They might stand for "tariff reform," also, but that appears to be more than his party will stand for.

WEATHER IS FAVORABLE

Farmers Claim Clover Hay Crop is Now Under Cover.

More Hay Put Up This Year Than Ever Before.

Better haying weather than this St. Louis county never had, and the farmers in the vicinity of Duluth have just about got their clover hay in stack or under cover. The haying season started in earnest about two weeks ago and, barring an occasional shower that did no damage, the weather has been bright and generally with a good breeze, making the conditions ideal for curing the clover.

The clover crop was well up to the average this season, in fact it is considered by some of the farmers as a little better in point of quality, as there was not so much wet weather during the growing season and the clover did not grow quite as rank as it did a year ago.

Hundreds of tons of clover have been cut, cured, and stowed away this year. The crop, generally, was heavier than in previous years, as there was a larger acreage cut over. In many localities the first hay crop was taken off new ground. Many of the farmers who are paying more attention to dairying and stock raising put up more clover than ever before in order to carry them over the coming winter months.

There still remains some timothy hay to be cut. The farmers claim that timothy can stand more rain than clover, so they are not worrying any from the thought of a wet spell following the dry sunshiny period. It is claimed that the timothy crop will also be somewhat larger this year than in former seasons, but the farmers are depending mostly on their clover crop. For winter feeding clover is considered more fattening for stock and more desirable for dairy cattle.

Owing to the lateness of the season, no silage will be put in this year in St. Louis county. The Jean DuLuth company expected to have ensilage for feed next winter, but owing to the rush of farm work and other building enterprises on the big farm on the East Duluth and Lester river road, the company has been unable to get its silo construction started. It is likely that the silo will be erected this fall and winter when the stress of work about the farm is not so great. The silo will be constructed of stone, and will be protected from frost by a gravel or dirt bank nearly surrounding it. The exposed surface will be inclosed in the new barn to be erected and the animal heat will, it is figured, prevent frost from reaching the ensilage from that quarter.

DROWNED AT CHISHOLM.

Rudolph Vinchiski Becomes Exhausted While Swiming in Longyear Lake.

Chisholm, Minn., July 31.—Becoming exhausted while swimming in Longyear lake near the old sawmill, Rudolph Vinchiski sank to his death yesterday morning at 10 o'clock.

He and Peter Homuga were swimming back and forth between the old boom and the shore. While going across for the fifth time, Vinchiski's strength gave out and though he was but twenty feet from shore he was unable to save himself. His companion tried to do so and was nearly drowned himself.

Vinchiski was 22 years old, of Polish nationality, and an employe at the Shenango mine.

SHOT HER EX-HUSBAND.

Shreveport, La., July 31.—Charles Attaway was shot and instantly killed yesterday at Blanchard, near this place, by his divorced wife, Mrs. Will Kent, Jr. Attaway, who was insane, went to Kent's home and demanded his child. Kent appeared on the scene and while he was wrestling with Attaway, Mrs. Kent secured a rifle and shot her former husband through the heart.

THE IOWA REPUBLICAN FIGHT NEARING CLIMAX, BUT PROBABLY NO SPLIT

ple are still confident that they control the situation, the Perkins following have not abandoned their position that they have or will have "a majority of the legally elected delegates."

The state committee yesterday decided by a vote of 6 to 3 to sustain the action of the chairman of the committee in notifying Governor Cummins that the seats of a number of delegates to the Republican state convention were contested. By the same vote, the action of Chairman Spence in calling the present meeting of the state central committee was ratified. In both cases it appeared the chairman acted upon his own responsibility. He received a petition from adherents of Perkins, giving notice that the seats of a large number of Cummins delegates were contested. The chairman thereupon sent notice of this fact to Governor Cummins.

The governor replied in a letter, denying the authority of the chairman of the state central committee to take up the matter of contests, asserting that he had no jurisdiction. The chairman, however, sent notices to several newspapers, calling the state central committee to meet in Des Moines yesterday to consider the contests. His explanation to the committee was that two or three of the members were in Des Moines at the time and, after consulting them and receiving their approval, he felt justified in taking the action he did, in order that the delegates, whose seats were contested, might have two or three days' notice more than they would have had if he had called the committee together and submitted to it the petition and the question of a call for yesterday's meeting. The vote of 6 to 3 was regarded as an indication that the committee intended to assume jurisdiction of the contests, and to hear the contestants and the Cummins delegates, in case the latter entered an appearance.

There are 1,640 delegates entitled to seats in the state convention from the ninety-nine counties in the state. When the committee met yesterday here were ten of the eleven members present. Thomas F. Bevington, an attorney, representing the friends of George D. Perkins, gave notice of contests in ten counties, involving 195 delegates, making 287 delegates objected to. As to the contests, the grounds alleged are "irregularities," and the accepting of Democratic votes for Cummins delegates. As to the protests, the objections were technical.

POSITIVE STATEMENT

That President Roosevelt Will Not Be Candidate For Renomination.

Peoria, Ill., July 31.—A positive announcement from President Roosevelt that he will not be a candidate for a third term, was made yesterday in a letter addressed to Mrs. L. A. Kinney of Peoria, by Secretary William E. Loeb for President Roosevelt. The text of the letter follows:

"White House, Oyster Bay, July 26.—Dear Madame: Your letter of recent date has been received and I thank you in the president's behalf for calling attention to the enclosed clipping. I would say, however, that the president has nothing to add to the statement issued on the night of election in 1904. His decision as announced at that time, is irrevocable."

MURDER NEAR BLACKDUCK.

Archie Campbell Killed by a Blow With a Mallet.

Blackduck, Minn., July 31.—Archie Campbell, 20 years old, wha has been employed in a camp near here for some time past, lies dead at Houpt, a small station seven miles north of here. His death was caused by a blow from a mallet, and Edison Bereman, a saloon keeper and proprietor of a hotel at Haupt, is charged with the crime. It is said Bereman made an assault upon Campbell while the latter was intoxicated. The two had exchanged angry words and Campbell, it is said, had threatened to "clean out" the Bereman place. Later when Campbell was about to enter Bereman's saloon he was struck on the head with a mallet. Bereman is under arrest.

HITCHCOCK FILES ANSWER.

To Suit Regarding Fees In Case of Cherokee Indians.

Washington, July 31.—Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock yesterday filed his answer to the rule recently issued against himself and the treasurer of the United States to enjoin payment of $150,000 fees to Finkelberg, Nagel & Co., of St. Louis, and Edward Smith of Vinita, I. T., in the case of Frank J. Boudinot, a Cherokee Indian. Secretary Hitchcock denies the jurisdiction of the court on the ground that the attorneys to whom the fee was to have been paid have not been made parties to the suit and, further that Boudinot's interest in that fee as a member of the tribe of Indians, will amount to only $5, which is below the pecuniary minimum of the court's jurisdiction.

DE LERY WANTS PAY

For Persuading Woman to Get Divorce Without Much Publicity.

New York, July 31.—Barton Sewell, vice president of the American Smelting & Refining company, was announced yesterday as defendant in a suit which Joseph Blasco De Lery has begun in the supreme court. De Lery, an inventor, claims Mr. Sewell owes him $27,250 for services he rendered in persuading the first Mrs. Sewell to get a divorce with as little publicity as possible, and without troubling a court to learn how many millions Mr. Sewell was worth. De Lery acknowledges that Mr. Sewell has paid him $2,750, but seeks the other $27,250, with interest from Oct. 1, 1904.

CITY TAKES FIRST STEP

Toward the Municipal Ownership of a Lighting System.

Engineer Is Asked To Furnish An Estimate On Its Cost.

The council last night made a start toward acquiring an electric lighting plant for the municipality, and passed a resolution introduced by Alderman Wilson of the First ward, calling on the city engineer to prepare an estimate of the cost of such a plant, complete in every detail, the voltage to be received from the Great Northern Power company.

This resolution was adopted but before it was so accepted, several amendments were tacked on. Alderman McEwen asked that an amendment be attached calling for an estimate on a steam auxiliary. He pointed out that the company might not always be depended on, and pointed out the break of yesterday in the gas service, which showed the necessity of an auxiliary system, which fortunately, the city has.

Alderman Wilson asked Alderman Burgess, who is an electrician, if the voltage as it will come from the power company, raw, as it were, will be fit for commercial lighting purposes or whether a converter would be necessary. He also asked if plants getting power from such sources as will Duluth, and those near Niagara, have steam auxiliaries.

Alderman Burgess, to the first question declared that it will be necessary to have a motor generator for the reason that the electric current as received from the power company, is designed for power only and not for lighting. The motor-generator, he said, will cost about $100,000 and the lighting companies on both sides of the bay are even now preparing to install them.

To the second question, Alderman Burgess replied that a steam auxiliary is absolutely necessary and every concern which will use the electric power here will keep its steam auxiliary ready in case of emergency. He said that the elevators and so forth, which he knows of, using the Niagara power, have steam auxiliaries, but he said he could not say as to all of them.

However, there were incorporated into the resolution clauses calling for separate estimates on a steam auxiliary and on a motor generator. Another resolution was then introduced by Alderman Wilson appropriating $1,500 or any part thereof for the purpose of hiring an expert electrical engineer to help the city engineer in doing the work. This was talked over for some time and it was finally amended by Mr. Burgess to read "$3,000," and so adopted.

Coincident with these resolutions was one authorizing and requesting the Duluth-Edison Electric company to furnish light to the city on the prevailing terms until September 1 or until the lighting question is otherwise disposed of, the present contract expiring today. After some talking and a few witticisms, this was adopted as it was found that if such authority and request was not given the electric company would have to shut off the light or take chances on getting paid for it.

Alderman Moore introduced a resolution authorizing the proper officers to advertise for bids for the lighting of the gas district by boulevard lamps, with the latest improvement, the city to have the option of from 300 to 500 lamps, and the bids to be for one, three and five years. This was adopted without debate.

A communication was received and read from the Zenith Telephone company, asking permission to set a line of poles on the southwest side of Piedmont avenue, from Fourth alley to Eighth street, and on the east side of Twenty-third avenue west, from First alley to Piedmont. A resolution was adopted allowing the poles on Twenty-third avenue west, from First alley to Twelfth street, after considerable debate, during which Alderman Moore declared that the Zenith Telephone company had ignored the request of the council committee to meet with it some time ago.

Another resolution adopted was that introduced by Alderman Haven, ordering that lights be kept burning at night on obstructions in the streets. He said that these obstructions are becoming a menace, and that lights are not kept on half of them.

* * *

D. M. Devore notified the council that he is about to begin an action against the city for $30,000 damages in behalf of one John Lind. It is claimed that on June 30 Lind was injured on East Fourth street, between Fifth and Sixth avenues east. It was stated in the notice that Lind had previously fallen from the Missabe ore docks and broken his leg. At this time he was convalescing, and was out walking on crutches with two friends. At the place mentioned his crutch went through a weak plank, he was precipitated to the ground and broke his leg again, necessitating lying up in a hospital for an indefinite period.

* * *

A communication from Contractor George R. King was read, in which he protested at the order to move the tar macadam mixing plant away from First avenue east and Michigan street. This had been done at the previous meeting of the council, at the request of numerous property holders there, on the ground that the smoke from the plant is a nuisance, and is destructive. Mr. King says that he is unable to find any other location for the plant, but since that time has added twenty-five feet to the stack of the plant, and he believes that this will alleviate the condition formerly objected to. The matter was referred to a committee.

City Engineer McGilvray made a report to the council on the proper width of tires on the pavements of the streets. He says that 750 pounds per inch may be carried on a tire, and gives the following as a proper schedule of widths of tires:

For three tons or less, a 2-inch tire; for from three to five tons, 3 1-3-inch tire; between five and six tons, 4-inch tire; between six and nine tons, 6-inch tire. He adds that such tires will be a benefit to the roadway rather than a danger.

REX MATTRESSES Inner-Tufted Felt Mattresses

This mattress is made in layers of Elastic Cotton Felt. Smooth surface, no tufts visible. Ticking is not punched full of holes. No outside tufts to collect dirt and vermin. Evenly elastic over entire surface. Constructed on scientific principles by improved method.

The following five claims of Superiority for the Rex (innertufted) Mattress will be sustained:

1st. CLEANLINESS. Its smooth surface can be swept clean as easily as one can brush a table cloth.

2nd. DURABILITY. Contains six times as many sustaining "tufts" as the old-fashioned mattress, and the two sheets of strong netting besides. Furthermore, the ticking or cover is not punched full of holes. It is practically indestructible.

3rd. COMFORT. Each and every square inch of its surface is equally soft and elastic—no hard spots, bumps or hollows.

4th. SANITARY. No creases, wrinkles or pits in which dirt can collect and vermin can find hiding places.

5th. ECONOMY. Costs the same as an old-fashioned Mattress made from materials of equal value. An occasional sun bath, a whisk broom (and the laundry in case of accident) will keep the Rex (innertufted) Mattress in prime condition for a life time. PRICE—$15.00

Beautiful Oriental Rugs.

Our assortment of Oriental Rugs is at all times very complete. We are showing upwards of 200 beautiful pieces and all sizes are represented—from the smallest mat to the largest room-size Indias. The economically inclined will find that it pays to buy Oriental Rugs at Bayha's.

The Fulton Folding Reclining Go-cart $9.00

Cut shows this little cart open and folded—the best thing in a Folding Cart on the market today—light, strong, easy running, folds up perfectly flat—can be placed in trunk if so desired—can be made into a sleeping cart for small child.

The Bohn Syphon Refrigerator.

On your dining table any warm day you can see illustrated the principle on which the Bohn Syphon Refrigerator is founded. Pour ice cold water in a glass and in a few minutes little beads of moisture form on the outside of the glass, having condensed from the warm atmosphere on the cold goblet.

In the Bohn Refrigerator the moisture in air condenses on the Syphon side of the provision chamber and on the ice, rendering the provision chamber interior so dry that matches may be kept in it indefinitely and still strike readily. This dryness, together with the extreme cold of the Bohn, keeps food days longer than any other refrigerator. The ice cost is the minimum, too.

Those who have read the magazine announcements of the White Enamel Refrigerator Company of St. Paul, have been surprised at the extreme statements made about the Bohn Syphon Refrigerator, but these do not seem extreme at all to those who own one of these remarkable ice boxes. Furthermore, we are here to back up to the minutest degree every promise that they have made about the service of the Bohn Syphon Refrigerator. We go so far as to permit the use of the refrigerator in the buyer's own home, extending the return privilege if the refrigerator proves unsatisfactory in any instance. These splendid, unequalled Refrigerators for sale only at Bayha's. Satisfaction guaranteed or your money back.

BELTRAMI'S FIRST ANNUAL FAIR

To Be Held at Blackduck at the End of August.

Bemidji, July 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first annual fair of the Beltrami County Agricultural and Livestock association will be held at Blackduck on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Aug. 29, 30 and 31.

A committee of Blackduck citizens have the preparations for the fair in hand and they are working energetically to make the initial meeting a success. The officers of the association are as follows: President, J. W. Irwin; vice president, A. M. Bagley; secretary, Dr. Waringer; treasurer, W. L. Brooks; directors, C. H. Miles, J. P. Duncalf; all of whom reside in Bemidji. The Blackduck citizens who will form the local executive committee are L. G. Townsend, chairman; J. C. Thompson, L. F. Parker, F. C. Hale, J. E. Dade, A. O'Kelleher, J. M. Reed, Jr., Harry Gillham, with C. W. Conway secretary.

The premium list includes liberal prizes for exhibits in livestock, poultry, dairy and fruits, vegetables, grains and grasses, canned goods and preserves, and ladies' fancy work.

The following have been designated to have charge of the various departments of exhibits: Department A. livestock, R. T. Praught and George Rancore, Blackduck; Department B. poultry, John Gilstad, Blackduck; T. J. Andrews, Bemidji. Department C and D, dairy and fruits, H. H. McDougal, Langor; George Esterbrook, Blackduck. Department E and F, vegetables, grains and grasses, C. E. Brown, Blackduck; Jack Clark, Oakwood. Department G, canned goods, Mrs. Charles E. Gustafson, Tenstrike; Mrs. R. F. Praught, Blackduck. Department H, fancy work, Mrs. M. P. DeWolf, Blackduck, and some Bemidji lady yet to be named. The association possesses no buildings as yet, but commodious quarters will be provided for exhibitors in buildings centrally located at Blackduck. No entrance fee will be charged exhibitors, and it is expected that there will be a large number of entries for the liberal prizes offered by the association.

In making up the program for the three days of the fair, the committees have designated the days as follows: Wednesday, Aug. 29, "Up-the-Line Day," being especially for people living along the line of the Minnesota & International railway north and east of Blackduck; Thursday, "Bemidji Day," when Bemidji citizens will attend the fair en masse; Friday, "Walker Day," and the Walker folks have already assured the fair management that they will be there in large numbers. Special low rates will be made on the railroads for those who desire to go to Blackduck during the fair, and it is the intention of the railway company to run special trains on "Bemidji" and "Walker" days.

There will be several special attractions along amusement lines secured for fair days, and there will be a ball game every day, together with a program of small sports and games. Visitors will receive every attention, and ample accommodations will be provided for the comfort of all who attend the fair.

NOTICE TO RAILROADS

Regarding Reports and Records Sent by Interstate Commission.

Washington, July 31.—A circular letter has been sent by the interstate commerce commission to all common carriers subject to the provisions of the recently enacted railroad rate law directing their special attention to the provisions of section 20 of the act, which requires annual reports from all common carriers concerning the details of their business, also providing that the interstate commerce commission may prescribe the forms of any and all accounts, records and memoranda to be kept by the carriers. To these accounts, records and memoranda the commission is to have access at all times and the carriers are prohibited from keeping their accounts, etc., in any other form.

MICHIGAN NATIONAL GUARD

Will Reach Fort Benjamin Harrison on Saturday Next.

Indianapolis, July 31.—This week marks the beginning of the summer maneuvers of the department of the lakes at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Brig.-Gen. William H. Carter, commanding. By Wednesday all of the regular forces assigned to Fort Benjamin Harrison will have arrived.

Next Saturday the Michigan national guard, commanded by Brig.-Gen. Charles W. Harrah, consisting of three regiments of infantry, one battery of artillery, one troop of cavalry, one company of signal corps, one company of hospital corps and one company of engineers will arrive. Immediately after the arrival of the Michigan troops, Brig.-Gen. Carter wil begin the work of instruction.

ILL TREATMENT ALLEGED

By American From Isle of Pines Going to Washington.

New Orleans, July 31.—Bearing complaints about alleged ill treatment of Americans on the Isle of Pines, a committee of two from that island arrived last night at Mississippi river quarantine station on their way to Washington to lay their complaints before the state department. One complaint says that a lumberman, whose home was formerly in Wisconsin, was recently hauled before a justice and fined because he filled a hole in a public road in front of his house. Another subject of complaint is the alleged ill treatment of Miss Millie J. Brown, the American girl who was recently released from prison by order of President Palma, after she had been convicted of violating a law regulating telegraphs.

An appeal to the United States for annexation is among the documents in possession of the committee, which consists of Capt. Miller of Chicago, who operates a steamboat line between the Isle of Pines and Cuba, and Mr. Sims, a Michigan man, with timber interests in the latter island. The steamer will not be released from quarantine and allowed to proceed to dock at New Orleans until Wednesday.

Jennings Bryan for president. Even at the Republican convention his name was freely mentioned, not with remarks of derision and scorn, but with words of praise, acknowledging his sterling worth as a citizen of the United States.

One of the most interesting contests of the convention will be the fight for state chairman. It is believed that B. S. Brynjolfson, who has had the office for several terms, will make a strong fight to be re-elected. Others prominently mentioned are: Charles A. McCann, editor of the Evening Press of Grand Forks, and one of the strongest editorial writers in the state, and Tracy R. Bangs, one of the leading attorneys of the state.

The fight for the nomination for governor has now narrowed down to two men, "Honest" John Burke of Devils Lake and Siver Serumgard of the same place. It is understood that neither Mayor Duis nor Mayor Greenleaf will accept the nomination, as both men claim that they owe their first duty at present to the cities of which they are the respective mayors. John Cashel, senator from Walsh county, and running again, having be endorsed by the Republicans, has withdrawn from the race, claiming that as chairman of the state drainage board he can best serve the state in that capacity, and as senator can best serve his party in the senate.

Chairman Brynjolfson said in an interview with The Herald correspondent that "there is no slate made up, and there will be none. The candidates for the head of the ticket will be selected according to their ability as speakers, and then the rest of the ticket will be made up by giving all parts of the state good representation. The people in this state are in a receptive mood, and if we nominate good, energetic men, and show the people that we intend to put up a good, hard fight, we will get their support."

In all but five or six of the smaller western counties the Democrats have nominated county tickets and expect to put a larger number of Democrats into office this year than in many years past. The split in the Republican ranks over several of the nominees has thrown many of the Republicans into the Democratic ranks, and many leading Republicans have openly stated that they will support the Democratic ticket if honest, clean men are put up. Although 12,000 votes is a large number to draw from the opponents it is believed that it can be done. The following published in the two largest Scandinavian Republican papers in the state is taken as a serious blow to the state machine:

"Two thousand votes divided among the different counties of the state would have been sufficient to have given the insurgents a majority in the convention at Jamestown. This clearly shows the sentiment in the state. People want a change, but they want more, they want reform. And as soon as the people are assured that the real issue is reform, then McKenzie and his henchmen have already seen their Waterloo. But what is to be done? Shall we without murmur acquiesce in what has happened and wait another two years for another battle, with the same results as this time? It will to a great extent depend on what the Democrats will do at their convention next month. If the Democrats will nominate good, popular men for the different state offices everybody who is against McKenzie and his gang ought to do his utmost to have them elected and in that way protest against the corrupt regime of the 'gang.' This was done in Minnesota two years ago, and it proved a blessing for the state. Why not do the same thing in North Dakota? The Democrats have not a great supply of well known statesmen to choose from, but nevertheless they have some men who are very favorably known all over the state and who would be an ornament to any office as well as a credit to the state. For instance, there is Siver Serumgard, of Devils Lake, an able and gifted Norweglan, whose integrity is above reproach. If the Democrats are sensible enough to nominate him as their candidate for governor, he could be easily elected. We are Republicans, but we consider it our duty to protest against what took place at the convention at Jamestown. We do not believe that the ticket which the Republicans have nominaed represents the choice of the people. The men who are on the Republican ticket are all nominated by the machine and are willing tools in the hands of corrupt corporations. Why not unite to defeat them at the election next fall? If the Democrats are prudent in their selection of candidates and nominate able, honest and reliable men for the different state offices, in that event we shall for once render our help for their election."

AUGUST IS COMFORTABLE.

Average For New Month is Reassuring as Regards Temperature.

August, on the basis of the average for the month during thirty-five years, promises well, although the weather bureau warns everybody not to take its table of averages as a forecast. The nomal temperature for the month is 68. The warmest August on record was that of 1878 which had an average temperature of 70; and the coldest was in 1903 when the average temperature was 60. The highest temperature registered on any August day was 95 on the twenty-fifth, 1888; and the coldest was 40 on the thirty-first, 1886.

In the matter of rainfall the general average for the month is 3.44 inches and the average number of days on which at least a fraction of an inch falls is thirteen. The rainiest August was that of 1889 when 7.87 inches fell, and the least precipitation was in 1888 when only .52 inch fell. The greatest amount of precipitation in any twenty-four consecutive hours was on the second and third, 1888, when 2.82 inches fell. The average number of clear days during the month is ten; of partly cloudy, thirteen; and of cloudy, eight.

The prevailing winds are from the northeast and the average hourly velocity is 7.4 miles. The highest wind of the month was on the nineteenth, 1904, blowing fifty-one miles per hour from the northwest.

FAST ATLANTIC SERVICE.

St. John, Nfld., July 30.—Premier Bond's declaration Saturday at the official luncheon to Earl Grey that he expected the consummation of a fast trans-Atlantic ferry scheme within a year refers to a project supported by British, Canadian and American capitalists for a weekly service of 18-knot steamers between England and Newfoundland, the passengers going and coming from Canada and America across Newfoundland by rail. The project will be presented to the legislature for approval at the next session.

GAMES TODAY.

Duluth at Fargo.
Houghton at Calumet.
Lake Linden at Winnipeg.

Fargo, N. D., July 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The White Sox fell yesterday afternoon before Fargo's reorganized bunch of ball tossers. The new men injected some ginger in the game and bunched opportunely on Cummings for four earned runs out of five credited to the locals.

As a result of the elimination of Grand Forks and Hitchcock from the league, Fargo has seven new players on the pay roll. Captain Stripp, Outfielders Mehl, Smith, Edwards, Pitchers Hanson and Boyle and probably First Baseman Dolan are down and out.

The new men showed up well yesterday, all getting hits except Hanrahan, who has been signed for left field and played second in the absence of Grogan.

Foster certainly won a happy home by a robbery of a three-bagger from O'Dea's bat in the ninth. It was a sensational catch and excited the fans to a high pitch.

McMillan was wild for Fargo, his liberality extending to seven gifts and he also a man and made a wild pitch. His wildness in the first forced a run.

He seems to have stolen Finnegan's rabbit foot, however, and got out of some tight places by the good work of his team mates.

Dolan did not have an out till the sixth inning.

Stewart's work behind the bat excited favorable comment. He got a difficult foul, caught two men going down to second and made two hits and one of the scores.

Duluth's run in the first was forced, McMillan giving three bases and hitting a man. In the second a hit, stolen base, fielder's choice and Hanrahan's error scored another. In the third Dulutth hit for three singles, two of them on the scratch order, and got one man across.

Two two-baggers and two singles gave Fargo two in the second, two singles and Fitzgerald's long two-sacker gave two more in the fourth and in the eighth a single, Helding's wild throw to first and a long fly to center scored another.

ARISTOCRATS WIN.

Take an Exciting Pitchers' Battle From the Houghton Giants.

Calumet, July 31. — (Special to The Herald.)—Foulkes and Barry had a pitchers' battle yesterday and Foulkes won out through the ability of his team mates to bunch hits on the big Houghton southpaw. Foulkes held the Giants at all times and they were never in serious danger of scoring. He was given perfect support and was mighty stingy with his passes, allowing only one and that in the ninth inning.

Barry was a little wild, but his wildness didn't cost him anything. Three Aristocrats bunched hits in the sixth inning for one run and the visitors couldn't tie the score, although they came dangerously near it in the ninth inning.

PLAY TIE GAME.

Winnipeg and Lake Linden Contest Called at End of Ninth.

Winnipeg, Man., July 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Maroons and Lake Linden played a tie game last evening, the contest being called at the end of the ninth inning on account of darkness. The game was a fast exhibition, and three double plays pulled off by the visitors kept the Maroons' score down. The score:

Players and Umpire Fined.

New York, July 31.—President Harry C. Pulliam of the National Baseball league last night announced his finding in the cases of the players, Pietz of Pittsburg and McGinnity of New York, who recently engaged in an altercation at the Pittsburg ball park. McGinnity is fined $100, and suspended until Aug. 6. Pietz is fined $50, but his suspension is lifted today. President Pulliam also unexpectedly fines Umpire O'Day $50 for not preventing "the disgraceful affair."

RACING AT CLEVELAND.

Ann Direct, the Favorite, Winner of the M. & M. Stake.

Cleveland, July 31.—Even without pool selling the opening day of the local grand circuit races attracted a crowd of over 8,000 to the track. The M. & M. stake of $10,000, transferred from Detroit, proved the principal attraction. There were twelve starters, Ann Direct being the favorite in the pools sold in Newburg, outside the Cleveland city limits. Brilliant Girl won the first heat in 2:11¼, the fastest heat of the race, but finished lame, and Ann Direct won the next two heats and the race, second money going to Brilliant Girl, and third to Kenneth Mac.

The first race, the 2.08 pace, was won by Hal C, a Cleveland horse, he taking the first and third heats, the second going to Black Pet, who was distanced in the last heat.

The 2:08 trot was won easily by Mainsheet, while Ruby Kip won the 2:10 pace in straight heats, reducing his record from 2:10¾.

LARGE LIST OF ENTRIES

Seven Crews in Senior Four Oared Race at St. Catharines.

Five Crews Will Take Part in the Intermediate Event.

Seven crews will be entered in the senior four oared race at St. Catharines, in which the Duluth crew will take part, and there will be five entries in the intermediate event.

The entries in the senior four oared race are: Duluth Boat club, Argonaut Rowing club of Toronto, Don Rowing club of Toronto, Fort William Rowing club, Ottawa Rowing club, Celtic Rowing club of Buffalo and Detroit Rowing club.

In the intermediate four oared race, the Duluth, Ottawa, Detroit and Buffalo crews will be entered, and also the winner of the junior four oared race, in which the Argonauts, Ottawas, Dons and Celtics are entered.

The Fort William four oared crew is the same as that which was sent to Lake Minnetonka.

There are only three entries in the senior eight oared race, all of them being from Toronto. The Argonauts have two crews entered, and the Toronto Rowing club has one.

There is apparently a dearth of entries in the sculling events and Eph McGee of the Toronto Rowing club is looked upon as a probable winner. Selby Henderson of Winnipeg is also entered in the junior, intermediate and senior singles.

The crews have not yet assembled at St. Catharines, and no dope concerning the weight and speed of the men is available. There is no doubt, however, but that the Duluth crew will be up against some of the best oarsmen on the continent. Such organiaztions as the Argonauts, the Toronto Rowing club, the Celtics and the Detroit club are known too well in rowing circles to turn out second rate crews.

VERY MESSY GAME.

Coppers Know Even Less of Baseball Than News Tribune Team.

In an exceedingly sloppy game of baseball, the aggregation representing Duluth's morning sheet defeated the policemen's team yesterday afternoon at Athletic park, by the score of 15 to 13.

The game very closely resembled a contest between the "Little Bluebells" and the "West End Demons," with the exception that the latter team occasionally plays baseball.

It simply went to prove that the coppers knew less about baseball than the printers did, although this statement seems almost libellous.

A week from Sunday the Herald baseball team is planning to give the News Tribune crowd a short, but very instructive lesson in the art of playing baseball.

Clothier Defeated.

Boston, July 31.—Karl H. Behr of Yale defeated William J. Clothier of Philadelphia in the finals of the Longwood Cricket club's tennis tournament yesterday in straight sets, 6-1, 8-6, 6-4. Behr today will meet William A. Larned, the former national champion and present holder of the Longwood cup, in the challenge round. The Yale player caught the former Harvard expert off his guard at the beginning of the match, and, try as he could, Clothier was unable to regain control of his strokes.

Tennis Tournament.

Minneapolis, July 31.—Play in the Northwestern tennis tournament began yesterday, only three matches being played off during the day. Results: H. M. Jones, Minneapolis, defeated S. Moulton, Minneapolis, 10-1, 6-1. Trafford Jayne, Minneapolis, defeated Dr. Bates, Grand Forks, N. D., 6-0, 6-4. Ward Burton, Minneapolis, defeated Sam Thompson, Minneapolis, 6-2, 6-3.

Tennis at Kenwood.

Chicago, July 31.—Nat C. Emerson, the Ohio champion, and L. H. Waidner, Illinois champion, yesterday defeated Kreigh Collins of Chicago, and R. G. Hunt of California in a dogged contest for the Western tennis championship in doubles at the Kenwood Country club courts. L. H. Waldner and N. C. Emerson will meet today in the finals for the single championship.

DONAHUE ACQUITTED

But Walsh Convicted of Illegally Fencing Government Land.

Helena, Mont., July 31.—The jury in the case of W. J. Walsh and Michael Donahue, who for the past ten days have been on trial in the federal court on the charge of having illegally fenced 11,500 acres of government lands in Magher county, yesterday brought in a verdict finding Donahue not guilty, but holding Walsh responsible for the erection of the fence. The jury recommended Walsh to the clemency of the court. Walsh was ordered to appear for sentence Monday next. Donahue was formerly general manager of Marcus Daly's interests in Montana, but is now a resident of San Francisco.

ORDER OF HIBERNIANS

Officially Represented at American Federation of Catholic Societies.

Buffalo, July 31.—At yesterday's session of the American Federation of Catholic Societies, the committee on resolutions announced that it had decided that resolutions would be presented to the convention dealing with divorce, socialism, immigration and the condition of the Catholic church in France.

Delegates from the Ancient Order of Hibernians received credentials to sit in the convention. This is the first time this body has been officially represented.

COREYS ARE DIVORCED

Wife of President of Steel Corporation Granted a Decree.

Question of Alimony Not Mentioned, Settlement Having Been Made.

Reno, Nev., July 31.—Mrs. William Ellis Corey, wife of the president of the United States Steel corporation, was awarded a divorce in the Second district court of Nevada, sitting at Reno, at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The case was submitted without argument, and the jury took but one ballot. It was out but a few minutes.

Mrs. Carey was in tears when told that she had been given a divorce and the custody of her 16-year-old son, Allan Corey. She drove at once to her home on Riverside avenue, where she says she will continue to reside. No evidence was submitted by the defense, and there was no argument.

The question of alimony was not introduced. Mrs. Corey made an interesting admission, however, touching upon this phase of the case, stating that in May, 1906, several weeks before her petition for divorce was filed, she negotiated through her attorneys for a financial settlement with her husband. She was not asked what the nature of this settlement was.

"I am a resident of Reno, Nev.," said Mrs. Corey, when placed on the stand, "and the wife of William Ellis Corey, the defendant in this action. We were married on Dec. 1, 1883, at Pittsburg, Pa., and lived together until May 1, 1905. At that time my husband deserted me and went to New York. I followed him and held a conversation with him in the Hotel Lorraine. It was there that he told me that he had decided to live apart. He said that it was impossible for us to live happily together, and that I would never see him again. He stated that he intended going to Europe for several months. There was no scene. I talked with him about the matter and urged him to again resume his place in our home, but he refused. I have never seen him since."

Mrs. Corey stated that she came to Reno for her health, and that she had no intention of bringing an action for divorce at the time she took up her residence in Nevada. She stated that she selected Reno upon the advice of her sister-in-law, Miss Addie Corey, that they considered this place their future home and expected to live here in the future. She stated that she was best suited for the custody of her son, and asked the court to place him in her care.

Mrs. Corey was very much affected while telling her story. She testified without evasion and in a clear voice. Her attorney feared she would collapse, as her health has suffered since the separation.

In an opening statement by her attorney, J. R. Redding of New York, he said she had been driven to a separation and the divorce proceedings by the sensational newspaper stories.

"Is it true that newspaper notoriety was the particular factor in your separation from Mr. Corey, and is responsible for this divorce proceeding?" asked Benjamin Turler, another of her attorneys."

"Such is not the case. The stories that may have appeared in the press had nothing to do with it," said Mr. Corey.

Miss Addie Corey, sister of the respondent, was an interesting witness. She corroborated Mrs. Corey's statement that Corey had deserted his wife and told how she and her aged mother had made several ineffectual attempts to effect a reconciliation. Her brother, she said, had lost sight of his home, being absorbed in business and infatuated with fast life.

"Do you consider Mr. Corey a proper person for his son?" she was asked.

"I do not," she replied.

"Why?"

"For the reason," she said, "that he is not a proper person for his son to associate with. He has no home and his associates are not fit companions for a young man of Allan's age."

"I do not think any New York man is fit to have charge of a boy of his age."

"Do you mean all New York men, Miss Corey?"

"I mean wealthy New Yorkers."

Allan Corey stated that, at the time of the parting, his father called him to his office and told him that he had decided to part from his mother. "He said I was too young to understand the reasons. He then said that my mother was a good woman and that my place was at her side."

Several witnesses were introduced to establish the residence in Nevada of the plaintiff, all being citizens of Reno.

At the conclusion of the trial, Attorney Sardis Summerfield of Reno stated that his client, William E. Corey, was as anxious for the decree of divorce as his wife. "If the decree is granted," he said, "Mr. Corey will be entirely satisfied. He has consented to the divorce. This understanding between Mr. Corey and the attorneys of Mrs. Corey was reached some time ago."

T. R. Chadbourne of Pittsburg also appeared for Mr. Corey, who was not present.

SEARCHING INQUIRY

Ordered by the Kaiser Into Case of Alleged Bribery.

Berlin, July 31.—Emperor William has ordered a searching investigation into the case of Maj. Fischer, who was attached to the headquarters staff in German Southwest Africa and who has been arrested on the charge of receiving bribes from a firm selling supplies. It appears from details published this morning that Maj. Fischer had been receiving money for years from the firm which has the monopoly of supplying the colonial forces in German Southwest Africa. This money was given nominally as loans, and according to the press reports, the total of the sums is $25,000.

Information of the foregoing state of affairs was given to the authorities by the wife of the head of the firm in question, who is living separated from her husband. According to press reports, the firm has charged the government a high price in order to get the money given to Fischer. The contracts of this firm were attacked during the recent session of the reichstag because of the high prices. The government defended them on the ground that the firm in question was the only one having an adequate organization to supply the troops.

Lagering

Lagering or ageing (storing for maturity) has much to do with the quality and healthfulness of beer. With our

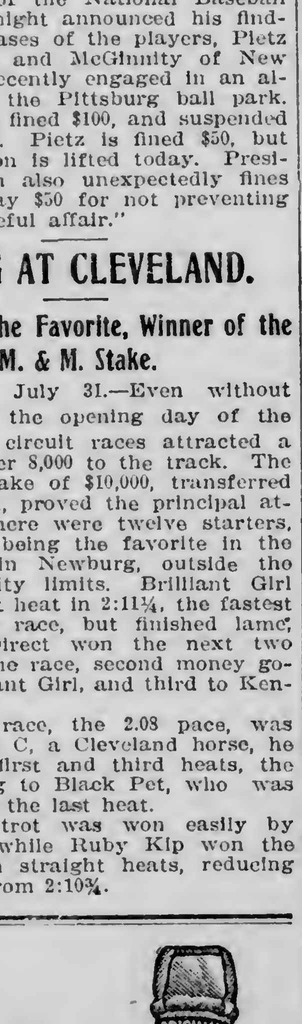

Storing Capacity of

A Public Duty and Its Performance

If you personally owned the entire equipment and personally controlled the entire organization of the American Cigar Co.—

And if you used this equipment and knowledge to produce cigars exclusively for your own smoking—

You could make no better cigars nor make them more carefully than we are now making them for you.

We believe that the possession of the largest equipment, organization, resources and business ever known in the cigar industry, binds us to a public duty to give the public the best cigar possible to make. Furthermore,

It is Good Business Policy

We are good enough judges of human nature to appreciate the fact that meritorious service is the best and most permanent foundation for commercial success.

If we give better cigars at lower cost than can be given by any other manufacturer, we shall secure, by perfectly logical and common-sense methods, what is virtually a franchise from the public to supply it with its cigars.

A franchise based upon public preference is stronger and more enduring than any that can be secured by legislative enactment, and it is this sort of franchise, obtained in this way, that we are after.

Gaining Success by Deserving It

Cigar smokers know what they want. Taste is constantly improving, demanding better goods all the time. There is no way of forcing people to purchase any brand of cigar which does not appeal to them on its own merits.

From the beginning, we have devoted the entire force of this organization and equipment to the problem of improving cigar quality and lowering cigar cost.

THE "TRIANGLE A"

Stands for Honest Cigar Values

An "All-Around" Production

The products of our various factories include every variety of cigars—from the little cigar such as the "Royal Bengals" to the highest type of "Seed and Havana."

An important advantage in this comprehensiveness of output lies in the power it gives us to grade our tobacco very accurately. This assures unvarying uniformity—a feature much appreciated by the discriminating smoker.

The tremendous improvement in quality, due to our new and exclusive processes of curing, blending and ripening American grown leaf, extends through our entire line.

These processes are performed in our own gigantic "stemmeries." They have superseded the old, crude haphazard methods which have been followed with blind devotion since the days of Sir Walter Raleigh.

These scientific processes have improved the domestic cigar at least 100 per cent., giving a "mellowness," mildness, freedom from bitterness and a developed fragrance to our 5c. cigars, for example, which were by no means common even in the 10c. cigar a few years ago.

An Unbroken Line of Successes

This improvement has been demonstrated to the smoking public with ever-increasing emphasis by the appearance of brand after brand of cigars selling at 5c. possessing a superiority which has made them instantly popular and permanently successful. These are of different brand-names and different characteristics, but are all marked with our "▲" (Triangle A) merit-mark and possess the fundamental qualities of fragrance and "ripeness" for which the "▲" (Triangle A) stands unerringly.

This "▲" merit-mark appears on the front of every box containing such cigars, and may be accepted implicitly as a guarantee of mellowness, "smoothness," quality, fragrance and uniformity of character.

The NEW Cremo Victoria Size-5¢

The latest "▲" (Triangle A) production is "The New Cremo" in Victoria size at 5c. which, perhaps better than all that have preceded it, exemplifies the immense improvement that has been effected by our experiments and equipment.

Our purpose is that our organization and resources shall always be used to the increasing betterment of cigar quality and to the lowering of cigar cost.

AMERICAN CIGAR COMPANY, Manufacturers

OUTLINES POSITION

Company Claims Dardanelle Homestead Application Was Genuine.

But Was Not Made by Father of Minor Heirs.

John G. Williams, attorney for the Clark Iron company, in opening the argument for the defense in the Clark mine case, yesterday afternon took the position that the defendants believe that the soldiers' additional homestead entry on which the Clark mine property was located, was made in the Dardanelle, Ark., land office in July, 1857, by James M. Rogers, a Union soldier who was not the father of the minor heirs now attempting to secure title to the land.

This was not the only claim of title put forth by the defense, however, their general position being set forth in the following outline:

"First, that Mr. Freed, the Dardanelle land office register, testified falsely.

"Second, it must find that some man attempted to defreaud the United States government.

"Third, it must find that the applicant perjured himself knowingly.

"Fourth, it must find that the military record of James M. Rogers was manufactured.

"Fifth, it must find that the manufacturing of the military record was done by the department at Washington, D. C. This must be done on the assumption of corruption at Washington, which is denied by the fact the Willis claim was rejected on the ground it could not be verified, or that the military record is found to agree with the record of some other James M. Rogers. In the latter case the name used must have been that of the Rogers with the military record.

"Sixth, the court must find that the application was not that of another James M. Rogers. It is only necessary for the court to find a mistake made in describing the original homestead entry either by accident or with a purpose. One position must rest on fraud, forgery and perjury at Dardanelle, and fraud in the department at Washington, no suggestion of which is in evidence. The other position, as satisfactory is that the mistake in the description of the original homestead was by accidental use by the applicant."

Mr. Williams claimed that the testimony of L. W. Wolcott, secretary-treasurer of the Clark Iron company, recited all the facts in the case. He insisted that it was hardly fair for the minor heirs to set up a case on two theories, whether or not the original entry was made by the ancestor of the plaintiffs.

Mr. Williams said he had seven reasons that establish the defendant Clark Iron company's claim of title.

"We believe," said he "that anyone of those six reasons would have defeated the plaintiffs before the settlement and which will defeat them now."

Mr. Williams outlined the legal position of the defense as follows:

Plaintiffs' ancestor was not entitled to a soldier's additional homestead, did not apply for same, and is not the patentee of the lands in controversy, and the plaintiffs have no interest therein.

Should the court find the plaintiffs' ancestor to be the applicant, the evidence is undisputed and sustains a finding that he sold his right, and that the lands in question were located with the scrip by James H. Baker, remote assignee of the applicant, and the plaintiffs have no interest in said lands.

Upon the locating of the lands in question by James H. Baker and the issuing of the patent thereon, the full legal and equitable title thereto became vested in Baker, and no estate or interest, legal or equitable, therein, ever vested in the plaintiffs' ancestor, and the plaintiffs have no interest in the lands.

Even if the plaintiffs' ancestor had a valid right to a soldier's additional homestead and was deprived of it by fraud, and the same was located in the lands in question by James H. Baker, as shown in this case, yet under the evidence, the measure of relief the plaintiff would be entitled to, even against Baker, would be the value of the right at the time it was located, with legal interest from that date. Their ancestor was deprived of no right, and the plaintiffs can recover nothing.

Independent of any other defense, there can be no recovery by the plaintiffs in this case, because under the disputed evidence all the defendants are purchasers in good faith and for value; in reliance upon a perfect record title, and in like good faith and upon like reliance have for many years been in the exclusive possession of the lands, have paid all taxes imposed thereon, and have rendered the same valuable by their enterprise, industry and a great expenditure of money, and it is inequtable that they now be deprived of their property.

The defendant Clark Iron company is, and ever since the conveyance to it in June, 1892, has been, the owner of a perfect title to the lands in question, under the proceedings to enforce the collection of taxes levied thereon for the year 1883, introduced in evidence in this action, and the plaintiffs cannot recover.

Independent of any or all of the foregoing defenses, the plaintiffs cannot recover in this action, for the reason that any interest they might have had in the lands in question were duly conveyed to the defendant Clark Iron company by a deed dated May 28, 1903. That said deed was procured in good faith, the consideration paid therefor was adequate and the legal proceedings on which the deed was based were in all things in accordance with law and valid.

"The first thing to determine," said Mr. Williams, "is who's who."

He went into the matter of the Dardanelle land office entry, and declared the defendants have always doubted that the application and affidavit was made by the father of the minor heirs. Like Mr. Richards, he said it probably made little difference as to the outcome who really did make the original application.

Mr. Williams claimed that the minor heirs have presented three persons for the court to select the right James Rogers.

As to the "third man," Mr. Williams declared the plaintiffs maintained somebody impersonated their father, because the application and affidavit for a homestead entry at Dardanelle were forgeries. He argued that the plaintiffs had not established their father's signature by any authentic standard, that the heirs depended on the signature on the application of 1868, and deed of 1875, simply because the instruments are old ones, not because anybody saw him sign. Mr. Williams claimed there are four papers with signatures before the court to select a standard; two claimed to be forgeries and two authenticated only by claim of great age of the document. He insisted that the evidence shows Rogers signed his name half the time by "his mark."

Argument was made that it was preposterous to ask the court to declare there was an irregularity at the Dardanelle land office on such a showing as to signatures. Mr. Williams contended that if another set out to impersonate Rogers, he would be reasonably smart, that he would hardly sign the affidavit by one man and the application by another, in the same land office, on the same day. He argued that an impersonator would not have selected a Confederate soldier to perpetrate the fraud, when he knew it required an application from a Union soldier for a soldiers' additional entry.

"Oh, no, Mr. Richards," said Mr. Williams, "that impersonator was like Gen. Baker's 'spectre.'" Mr. Williams took the stand that the Dardenelle application was made either by the father of the minor heirs, or by a Union soldier entitled to make the additional entry. He maintained that any man who obtains a land patent other than by legal procedure is a thief and a defrauder; that the entry was made possible only for the defenders of the Union; that James Rogers was not in that class, but was a Confederate soldier.

Mr. Williams declared he was attempting to identify the real applicant as a Union soldier, one who sold his right, which finally fell into the hands of Gen. Baker.

Mr. Williams claimed that in the proceedings preceding the patent, it is necessary to find out who was the James M. Rogers that made the application. He argued that the printed form of applications were scattered all over the country, and the government required two things: First, the proof of the extent of that right, the number of acres the applicant was entitled to.

The additional homestead, it was argued, did not come because James M. Rogers had a homestead in Arkansas, but because he was a Union soldier in the Civil war, a class that the father of the plaintiffs did not belong to, as claimed by the evidence produced.

"In the absence of fraud or perjury, we find the applicant was a soldier," declared Mr. Williams.

"The father of these children was not a Union soldier. As soon as we mention a Confederate soldier, the plaintiffs bristle up. As soon as we mention Union soldier they claim it is immaterial. I don't see how the court can presume fraud.

"I don't believe the father of these children made the application and affidavit of July 1875. Poor man, he ought to be left to rest in peace without calumny."

Mr. Williams called attention to M. M. Freed's testimony that proof of military service was presented, and that it would have been impossible for the father of the plaintiffs to have presented such proof, a discharge that would pass muster with the department. He argued that the court must presume two things; either the father of the minor heirs perpetrated a fraud or the application was made by a Union soldier. He claimed there can be no doubt as to which the court must choose.

"I'll not claim that fraud was attempted at this Dardanelle office," said Mr. Williams. "It was proven to the satisfaction of the department that the James M. Rogers who applied was a soldier. The Willis application in the same batch failed; but the rest including Rogers' application went through. Why did the Willis application fail? Because there was no proof of military record.

"Who then was the patentee? Their father? No, not under the proof.

"I am confident that the James M. Rogers who got the patent was a Union soldier, honorably discharged, whose proof passed muster."

As to the second legal point Mr. Williams claimed if the James M. Rogers made the application he sold his right and no benefits could accrue to his descendants, that who ever made application sold the right, the papers passed and the lands were located under them by James H. Baker.

On the third point of law Mr. Williams claimed there can be no doubt that the papers were sold to Freed when the application was made, that they were sold by Freed to Gilmore, and by the latter to Baker, who located on the land. He went at some length into the legal phase of this point and quoted authorities on the subject of consignment of rights.

Mr. Williams argued that Gen. Baker bought the papers, located the land and the government issued the patent to the man who made the deal in the land office. He claimed that man was James H. Baker, in whom the title rested. He argued that James H. Baker, owning the scrip on which the land was located, was entitled to the title of that land, that the fact an arbitrary rule injects into consideration another man who has no equitable claim, cannot hold good under the Minnesota statutes.

Mr. Williams argued that if Rogers or his heirs were so appalled at the alleged fraud on the part of Freed, good citizenship demanded that they take steps to have the government act toward attempting to regain its domain rather than soil their hands by attempting to seize the fruits of the fraud.

The court adjourned until 9:30 o'clock this morning.

TO BUILD AT BEMIDJI.

Duluth Company To Erect Two-Story Brick Building.

Bemidji, Minn., July 31.—The Fitger Brewing company of Duluth, through its attorney, P. C. Schmidt of Duluth, has purchased lot 1, in block 2, being the property lying on Third street between the Lumberman's bank and the Campbell saloon, the consideration being $2,800, for the fifty feet. Mr. Schmidt states that the brewing company will erect a two-story brick building on the lot, work on which will be commenced as soon as the levels can be taken, the plans drawn and the contract let. The erection of this building will entirely cover that portion of the block which has not been rebuilt since the fire a year ago destroyed several adjoining buildings.

GRAND MARAIS HERO.

May Be Honored by the Carnegie Hero Commission.

The Grand Marais Herald says: George A. Campsey, special agent of Carnegie hero fund commission, came in on the America Friday night to investigate the case of Archie Jackson, who it will be remembered risked his life to save his younger sisters and baby brother from the fire that destroyed their home last fall. The commission's attention was called to the matter by a Mr. Hansen of Duluth, a stranger to the family, who read in the Herald an account of the boy's heroic conduct. Mr. Campsey spent Saturday investigating the case, and went to Port Arthur Sunday night, but gave no intimation of what action might be taken in the matter.

Explaining the working of this commission Mr. Campsey says that the financial basis of its operations is the revenue received from a $5,000,000 appropriation by Andrew Carnegie. This fund is invested in lands and in bonds and the income, which is, in exact figures, ninety cents a minute, is used awarding medals of honor for life-saving heroism. The medals are of gold and silver, but occasionally a monetary award, not exceeding $100, is made.

Special Agent Campsey's time is wholly occupied in this work, which calls him to all parts of the United States. He has been four months on this trip, working westward from Pittsburg, his headquarters. He will go to San Francisco to investigate the many cases in connection with the recent destruction of that city that deserve the hero commission's attention.

CHOLERA DUE TO FLIES.

Washington, July 31.—The outbreak of cholera in the Philippines is due to the unusual number of flies in the islands, according to a dispatch received by the bureau of insular affairs. In the opinion of Dr. Heiser, the head of the bureau of health in the islands, the flies are chiefly, if not wholly, responsible for the spread of the disease and he is urging a general war upon the pests.

STOLYPIN SUCCEEDS

Considers Reorganization of the Russian Cabinet Is Settled.

Count Heyden and Other Octoberists Have Accepted Office.

St. Petersburg, July 31.—The Associated Press was informed from a high source, late this afternoon, that Premier Stolypin considers the reorganization of the cabinet to be an accomplished fact. The negotiations are terminated and the premier entertains no doubt of the acquiescence of the emperor with the conditions to which he has agreed, and an official announcement of the reorganization of the ministry may be made tonight or tomorrow.

St. Petersburg, July 31.—It is understood that the question of the reorganization of the cabinet is likely to be decided at a conference between the emperor and Premier Stolypin today. The premier has already started for Peterhof with the result of his negotiations upon the subject. A number of former Octoberists who declined to sign the Viborg manifesto have now constituted themselves into a party for the peaceful reconstruction of the ministry. Premier Stolypin agreed tentatively to certain conditions which they proposed, and thereupon a number of the Octoberists offered to accept offices in the cabinet.

The Novoe Vremya says this involves the retirement of M. Schechlovivoff, the minister of justice; M. Schwanebach, controller of the empire, and M. Kauffman, minister of education, and the entrance of Count Heyden as controller of the empire, Alex Guchkoff as chief of the department of trade and industry, Prince Nicholas Lvoff of Saratov as minister of agriculture, and Anatole Koni as minister of justice.

The program contemplates putting Liberal reforms into immediate execution, with the design of pacifying the people of the country and preparing the way for next year's douma. It involves an agrarian program looking to the appropriation of land in extreme cases for the purpose of correcting inequalities where the peasant lands have been divided and separated into private holdings, but maintaining the principle of the integrity of private property and the gradual abolition of exceptional laws. It provides for the abolition of the death penalty, except in the army and navy and in places where martial law supersedes the civil administration with military authority.

Premier Stolypin has given his first illustration of the modified policy of the government in dealing with the members of the douma, who have arrayed themselves against him. A week ago he directed the commencement of legal proceedings against those who signed the Viborg manifesto, then later he announced that the government intended to entirely ignore the action of members of parliament at Viborg, and now he turns again and announces that proceedings will be initiated, although he doubtless has no intention of forcing a trial. He will probably hold the prosecution of these cases over the heads of the accused to prevent them from becoming candidates for re-election to the douma.

Count Heyden, who has agreed to enter the Stolypin cabinet has been for a number of years one of the leaders of the moderate Liberal element in Russia upholding the autocracy but advocating a parliament. He is a marshal of the nobility of the province of Pskov. He presided at the famous zemstvo in Moscow in July, 1905, and was elected to the douma, where he became the leader of the Moderate Liberals in the lower house. He went to Viborg but refused to sign the manifesto.

Alex. Guckoff, who is slated for minister of trade and industry, has been a well known figure in Moscow life for years, but was first heard of prominently in politics at the second zemstvo congress of the present year. With M. Shipoff at he acted as Count Witte's intermediary in endeavoring to arrange an adjustment between the government and the Constitutional Democrats. Prince Nicholas Lvoff, the nominee for minister of agriculture, should not be confounded with the well known Prince George Lvoff, of Tula. Prince Nicholas Lvoff is a personal friend of Premier Stolypin. He acted with the Constitutional Democrats and was elected a member of the agrarian committee.

Paul Vonogradoff, the proposed minister of education, is a professor of the Moscow university, holding the chair of German history.

Senator Koni, who will probably assume the office of minister of justice, is one of the most eminent jurists in Russia. His home is in St. Petersburg.

The police this afternoon captured at a lodging house on Sadowaya street, five of the principal members of the executive committee of the social revolutionists. The men taken into custody were awaiting the arrival of their colleagues, preparatory to holding a full meeting of the committee.

THOMAS MORRIS IS NOW IN DULUTH

Masonic Grand Master Will Assist in Degree Work.

Thomas Morris of Crookston, Minn., grand master of Masons of the state, is in the city today, and will be present at a special communication of Palestine and Ionic lodges, A. F. & A. M., which will be held this evening at the Masonic Temple.

This is Grand Master Morris' first official visit to Duluth. He came here from Hibbing, where he was present at the laying of the corner stone of the new Masonic Temple last Saturday.

The Crookston man was given an automobile ride about the city this morning by J. T. Black, chief of the fire department, and was entertained at luncheon by Mr. Black and five other prominent local Masons, S. F. Frazer, John Cox, Charles A. Bronson, Fred Reynolds and W. D. Underhill.

WATER PLANT FOR KELLIHER

Small Lighting Plant May be Established in Connection.

Bemidji, July 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village of Kelliher will at once commence the preliminary work necessary to the establishment of a first-class waterworks system, and to that end has secured the services of M. D. Stoner of this city and C. W. Jewett of Blackduck to have charge of the work. A well will be dug at once. When the well is completed Mr. Stoner wil lascertain what kind of material will be the best for the class of well they may be able to establish and will recommend the purchase of the machinery, etc.

It is more than likely that a small lighting plant will be installed in connection with the municipal waterworks plant.

REACHES CLEVELAND.

Rockefeller Expects His Stay There Will Last Until Autumn.

Cleveland, July 31.—Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller reached Cleveland early today on the Lake Shore limited. They were driven directly to Forest Hill, their suburban home.

Mr. Rockefeller greeted the newspaper men, who had gathered at the union station, most cordially. He said he was glad to get back to his old home.

"Our stay in Cleveland," continued Mr. Rockefeller, "will last until the autumn, I hope; until our usual time for going east in October. It will be a little shorter than usual, owing to our trip abroad, but we hope it will be long enough to enable us to see a great deal of our friends."

ROOSEVELT TO THE POPE

Bishop Gabriels Conveys Message From the President to Rome.

Pope Pius Expresses His Love For the United States.

Rome, July 31—The pope today received the American pilgrimages conducted by the Rt. Rev. Henry Gabriels, bishop of Ogdensburg, N. Y., and John J. McCrane of Brooklyn, N. Y. The pontiff recalled that immediately after his election the first pilgrimage he received was composed of Americans, and was presented by Cardinal Gibbons.

The pope is enjoying excellent health.

Bishop Gabriels read an address, in which he said Catholicism was making rapid strides in the United States, due to the complete freedom which the church enjoyed, and the good will of the American civil authorities. Bishop Gabriels quoted President Roosevelt as saying to him, on learning that the bishop was to conduct a pilgrimage to Rome:

"Tell the pope that I send him my profound regards. I have tried to treat Protestants and Catholics alike, as my latest appointments show. I will try to perpetuate this policy. This republic will stand for many a century. I expect that there will be Catholic presidents as well as Protestants. I trust that they all will treat each other as I have tried to do."

The pope thanked the bishop most warmly, expressing his great love for the United States, and his very high esteem of President Roosevelt. The pontiff also presented the leaders of the pilgrimages with medals, and consented to be photographed in the group of pilgrims.

FREE LADIES' DAY.

White City Management Offers Special Inducement for Women.

Following the custom inaugurated by the large parks throughout the country, the White City management have decided on Thursday of this week, as "free ladies day," and from 2 to 7 p. m. no charge whatever will be made for ladies and children visiting the White City. Besides the band concert, by LaBrosse's Naval and Militia band, Pierro on the high wire, DeBoe, the head balancer, and Hershall's Dog Circus, a number of special features are being arranged for the children.

August 16, 17 and 18 have been set for the big log rolling contest which will be held at the White City for the championship of the Northwest, and famous log rollers from all over the country have already entered.

Eau Claire will be represented by John Murray, an old time roller, whose specialty is rolling a block 4 feet long and 24 inches in diameter and tiping it end over end in the water. John and Henry La Praire have entered from Cloquet. Joe Matrois, a full blood Indian, will represent Scanlon, Minn. Henry Peake and Charles Smith will represent Duluth. George and John Cowan will try to take the first prize for Superior.

The White City management has been corresponding with such noted rollers as John Long and Tom Dwyer of Cloquet; Albert Stewart and Mike Dugal of Minneapolis; John Pike of Grantsburg, Wis., and others who are all expected here. The White City management will hang up prizes of $100, $50 and $25 for first, second and third prizes. The contest will be held on the bay side of Oatka beach every afternoon and night on the dates mentioned. The toboggan slide, the chute the chutes, and the bath houses have been placed at the disposal of the visiting log rollers and will be used as a training ground by the contestants.

IRONWOOD MAN TO BE NOMINEE

Of Michigan Republicans For Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Detroit, Mich., July 31.—With the candidates for governor and lieutenant governor nominated at the primaries, several weeks ago, the Republican state committee met here today to select candidates for the offices on the ticket below that of lieutenant governor, and adopt a platform. All of the present state officials were scheduled to be renominated without opposition, and the only vacancies on the ticket are for state superintendent of public instruction and member of the state board of education.

L. L. Wright of Ironwood is conceded the nomination for the former office, and D. M. Ferry, Jr., of Detroit, is generally thought to be certain of the nomination for member of the board of education.

When the convention was called to order by State Chairman Diekema, there was only one issue in the air which promised to furnish any excitement, and that was a resolution to be offered by Congressman William Alden Smith, candidate for election as United States senator, to succeed Senator Alger, pledging the party to the principle of the nomination of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

Congressman J. W. Fordnay of Saginaw was temporary chairman of the convention, and he spoke in part as follows:

I do not believe there has ever been a time in its history when the Republican party could appeal with more confidence and with more justice for favor and indorsement from the people than it can this year.

And we stand, too, by what our party has done and is seeking to do. We will indorse and uphold with better reasons and greater faith than ever before that cardinal principle of Republicanism, the American protective tariff. We will stand by our demand that the currency put into the hands of our people shall be equal to the best used anywhere on earth.

Let us not be fooled by smooth figures of speech. Let us not mislead ourselves into calamity. With the United States attorney general continuing to inforce the trust laws we now have, competition will regulate the price of American made goods while the tariff will shut out cheaply made foreign competitive products. We must not sacrifice our princely home markets simply because we think it may cure the avaricious so-called trusts. In our efforts to legislate against real and imaginary corporate greed, we must carefully guard the rights of all men under the constitution. The fact should not be lost sight of that the railroads and manufacturing institutions, equally as well as our farms, make the backbone of our commercial supremacy and that they must be left secure in their rights. We must not be driven to hasty and unjust legislation by critics or theorists. The law will take care of the trusts, while the Republican party takes care of the American market and labor by maintaining a tariff that protects. Let's stand pat.

Our tariff laws, may and no doubt sometime will be revised, but when the time comes it should be done by the friends of protection and not by its enemies, and in this I believe the American people will at the proper time act wisely.

Republican administrations have been founded on great economic truths, the national workings of which, have brought this nation to the very flower of a prosperity which is as welcome as former poverty and panic were odious. And we will continue our struggle in behalf of conditions that will give opportunity to every American boy, equally to every citizen of our land, and will seek with ever-increased zeal to realize here among men the ideals of those from whose hands we have received our party banners, and from whose hearts and lips have come the inspiration that should guide us and will guide us in the right directions through all the years to come.

After the appointment of committees, the convention adjourned until this afternoon.

OUTBREAK AMONG SAILORS

At Helsingfors, and Two Officers Are Reported Killed.

London, July 31.—A special dispatch from Copenhagen reports an outbreak among the sailors at Helsingfors, Finland, during which two officers were killed. The mutineers, fully armed, afterwards proceeded to the building of the Laborers' association and were joined by Cossacks while on their way there.

Stockholm, July 31.—The Socialistic workmen of Finland are reported to have prclaimed a general strike.

AUTO HILL CLIMBERS.

The Contest Started With Over Thirty Cars Competing.

Crawford Notch, N. H., July 31.—Although the roads were still somewhat muddy, as the result of yesterday's rain, the weather was clear and bright today, and the automobile hill climbing contest, postponed from yesterday, was started with over thirty cars competing in the various events. The route for the climb was up the steep grade from the old Willey house to Crawford's.

The card for the hill climbing called for ten events, including a free-for-all for racing and stripped cars. The distance up through the Notch from the Willey house to the Crawford house is three and a quarter miles.

Event No. 8, for stock cars, costing over $4,000 and not more than $5,000, was won by Cote, driving a gasoline car; time, 3:04. Charles Burnham, driving a gasoline car, was second; time, 3:08 4-5. J. C. O'Brien with a 40-horse power gasoline car, was third; time, 3:37 3-5. W. W. Burke, with a 45-horse power gasoline car, was fourth; time, 4:01.

Event No. 3, for stock cars costing over $850 and not more than $1,200, went to Ernest Rogers, whose 20-horse power gasoline car was driven by H. E. Rogers; time, 3:11 2-5. H. J. Koehler, the only other entrant, was second, driving his own 22-horse power gasoline car; time, 4:00.

RILEY WATERS DEAD.

Former South Superior Man Passes Away Suddenly at Barnum.

Riley Waters, a farmer at Barnum, was found dead about forty rods from his house yesterday morning. He had started out but a little time before to look for his cows. Shortly afterwards his body was found, face down, where he had dropped and died apparently without a struggle. Up to the moment he left home he seemed to be enjoying the best of health. It is believed that Bright's disease was the cause of death, probably causing heart failure.

Mr. Waters was 59 years of age and leaves a wife, but no children. He formerly lived in South Superior and is well known at the Head of the Lakes.

C. F. KINDRED IS DULUTH VISITOR

Was Formerly One of Northern Minnesota's Prominent Promoters.

C. F. Kindred of Philadelphia, one of the most prominent characters in Minnesota before he went East to accept a high position with the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad company, is in the city today. Although he has a bunch of mail awaiting him at the Spalding, he had not registered there up to the middle of the afternoon, and an effort made to locate him elsewhere was unsuccessful.

Mr. Kindred was formerly one of the leading promoters of the Northern Minnesota and Dakota country. He was brought most prominently into the public eye through a sensational campaign against Knute Nelson for the United States senate, in which Senator Nelson won out. Mr. Kindred is reputed to have spent in the neighborhood of $150,000 in the campaign.

He had done much that was beneficial to Northern Minnesota, and played a leading part in the development of North Dakota. Valley City owes its existence and growth largely to the Philadelphia man, and he took a part in the upbuilding of several other towns of Minnesota and North Dakota.

WHEAT GOES OFF AGAIN

Prices Decline Everywhere—Last Day of July Option.

Flax is Fairly Active in Duluth, With Prices Lower.

Duluth Board of Trade, July 31.—Wheat closed lower in all the American markets today, after opening with a steadier tone. This was the last day of the July option, and by the same token the last day of the Duluth board of trade's crop year. A complete resume, with figures, will be given on this page tomorrow. The heaviest declines were in Minneapolis, New York and Kansas City, although in the latter city the July option was up. Local conditions affected this option. Favorable weather for crops in this country and a lack of any bullish reports from elsewhere were largely responsible for the decline. The Liverpool market was affected by the declines here yesterday and closed ½d to ⅝d lower today. Paris was ⅜c higher to unchanged, and Antwerp unchanged.

The July option closed ½c lower in Duluth, ⅝c in Chicago, 1¼c in Minneapolis, ⅝c in New York, ⅝@¾c in Kansas City and 1c in Winnipeg. Comparisons on the St. Louis July option were impossible. The September option closed ⅝c lower in Duluth, ⅜c in Chicago, ⅝c in Minneapolis and St. Louis, and ¾c in New York and Kansas City. The October option closed ½c lower in Winnipeg.

Corn was weaker, the September option in Chicago closing 1½c lower and in Liverpool, corn closed ¼d higher. September oats closed ⅜-¼c lower in Chicago, ¼c lower in Duluth, ⅜c in Chicago, ⅝c in Minneapolis and St. Louis, and ¾c in New York and Kansas City. The October option closed ½c lower in Winnipeg.

Car receipts at Duluth were 77, against 89 last year, and at Minneapolis 146, against 191 last year, making a total for the Northwest of 143, against 280 last year.

Primary receipts of wheat were 1,355,000 bus, last year, 1,116,000 bus. Shipments, 884,000 bus; last year, 769,000 bus.

Bradstreet's reports an increase of 1,516,000 in the world's visible supply of wheat. East of the Rockies, there was an increase of 4,316,000 bus, and in Europe and afloat a decrease of 2,800,000 bus.

Primary receipts of corn were 483,000 bus, last year, 340,000 bus. Shipments, 336,000 bus, last year, 363,000 bus. The world's visible supply of corn decreased 1,331,000 bus.

Wheat was quiet during the early part of the session of the Duluth market, but became active toward the close. Some Duluth No. 1 northern wheat was worked for export yesterday. July wheat was inactive at the opening, sold at 77⅝c during the session and closed ⅝c lower than yesterday at 76¾c. September wheat opened ⅛c higher at 75¼c, declined to 75⅛c by 10:15 o'clock, rallied to 75⅝c by 11, declined to 73¼c by 11:30, rallied to 75⅜c by 11:36 and by 11:55, had declined to 75¼c. It rallied to 75⅝c by 12:55, declined to 75⅛c by 1:07 and rallied at the close to 75⅜c, a loss of ¼c from yesterday. December wheat was inactive at the opening, sold at 76⅞c and 75¾c and closed at 75⅝c, a loss of ⅝c from yesterday.

Flax was fairly active during the entire session. The foreign flax markets were quiet and unchanged. July flax opened unchanged at $1.14, declined $1.13 and closed at that price, a loss of 1c from yesterday. September flax opened ⅛c higher at $1.12⅛, declined to $1.11½ and rallied at the close to $1.12, a loss of 1¢c from yesterday. October flax opened unchanged at $1.10¾, declined to $1.09⅝, rallied to $1.09⅝ and declined at the close to $1.09½, a loss of ¾c from yesterday.

July oats and oats to arrive and on track closed 5¢c lower; rye, 1c lower, and barley unchanged.

Following were the closing prices:

Wheat—To arrive: No. 1 Northern, 77c; No. 2 Northern, 75¾c. On track: No. 1 Northern, 77c; No. 2 Northern, 75½c; July, 76¾c; September, 75⅜c; May, 79¾c. THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Had a Steady Tone, All Offerings Being Taken.

Chicago, July 31.—Despite considerable selling by cash houses, the local wheat market had a steady tone today, all offerings being readily taken by shorts. The comparatively firm tone of the market at Liverpool, where prices showed only a slight loss notwithstanding the decline of over 1c here yesterday, was the main bullish influence. September opened a shade lower to a shade higher at 74⅝ to 74¾c, sold off to 74½c, and then advanced to 74⅞c. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 770 cars, against 902 cars last week and 773 cars a year ago.

For September the lowest point of the day was reached at 73⅝c. The market continued extremely weak all day. At the close the September delivery was off ½c at 74⅜@¾c.

Profittaking by several prominent longs caused weakness in the corn market. September opened unchanged to ⅛c up at 50⅞c to 51c, sold up to 51¼c and then declined to 50⅜c. Local receipts were 212 cars, with 77 of contract grade.

Prices continued to decline throughout the remainder of the day, the tone at the close being very weak. Final quotations on September were at the lowest point of the day at 49¾c, a net loss of 1¼c.

Oats were weak because of selling by cash houses. September opened ⅝c to ⅛@⅜c lower at 32@32⅛c to 32½c and sold off to 31⅝c. Local receipts were 253 cars.

Provisions were quiet and steady. September pork was off 5c at $16.90. Lard was down 2½c at $8.70. Ribs were 2½c lower at $9.02½.

Corn, 4; oats, 64; rye, 4; barley, 45.

Total of all cars, 315; cars on track today, 85.

Minneapolis Flour.

Minneapolis, July 31.—The flour market was lower. Patents are down 10c per barrel. Millers report a more favorable tone to the flour market. Buyers show more of a disposition to take hold, but are afraid of the market going lower, leaving them with high priced flour. Shipments, 39,882 barrels. First patents, $4.10@4.20; second patents, $3.95@4.05; first clears, $3.25@3.45; second clears, $2.50@2.60.

Minneapolis Wheat.

New York, July 31.—Close: Wheat—September, 80⅞c; December, 83½c; May, 85⅞c. Corn—September, 56½c; December, 55c.

Liverpool Grain.

Liverpool, July 31.—Wheat, spot, nominal; futures dull; July, nominal; September, 6s 5½d; December, 6s 6¾d. Corn, spot, quiet; American mixed old, 4s 9½d; futures quiet; September, 4s 6⅝d; December, 4s 7¼d.

The Cotton Market.

New York, July 31.—The cotton market opened steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 3 points on the old crop but 1@4 points higher on the new in response to steady cables and covering of shorts. After selling a point or two higher the market eased off under a bearish private crop report. Trading was quiet during the middle of the morning, with prices about net unchanged.

Cotton spot closed quiet; middling uplands, 10.90; middling gulf, 11.15. Sales 900 bales. Cotton futures closed steady; August, 9.95; September, 10.09; October, 10.22; November, 10.24; December, 10.31; January, 10.36; February, 10.41; March, 10.49.

THE PRODUCE MARKET.

The following prices, with the exception of those on hay, feed and meats, are the official quotations of the Duluth Produce exchange, and shippers can rely upon them as being correct. The list is corrected daily by the secretary, and it shows accurately the market condition up to 12 o'clock on the date of issue. The weekly market letter, published on Friday, is not an official statement of the exchange, but the information is gathered personally from the different dealers.

DEMOCRATS TO FIGHT.

Black River Falls, Wis., July 31.—The Democrats of this county, although in a hopeless minority, are intending to put up a good fight for the offices this fall. A county nominating convention will be held this week. For member of congress the slate has Will Wells, now mayor of Sparta, but as he was elected mayor last spring on a Republican ticket he is hardly considered a simon pure Democrat, although he was internal revenue collector under the Cleveland administration.

Therefore, C. F. Hille of this city is now preparing nomination papers for the office.

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Closing Was Firm and Near Top Prices of the Season.

Large Buying Carried United States Steel Up to 40.

New York, July 31.—With the exception of the United States Steel stocks, all of the prominent securities started higher in the stock market today than last night. Dealings were fairly active and well distributed. Northern Pacific rose a point, Pennsylvania, Copper and Smelting large fractions.

After the opening, prices advanced further unevenly. The transcontinental railroads, Pennsylvania, Copper, Smelting and Locomotive comprised the list of influential gainers of a point or more. At that stage of the advance the demand subsided and prices dropped back a fraction, Reading receding ½ below last night. Cleveland, C. C. & St. Louis preferred rose 2½ and United States Realty, Consolidated Gas and Colorado Southern 1½. Illinois Central and Sloss-Sheffield Steel lost a point.

A 5½ point recovery in Consolidated Gas from its drop in the passing of the Brooklyn Union Gas dividend was the only feature of the trading. Prices fluctuated narrowly with dull trading, but above the low point. American Ice, Chicago Great Western preferred rose 1, and Colorado Southern preferred 1¼. Bonds were irregular at noon.

Prices drifted idly on very meagre business during the lunch hour. A rise of 1½ in Sugar and a fall of 2 in Northwestern were the only distinguishable movements.

There were some large individual orders for United States Steel which lifted it a fraction. Kansas City Southern gained 2½, preferred and Hide & Leather preferred, 1¼, and National Lead and Colorado Fuel, a point. Interest was confined to these stocks.

Large buying carried United States Steel up to 40 and the general level of prices rose to the best again. Minneapolis, St. Paul & Soo declined 1. The close was firm and near the top.

Copper Gossip.

New York to Paine, Webber & CCo.: Local copper people are reporting a better demand from domestic consumers of copper, who have not booked orders for the last three months of the year in any great amount. It is the opinion in several quarters that with the probable rush for the metal within a few weeks, prices may go slightly higher.

* * *

Butte to Paine, Webber & Co.: We are told that liquidation in Butte Coalition is about over and that higher prices are in order.

* * *

New York to Gay & Sturgis: Amalgamated Copper is benefitting from both the strong metal market and from increased production. It is estimated that the Amalgamated mines before the year is out will be producing at the rate of 300,000,000 pounds of copper a year. The net profits of the company for the current fiscal year should be about $27,000,000.

* * *

Boston to Gay & Sturgis: Anaconda ore is averaging richer than for many years. It is now running 70 pounds of copper to the ton, as compared with 68 in May. As more of the rich ore at the lower levels is used, the average will of course become still richer. It is now estimated that the production of the Anaconda mine will be running at the rate of 120,000,000 pounds per annum in the near future.

CORNERSTONE TO BE LAID

Interesting Ceremony by the Presbyterians at Two Harbors.

Two Harbors, Minn., July 31.—The cornerstone of the new Presbyterian church will be laid with fitting ceremonies at 7:15 this evening.

The principal address will be delivered by Rev. T. H. Cleland of Duluth. It is expected a number of other ministers from Duluth will take part in the program, as well as the ministers of local churches.

The Presbyterian church society was organized here nearly twenty year ago and a small building was erected on the corner of Poplar street and Third avenue, on lots donated by the Minnesota Iron company. The congregation grew rapidly, which necessitated frequent remodeling. In 1900 extensive additions and repairs were made, since which time nothing has been done, although the Sunday school room was entirely inadequate to accommodate the large classes.

The building of a new church has been under contemplation for some time. Nearly a year ago a building committee was appointed, but by the time they had secured plans and specifications and advertised for bids it was late in the fall, and the few bids that were received were considered excessive and the matter was dropped for the time being. The project was revived early last spring, and the contract for the building was awarded at more than $11,000, not including heating plant or furniture. It is estimated that when the church is finished and furnished and the pipe organ installed, it will have cost approximately $15,000.

The new building is being constructed of Port Wing sandstone and will be the most substantial and beautiful, as well as the largest, church edifice in the village. The raising of the funds for the building was nearly all the result of the individual efforts of the pastor, Rev. J. A. McGaughey.

FATALLY INJURED.

Brakeman on the Rainy Lake Road is Badly Crushed.

Virginia, Minn., July 31.—Thomas Leahy, aged 25, a brakeman on the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg road, was fatally injured while at work in the Virginia Lumber company's switch yards here at 9:40 o'clock last night.

While attempting to make a coupling he stumbled and fell on the rails and six cars passed over his body, crushing his legs above the knees so badly that they will have to be amputated.

CRUSADE AGAINST DIVORCE EVIL

The President Authorizes Hundred Experts to Collect Facts.

Washington, July 31.—The gathering of data for President Roosevelt's crusade against the divorce evil will begin this week.

The work is in charge of the census bureau.

A force of 100 experts has been engaged to collect facts pertaining to divorces during the past twenty years.

It is expected that the report will show the evil resulting from lenient divorce laws and the urgent necessity of uniformity in the laws of the different states.

Interesting statistics relative to the crusade are sent to today's Chicago Tribune by John Callan O'Loughlin, who says:

No social investigation of recent years is of greater importance, in the opinion of President Roosevelt, than that which the census office will begin this week into the divorce question.

At present the state laws are so dissimilar that many states have refused to recognize divorces granted in other commonwealths, which led to judicial proceedings and decisions such as rendered last April by the supreme court in the Haddock case, whereby thousands of innocent persons were caused considerable inconvenience.

The laws of this country may be summarized as follows:

In Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Missouri, Kansas, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Ohio, Maine, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Kentucky, California, Tennessee, Louisiana, Alabama, Maryland and New Jersey the validity of a divorce obtained in another state by a party there domiciled, in a proceeding where constructive service on the defendant only is obtained, is fully recognized.

In Ohio, Iowa, Minnesota and sometimes in Louisiana and Alabama the right to an alimony and dower is preserved.

The only states in which it is held that a party domiciled in another state may not obtain a divorce there by constructive service are New York, Pennsylvania, North and South Carolina.

These conditions alone are sufficient, the president thinks, to justify a demand for uniform laws, under which decrees shall have full faith and credit in all states of the union.

It is also considered essential to the preservation of the American social fabric that an agreement be reached regarding causes for which a divorce shall be granted.

In South Carolina, for example, no divorces are granted. In New York absolute divorces are granted only for adultery—limited divorces being granted for other causes.

It is estimated that during the last twenty years at least 1,000,000 divorces were granted and that applications for divorce numbered in the neighborhood of 1,400,000.

It is believed that between 400,000 and 500,000 children are the offsprings of marriages which have ended in divorce within the last twenty years.

OIL NEAR HINCKLEY.

Large Eastern Firm About to Investigate the Conditions.

Minneapolis, July 31.—De Forest Pomeroy of Washington, D. C., a representative of a large Eastern firm, was in the city yesterday on his way to the northern part of the state, near Hinckley, where it is thought that there is a large quantity of oil which they expect to drill for.

At the Rogers last evening, Mr. Pomeroy said:

"I have every reason to believe that our search will result successfully. We have had experts looking over the field for some time and the reports which they have submitted show that oil exists in that region.

"Our intention is to begin work immediately and investigate the conditions. I intend to leave at once. A crew of men from the East will follow shortly. As soon as our machinery is installed, we shall be equipped to bore to a great depth and if there is anything there in the way of oil we shall surely find it."

MONEY ALL READY FOR LA CROSSE WATER POWER.

La Crosse, Wis., July 31.—Three million dollars have become available for the development of the water power at Hatfield, Wisconsin county, by the La Crosse Waterpower company, and work will be begun the first week in August, when W. J. Ferris of Champaign, Ill., assistant manager of the Illinois traction system in Central Illinois, will assume the office of manager for the company here. At Black River Falls and Neillsville a trust deed from the La Crosse Waterpower company to the State bank of Chicago, trustee, has been filed for record. This deed provides for a bond issue of $3,000,000.

According to the provisions of this deed the proceeds from the sale of the bonds is to be used for the building of the dam at Hatfield, the purchase of necessary machinery, the construction of transmission lines from the power plant to La Crosse and Winona, Minn., approximately fifty miles to each city, and such other work as may be necessary in the complete installation of the power plant and the carrying out of the plans of the company.

While work was carried out at and near Hatfield all last winter, the scene of the waterpower has been quiet for some time. This lull was occasioned by the centralization of all efforts on the securing of a suitable engineer to take charge of the actual construction work, the winter having been spent in clearing the site.

It is contemplated that all the $3,000,000 will be used in the construction, as the project of the company places the cost of this development and transmission at $3,000,000. The additional sum has been provided to expend in the future development and application of the power.

CHILD WITHSTANDS 9,000-VOLT SHOCK.

Chicago, July 31.—Nine thousand volts of electricity passed through the body of Anna Sheridan, 11 year old, Sunday afternoon without killing the child. So severe was the shock that the girl's clothing took fire and she was burned about the arms and legs, but aside from these injuries the great volume of the current failed to harm her to any appreciable extent.

Physicians who were hurried to the power plant of the Chicago Edison company to attend the little one are at a loss to understand how she escaped death. Never before has a human being withstood anywhere near that number of volts and lived. Less than 1,000 volts is usually fatal.

The Sheridan girl wandered into the powerhouse Sunday afternoon, and after playing with several pieces of machinery, approached the switchboard and took hold of the lever.

Sparks set fire to her dress, and had it not been for the arrival

WEST END

TO SEE THE HORSES GO

West Enders Will Be On Hand at Track Saturday.

Exciting Trotting Event Is To Be Pulled Off Then.

West enders are looking forward to Saturday afternoon as feverishly as if it brought another visit of the circus or was to be the Fourth of July.

For Saturday, August 4, has been marked with red ink on all first class calendars in the West end. Shortly after luncheon at the week end, such of the residents of the locality as are in on the deal, or are infected with sporting blood, will betake themselves to the fair grounds, where they confidently expect to see a certain horse called Casper Dean beat another called George F., so completely that the owner of George will seek out some small hole to crawl into and hide his humiliation.

It is said that the backers of George F. have been saying boastful things about the nag, things calculated to fill the West end hearts with a desire to take some starch out of George's sails and to that end they have arranged to have a nag of their own choosing line up against the much-heralded G. F.

It is said that a comfortable little wad of Uncle Sam's best fancy green and yellow lithographs has been put up by the red hot ones who reside not far from Twentieth avenue west and consequently, a goodly crowd will be on hand at the track Saturday and the interest will be keen.

There will be no other events.

PICNICS ARE PLENTIFUL.

Outings Are Coming Thick and Fast With the Fine Weather.

The pleasant weeks which are coming now are conducive to picnics and hardly a day goes by without seeing several successful outings.

Today the First Swedish M. E. church is holding its annual picnic at Fond du Lac. The start was made early this morning and the picnickers went prepared to have the time of their lives.

The Orpheus Singing society held a jolly picnic Sunday in Fairmont Park, West Duluth.

The Second Presbyterian church will hold its annual picnic tomorrow. The pleasure seekers will go to French river, on the Duluth & Iron Range road.

The First Swedish Baptist church outing at Two Harbors Sunday was much enjoyed by the many church members who went. It was given under the auspices of the Young People's society. Religious services were conducted in the park at Two Harbors by Rev. A. Edstam and the choir was on hand to sing several numbers. The return was made in time for the regular evening services at the church.

ENTERTAINMENT PLANNED

Rev. August A. Nordin of St. Paul in the West End.

Rev. August A. Nordin of St. Paul, financial secretary of the new sanitarium established at Mound Park, St. Paul, by the Swedish Baptists of the state, is in Duluth, interesting the Swedish Baptists of this city in the institution.

An entertainment will probably be given in the West end in the near future, the proceeds of which will go to the sanitarium fund.

Aquatic Note.

While sitting peacefully on a rock at the water's edge at Lester Park, Sunday, Capt. A. Farrington of the West end, accidentaly slid off into the water. Several persons were attracted to the spot by the splash and the captain was fished out unharmed. History does not record what he said.

Girl Took Eleven Dollars.

Mrs. James Weldon, 2819 West Superior stret, lost a purse containing $11 last week. She discovered her loss when she went to pay a bill. It developed that the money was taken by a little girl of thirteen summers. This little miss finally confessed to the theft and her parents made good the amount to Mrs. Weldon and the incident was closed, as the diplomats say.

West End Shortrails.

The Swedish Christian Sick Benefit society will hold a meeting Friday evening in Sloan's hall.

Your prescriptions are compounded, true to your doctor's formula at the Lion Drug store.

If you are in need of medicine you need the best, go to the Lion Drug store.

David McCarthy has returned from Idaho, where he spent several months.

Theodore Harris has returned from a visit at Kandiyohi, Minn.

Emil Rud, formerly employed as butter-maker by the Bridgeman & Russel Co., is now engaged in the wholesale ice cream business at Rochester, Minn. His many friends in the West end will be pleased to learn that he is making a success of it.

Thomas Halford has returned from St. Paul.

Joseph Buggette has gone to Minneapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Long are at the Esmond.

W. J. Quin of St. Paul is registered at the Esmond.

Mr. Weldon's father and mother are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Weldon of 2819 West Superior street, for two weeks. They arrived Sunday evening.

Mrs. Nettie Wilkinson of Toronto is in the city, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Perry of Twenty-ninth avenue west.

Misses Anna and Ella Ton, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spence of 2709 West First street, have returned to their home at Eau Claire, Wis.

Miss Elizabeth Henry has returned from a visit with friends at Fergus Falls.

Arthur Sahlain has returned to the city from a vacation trip.

Mrs. M. Powers and Frank Powers of Eleva, Wis., are registered at the Esmond.

Burglars broke into two West end drug stores early Monday morning and secured a few dollars in cash, some perfumery, candy and cigars from one of them. From the taste displayed, the work is thought to have been that of boys. The establishments entered were those of Emile Peterson and Fred Swedberg, but the burglars secured nothing at the latter place. No arrests have been made as yet.

The Beavers defeated the Hilltops in an exciting game of ball on the shooting grounds Sunday morning. The score was 15 to 9. The Beavers batted out their battery in the eighth inning. The batteries were: For the Beavers, Olson and Peterson; Hilltops, Murray and Lindgren.

Mrs. Joseph Lavigne and daughter, of 2224 West Superior street, left yesterday for Michigan, where they will spend several weeks visiting.

Mrs. C. H. Chisholm and son, who have been the guests of Mrs. J. P. Johnson, 515 Nineteenth avenue west, have returned to their home at Stillwater.

Miss Helen Barrows of Twentieth avenue west, left yesterday for the Twin Cities, where she will visit friends.

Fred Kuhn has gone to Fargo, where he will enter the employ of a wholesale house.

The choir of St. Clement's church held a picnic Sunday at the farm of Joseph Grimes.

Misses Mary Fitger and Anna Dahlin have returned to their homes at Clear Lake, Wis., after a pleasant visit at the home of Mrs. Victor Jutin.

Fred Swanonson of Elk River is visiting relatives in the West end.

Edward Miller, Roy Riley, Edward Jones, J. Johnson and Misses May Harvey, Eva Beers and Julia Doyle spent Sunday at Spirit Lake.

Millions For Amusements.

The earnest way in which the American public goes about enjoying itself and the vast sums of money spent in providing means and methods has caused much comment. It will surprise the reader to learn that over one hundred million dollars are invested in amusement enterprises. A sick man or woman, however, cannot enjoy themselves, because sickness always robs any pleasure of its delights; but then there is no reason for remaining in such a condition, when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will make you well again. There are hundreds of persons now enjoying robust health as a result of taking the Bitters, and a similar experience awaits you. Therefore start today. It always cures poor appetite, flatulency, headache, cramps, diarrhoea, vomiting, dizziness, sleeplessness, dyspepsia, indigestion or costiveness.

HAPPENINGS IN THE DAKOTAS

Brakeman Carr Shot Dead By Tramps on Moving Train.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Dickinson—Brakeman O. S. Carr was shot dead yesterday by hoboes on a moving freight train near Gladstone, and Brakeman Frank Stine received a slight wound in the ankle. Four hoboes were in a car, and when the brakemen entered they were fired upon. Two tramps have been caught and Sheriff Hartung has a posse scouring the country for others. J. W. Welch was conductor of the train and Louis Larson engineer. Carr was a single man about 35 years old and was reared in Mandan, where his remains were taken.

Grand Forks—One of the large barns just rebuilt by the Grand Forks Lumber company was destroyed by fire yesterday, with a loss of about $5,000. All the horses were saved. Both barns burned a month ago and had just been rebuilt. Incendiarism is suspected.

Bowbells—The farm home of Erick Lofgren, five miles south of the city, was struck by lightning which came near causing the death of Mr. and Mrs. Lofgren, two small children and a hired man. The bolt shattered the chimney of the house and damaged the roof and part of the interior. All the injured are out of danger.

The north part of Ward county was visited by a rain Sunday which was a boon to all kinds of crops, all of which had been suffering from a continued dry spell. The rain means millions of dollars to the farmers of the Des Lacs and Mouse river valleys. Some rye and barley are ready to harvest.

Valley City—The seven men injured in the Northern Pacific wreck at Hurbert on Tuesday, five of whom are in the county hospital at this place, will all recover but one. Andrew Burke of Philadelphia will probably die. He was hurt internally. Of the two men killed in the wreck, one could not be identified and was buried here. The other was James Knutsen of Lake Cnty, Minn., and his remains were shipped there for burial.

Sheldon—F. T. Kelly is dead at Enderlin, this county, as the result of a 22-caliber bullet accidentally penetrating his right eye and lodging in the brain. He was in the act of shooting a weasel, and not having the rifle in position to shoot when the weasel appeared, struck at it with the butt of the gun, with the result above given. He died in five minutes. He was a painter and decorator and had worked in several towns in the state, being employed by the Chicago Painting & Decorating company. He was a married man but was not living with his wife. His relatives have been notified.

The large barn on the farm of T. J. McCully, four miles southeast of here, was burned. The origin of the fire is a mystery, as no one had been near the place for over two hours, the men and horses being in the field. A policy for $500 in the Evangelical Mutual of Millbank, S. D., partially covers the loss.

The farm house of Chris Austad, five miles west of Sheldon, occupied by Ole Moen and family, as tenants, was burned Sunday afternoon, and was a total loss to both building and contents, there being no insurance. The fire was caused by the explosion of a gasoline stove.

Grand Forks—In the district court a jury awarded the plaintiff damages in the sum of $500 in the case of Jacob Scherer against Schlaberg and Griffin. Action was brought to recover $5,000, the plaintiff claiming that his 3-year-old daughter's death was due to an error made in delivering prescriptions, the child being given medicine containing morphine. Attending and other physicians called in claimed that the morphine was not responsible for the death of the child.

Fargo—The total attendance at the North Dakota state fair held in Fargo last week was 45,000 despite the rain which prevented a crowd Friday, designed for Fargo day. The total receipts for tickets, concessions, race entries and grand stand were $29,300 and the total expenses of the week were $21,000, making the association a profit of about $8,500 for the first exhibition. The fair was pronounced a success by the visitors and there was a great deal of commendation for the officials for the manner in which the preparations were made and the fair was conducted. The fact that it was a financial success from the first year was a surprise to the promoters.

Williston—Ralph Rahm was arrested here yesterday and brought before Justice Mitchell on the charge of grand larceny. Complaint was made out by Louis Moran, charging him of stealing one horse. Rahm was placed under a $500 bond. This is the second time he will have to stand trial for a like offense.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

Pierre—Fire Sunday night practically destroyed a wooden block on Dakota avenue, occupied by the Waggoner candy kitchen and the Tracy millinery store on the first floor, and families on the second. The loss is about $5,000, partly covered by insurance.

Huron—Beginning July 31 and ending Aug. 10, a summer theological institute will be held at Yankton college in Yankton. For this gathering much preparation has been made and the best instructors available have been secured, among these the Rev. Frank Knight Sanders, D. D., secretary of the Congregational Sunday school and publishing society and formerly dean of the Theological seminary; also Rev. William G. Ballantine, D. D., L.L. D., biblical instructor in the International Y. M. C. A. training school of Springfield, Mass., and formerly professor of old testament literature in Oberlin Theological seminary and president of Oberlin college.

Small grain harvest in this locality will be general within the next ten days. Some fields of Macaroni wheat and also early sown barley and rye will be cut this coming week. The small grain harvest will come on very rapidly and in spite of the fact that good wages are offered for harvest hands, the supply will not meet the demand.

The small grain crop in this part of the state is considered one of the best in its history, while the acreage is perhaps only a trifle greater than that of former years, the yield is expected to exceed that of many of the past seasons. There is ample moisture for maturing the small grain crop but in most localities corn would be benefited by rain. The crop, however, although backward at first is regarded as far advanced as last year at this time. The stand is one of the best and the crop at this time is all that could be expected.

Speltz and millet are as good crops as ever were grown, while the hay crop which is now being harvested, is exceptionally fine.

NOLAN GOES TO ST. PAUL.

Has Resigned Post With the Knudsen-Ferguson Fruit Company.

James H. Nolan, treasurer of the Knudsen-Ferguson Fruit company, has resigned his position to become general manager of the P. J. Bowlin Liquor company of St. Paul. This is a large wholesale house and Mr. Nolan's friends have been congratulating him upon securing so important a post.

Mr. Nolan has been connected with the Knudsen-Ferguson company for four years and during his residence in Duluth has made hosts of friends along commission row and out of it. He left yesterday with his family for St. Paul.

It is understood that the vacancy in Knudsen-Ferguson's office will be filled by the appointment of Alfred W. Worley, who has been connected with the concern for some time.

DEAN OF ASSOCIATED PRESS

"Major" Osborn of St. Louis Celebrates His Eightieth Birthday.

St. Louis, July 31.—Charles Jones Osborn, the St. Louis correspondent of the Associated Press from 1855 to 1902, marking a continuous service of forty-seven years and entitling him to the distinction of dean of the Associated Press, celebrated his eightieth birthday anniversary today. Mr. Osborn, who is familiarly known throughout the service as "Major," an honorary title, retired from active work four years ago, but is still affiliated with the St. Louis office in an advisory capacity. He is remarkably hale and hearty and very active despite his years.

"Major" Osborn was born in Utica, N. Y., learned telegraphy in Pittsburg, Pa., in 1847 and came to St. Louis as a telegraph operator from Cincinnati in 1853. Two years later he entered the service of the Associated Press as an operator and shortly afterward was appointed correspondent.

POLICYHOLDERS' TICKET.

New York, July 31.—The executive committee of the international policyholders committee met today to consider names to be placed upon a policyholders' ticket for trustees of the Mutuual Life Insurance company and the New York Life Insurance company.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured in Three Days.

Morton L. Hill, of Lebanon, Ind., says: "My wife had inflammatory Rheumatism in every muscle and joint; her suffering was terrible and her body and face were swollen almost beyond recognition; had been in bed for six weeks and had eight physicians, but received no benefit until she tried the Mystic Cure for Rheumatism. It gave immediate relief and she was able to walk about in three days. I am sure it saved her life." Sold by all druggists.

WILL START THURSDAY

Naval Reserve Will Participate in Annual Maneuvers of Fleet.

Rendezvous of Boats Will be Located in Lake Michigan.

The Minnesota Naval Reserves, Guy A. Eaton commanding, are completing final arrangements for the trip down the lakes to South Manitou island in Lake Michigan, where the annual maneuvers of the naval militia on the Great Lakes will occur this year.

The naval reserve ship Fern will leave the local harbor for Lake Michigan, Thursday of this week about 1 o'clock in the afternoon, and will be absent until August 14 or 15. The Fern will carry to the rendezvous the officers of the two local divisions of the naval reserve and about 120 men.

The members of the naval militia are anticipating a very enjoyable as well as an instructive trip.

The naval manoeuvers will be participated in by seven of the naval militia ships under the command of Captain Morrell of the flagship Wolverine.

There will be flotilla and squadron drills similar to those had by the North Atlantic fleet of the United States, together with boat races for prizes and many other contests of special interest to the members of the naval militia. The fact that this will be the first naval maneuvers held on the Great Lakes since Perry's victory on Lake Erie is of more than passing interest, and it is expected that the South Manitou Island district will be a center of attraction during the several days that the naval militia are going through their stunts.

One of the features of the maneuvers will be a sham attack by the Illinois and Ohio naval forces on South Manitou island, defended by the naval militia from Minnesota and Michigan. Small arms with blank cartridges will be used and nothing heavier than the Gatling guns in the way of artillery. The battle is to be made very realistic.

The following ships will take part in the maneuvers: Wolverine of Erie, Pa., flagship, Capt. Morrell commanding; Fern of Duluth, G. A. Eaton commanding; Dorothea of Chicago, Capt. Purdy commanding; Essex of Toledo; Yantic of Detroit; and Hawk of Cleveland.

The officers who will accompany the Fern are Commander Guy A. Eaton; Lieut. S. S. Williamson, acting executive officer; Lieut. B. F. Howard, navigator; Chief Engineer N. F. Hugo; Paymaster Fred Engels; Surgeon F. J. Patton; Lieut. James A. Wharton, signal officer; Lieut. George H. Scuhy, first watch officer; Lieut. E. F. Melby, second watch officer; Ensign E. G. Smith, junior watch officer; Ensign Oscar Anderson, junior watch officer; Ensign George Kelly, junior watch officer; Ensign Bert N. Wheeler, junior watch officer.

NEGROES GATHERING.

Anticipating an Attempt by Whites to Lynch Murderer.

St. Louis, July 13.—A special to the Post-Dispatch from Mound City, Ill., says: Negroes are gathering here anticipating an attack on the jail by whites to lynch Sam McDonald, who killed Homer Morris during a picnic near Ullin Saturday. Threats by whites have caused much excitement and a bloody clash is probable if the latter attempt to mob McDonald.

An attempt at lynching was made last night when officers brought McDonald to the county jail here from Perks. The mob was foiled by deputies, who placed the negro in a vehicle and drove into the country until the excitement cooled down.

BATTLESHIPS COLLIDE.

The Alabama and the Illinois Come Together During Fog.

Newport, R. I., July 31.—A collision between the battleships Alabama and Illinois, on the second division of the Atlantic fleet, in a thick fog, last night, was reported today by Rear Admiral Charles H. Davis. The squadron was making for this harbor, when the Alabama, under the command of Capt. Samuel B. Cromly, crashed into the Illinois, which is commanded by Capt. Goodfriend Blocklinger. The other vessels constituting the second division—the Indiana and Iowa, stood by, but their assistance was not required. The report received here was to the effect that neither ship was injured below the water line. Nothing was stated as to the exact damages sustained by either warship.

Modest Claims Often Carry the Most Conviction.

When Maxim, the famous gun inventor, placed his gun before a committee of judges, he stated its carrying power to be much below what he felt sure the gun would accomplish. The result of the trial was, therefore, a great surprise, instead of disappointment. It is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. They do not publicly boast of all this remedy will accomplish, but prefer to let the users make the statements. What they do claim is, that it will positively cure diarrhoea, dysentery, pains in the stomach and bowels, and has never been known to fail. For sale by all leading druggists.

DROWNED IN WELL.

Brainerd, Minn., July 31.—Andrew, the 2-year-old son of Louis Paulson, living six miles east of here, was drowned in an old well Sunday. The well was covered, but had caved in, and the hole at the side of the curb was covered with grass. It is thought the little one was trying to climb upon the curb and stepped on the grass and slipped through the hole into the well.

We Will Cure You

The Northwest's Most Reliable SPECIALIST In the Diseases of Men.

We want all afflicted people to feel that they can come to our office freely for examination and explanation of their condition without being bound by any obligation to take treatment unless they so desire. We will make a thorough and scientific EXAMINATION of your ailments FREE OF CHARGE—an examination that will disclose your true physical condition, without a knowledge of which you are groping in the dark. If you have taken treatment elsewhere without success, we will show you why it failed. Every person should take advantage of this opportunity to learn their true condition, as we will advise them how to best regain their health and strength, and preserve them unto ripe old age. WE MAKE NO MISLEADING STATEMENTS or deceptive propositions to the afflicted, neither do we promise to cure them IN A FEW DAYS in order to secure their patronage (an honest doctor of recognized ability does not resort to such methods). We guarantee A SAFE AND LASTING CURE IN THE QUICKEST POSSIBLE TIME without leaving injurious after effects in the system, and at the lowest cost possible for HONEST, SKILLFUL AND SUCCESSFUL TREATMENT. We cure KIDNEY AND URINARY DISEASES, SMALL, WEAK ORGANS, SEMINAL EMISSIONS, STRICTURE, DISCHARGES, VARICOCELE, NERVO-SEXUAL DEBILITY, CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON and all diseases and weaknesses due to habits, dissipation, or the result of special diseases. Write for symptom blank if you cannot call. CONSULTATION FREE AND CONFIDENTIAL. Office hours 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. Sundays 10 a. m. to 1 p. m.
